Rabbi Michael Zimmerman, Rabbi of Kehillat Israel in Lansing, offered the following invocation:

“Dearest God, please bestow Your blessings on the men and women in this chamber, duly elected to fulfill the sacred duty of governing our state. May You endow every one of them with wisdom, compassion, and integrity. May they never waver from their mandate to serve the common good and their responsibility to do what is best for every man, woman, and child in this state. May they stand tall in their role as statesmen and stateswomen. May they address and listen to their colleagues from all parties with respect, and may they earn and receive that same respect from allies and adversaries alike. Despite their different perspectives, may they work together in harmony, in service of the greater good. May they hold a broad view towards the needs of future generations, and be vigilant as stewards and protectors of the air, land, and water of our beautiful state that You so lovingly created.. May they never forget the most fundamental teaching of the Old and New Testaments alike, to care for the widow, the orphan, and the stranger, to feed the hungry and to clothe the naked. And when their term is complete, may every one of them look back with pride over a job well done, proud to leave our state in better shape than when their term began. And let us say, Amen.”

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Nesbitt moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Rep. Rendon:

“Thank you Mr. Speaker.

I have found myself waking up the last few nights, thinking about this opportunity that I have. Really, it’s just another chapter in all our lives here today.

I have many thank you’s to give, so I’ll get started there and I’ve been writing some notes. Through my career here, and my other career with the home builders, I have to speak from here (my heart) rather than from here (written notes). So, bear with me.

God is great! I’ll start thanking my wife Daire, of 44 years. Also, our two daughters. As probably most of you, we’ve been through the good times and the rough times. She’s always been by my side. We had a life circumstance that made things clear, how God plays a role in all our lives.

In 2004 when I first ran for this position, I had done what no Republican had done in the 103rd. Yes, I was unsuccessful, but I garnered 44% of the vote. You know, life in general is not easy, but it’s really tough when you put your heart and soul into something and you lose. But it IS a good lesson.

I searched for the reason why. That reason came in 2006. I came home from Canada, bear hunting, and Daire said, ‘Look at this’ and she looked like she was pregnant. She had gained 14 pounds in less than two weeks and it was still going. We went to the emergency room and told them not to beat around the bush. They told us she had about 6 to 8 months to live. That journey started which lasted two years and is still going on. But we had miracle, and that miracle was an adult stem cell transplant.

She developed a rare form of cancer: Burkitt’s non-Hodgkin’s Lymphoma. Went through several rounds of chemo, was declared in remission, and yet – it came back. We went to Karmanos Cancer Institute, she had the transplant and the day after Christmas in 2007 (she had been going to Spectrum in Reed City getting blood every 7-10 days) and they came out and said, ‘Daire, you’re not getting blood today. You have a new blood type and a new DNA.’

It was just like someone had turned a switch on. A year later, she was given all her immunizations as if she was a newborn. A few years later, she was declared cancer free in regard to this transplant.

The reason I bring this up – THAT was the reason that I lost in 04. God’s Will, WILL be done. I would have had to resign my position. I was her caregiver. And you know something, I did something that I didn’t know I was capable of. Through that whole journey, I did not write one thing down. I can tell you the dates, I gave her shots, I can tell you the whole thing.

But I'll move on from here. It was an experience that you don't wish on anybody, but it made our lives clearer and that is in regard to our Lord.

I thank our two daughters. Miranda, our youngest, she lives in Allendale, works at the Main Hub for UPS in Grand Rapids as a Supervisor. Our oldest daughter, Samantha, lives in Monterrey, Mexico with our three grandchildren, and our son-in-law. She's a Senior Asset Manager for Blackstone, the world's largest real estate company. We've been very blessed and they have been very supportive.

My Mom and Dad – my Dad was born on a dirt floor in South Texas a Mexican-American boy that got a letter one day. Six weeks later he was in North Africa. He'd been to San Antonio twice on a cart. He walked all the way from Anzio to Munich and his outfit liberated Dachau. He was a Silver Star recipient, wounded twice in action, and he and his two brothers came home.

We owe our Veteran's, as we celebrated Pearl Harbor, EVERYTHING.

My staff. I've had several and as Representative Outman stated, they seem to get robbed! But you know what? They're in limbo just like us. They have to look after themselves. Currently, Robin Naeyaert, Kris Wright, Joe Underwood, Casey Kreiner, Janelle Brzezinski, Greg Cairns, Maria Ostrander, and Brittany Fausey. I thank you all.

My first hire was Maria and what I told her that day – if there's one thing we're going to do in this office, it's answer our constituent concerns. Legislatively is secondary. I've had very many successes legislatively, and I will tell you most of those have come from constituent concerns. We have accomplished – all my staff – I appreciate their efforts in making me look good, but really answering those who put me here for three terms. And I appreciate the citizens of the 103rd District for sending me here.

You know, my first experience at the Capitol was a long time ago. I was in the 5th grade – it was 1961. I went to school in a little town I was raised in – 15 miles from here – Freeport. Our teacher (there was 15 of us in our class) loaded up two or three cars and brought us to Lansing. I never forgot that experience, but you know what? I never dreamt that I'd be back here in this capacity.

And every morning that I'm here Representative Potvin and I, we live together, and I want to thank Phil for that. We've known each other for more than 30 years. We drive down Michigan Avenue looking at the Capitol and I'm still in awe.

The Sergeants. I know them all by name. I consider them my friends. They have honored me and we have done several functions together. How important they are to us all – and I appreciate their hard work. Chief Dickson and all the others are my friends.

Alice, in the back room. She's a great lady. A lot of knowledge there, and we all should take advantage of that and get to know her.

If I have a regret here at all, I'm very serious about that and I tend to be that way, but my regret is that I didn't get to know you all better. Because at the end of the day, viva la familia! The family forever – and we are a family.

We've had many losses here. My Mom. When I was elected President of the Michigan Association of Home Builders in 2004, during that ceremony, the past president said to my Mom, 'Mrs. Rendon what do you think your son is going to be in life?' She said, 'He's going to be a politician.' My Dad. A man of few words. He said – and this was in regards to the politics, 'Son, I didn't want this for you, but I support you.'

I'm not going to forget all the policy folks and I want to talk about Gary Randall and Rich Brown. Gary, I'm sorry I let you down on the Guernsey cow, but I'm glad you got her! That's kind of an inside thing. Rich – thank you for your service, thank you both.

Thank all the policy people here in what you do. This Chamber functions very well and we couldn't do it without you.

I do have three of my staff here, in the west gallery. Robin and Kris and Janelle. Thank you.

Something that has served me and helped me through all the decisions that we have to make here in this Chamber. And that is our Wednesday morning prayer and Bible Study, as well as the Legislative Prayer Caucus that we have. I did get to know Julie (Plawecki) a little bit – first through the Legislative Prayer Caucus when she spoke. She served on a Committee with me and I had a couple conversations with her in the elevator. I wish I could have gotten to know her better. I could tell she was a great Mom and a great person.

And then there was Peter. My last conversation with Peter I'll share with you. I'm not sure the meaning of it – I'm working on that. We were in conversation and Peter said, 'Bruce, you know, I'm not fond of riding my bike any more after dark. I think I'll be able to make one more trip down here to Lansing'. But he just wanted to work around it not being dark when he rode his bike anymore.

God bless Julie and Peter. I know that you're with our Lord.

You know, as I spoke about the journey Daire and I have been on with the transplant, all things happen for a reason. There's no doubt in my mind.

I'm going to share something with you that, when I was on the Executive Committee of the Home Builders in 1997, actually I cut my teeth in Lansing since the mid 80's with the state Home Builders and got to learn this process. We had a futurist come in and speak. He spoke about change as a constant. He said something I have not forgotten and I use regularly. He said, in regards to change – there are those that make it happen, there are those that let it happen, and there are those that say what happened. I can tell you this much. Everyone in this room has made it happen, and I thank you for that.

There's more I could say, but I think I've said enough. So may God Bless you all. I consider you all friends. And, thank you!"

Rep. Santana:

“Thank you:

To the people of the 9th district, thank you for allowing me the opportunity to serve you. It has truly been an honor and a privilege to represent you in this beautiful building. It has been a responsibility that I have worked hard to earn every day.

I want to thank God, because you and I have had some pretty intense arguments over 6 years. For some strange reason you always won the debate. Go Figure.

Mom, Dad and My sister

My children (Sofia, Olivia and Samuel) and my wife Sylvia who is my best friend, motivation and soulmate in every way. I hope that those who don't know her will take the time to get to know her.

All I have left is some advice for those who are willing to listen about what it takes to survive and excel in this environment.

The first piece of advice is that you must have FAITH.

You must have faith for such a time when you get knocked down and you look up and the only one around you is you. Everyone who said they would be there for you will be nowhere to be found.

I don't care how long you been doing what it is that you do

How smart you think you are

Where you been

Where you going

How many degrees you have

Or how good you think your stuff is

There are some people in this room whose only purpose in life is to make your life miserable, and they can never be with anyone because they don't know how to be with themselves.

You will definitely need faith because there will come such a time when you've been used, backstabbed, lied to, lied on, talked about, betrayed, deceived, manipulated, sold a bad package of bills, promised something, reassured, disappointed, abandoned and left for dead.

Second, have a lot fun. In case you haven't noticed I laughed a lot around here. Especially at the haters!

Third, One of the first stories in the bible teaches us that a talking snake climbed out of a tree and whispered a lie into the ear of a woman and that lie changed our history forever. The moral of the story is simple as it relates to this building. Be careful of the talking snakes offering fruit trying to convince you that their way is the right way.

Fourth, if you can't change the people around you, then change the people around you, because you can't achieve epic things with basic people in your corner.

Lastly, you must understand that this room is an uneven playing field. It is full of double standards. There are certain rules for certain kinds of people. There are certain opportunities set aside for certain types of people. So when an unforeseen opportunity shows up...be prepared to take advantage of it and don't ever apologize for putting yourself in a position where you can better serve your district.

So it is truly interesting that I found opportunities to be a leader and demonstrate leadership in the most unlikely of places. Those opportunities were given to me by two Conservative Republican Speakers of the House. Speaker Bolger who looked past some of my not so good moments and saw talent in me and was willing to watch my back when an attempt was made to have me removed from the Detroit bankruptcy committee. But Jase Bolger is a man's man...his words were clear 'Harvey has earned that spot.' Thank you Jase.

The second opportunity was given to me by Speaker Kevin Cotter...who called me up while I was in Miami at the house of Gianni Versace at a conference with other Hispanic legislators from around the country.

When I received the Speaker's call I was shocked. I thanked him for the opportunity. And I also told him that he had just made history because in the history of Hispanics serving in this legislature the highest position that any of us have ever achieved was chairman of the transportation committee. Minority Vice-Chair of Appropriations I believe carries more weight, especially if you know what you are doing.

When I told the Hispanic legislators at the conference what had just occurred they all looked at me both Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservative...they raised their glasses and toasted to my future success. Some even cried, hugs and kisses, high five and bear hugs. It was truly one of the most beautiful moments of my political life. Because the first Puerto Rican elected into the Michigan House of Representatives broke through a bullet proof glass ceiling.

A Senator from Florida raised his glass and offered another toast with some advice and counsel. He said 'Congratulations. We are all very proud of you. We have seen you evolve into a great legislator, you understand what it means to work across the aisle to get things done. But prepare yourself for what is about to happen. You're going to be crucified. Your colleagues are going to be mad. Your colleagues are going to be jealous, your colleagues are all going to attack you. And their anger will likely come from an inner hatred not for you but for people like you, because they simply don't want to see someone like you rise to the top without their permission. And the most spiteful and vindictive people will likely come from Detroit. Others will show you how timid they are because they won't have the nerve to stand up for you. But they will all come back eventually when they need something.'

No truer words have ever been spoken.

Reflections

As I reflect on what I have been able to accomplish as a State Representative, I can tell you this with all certainty. In the last 6 years, the 9th District has gotten the best that I can give. I don't know if there was anything else that I could have done. In the past 6 years I've passed more legislation than any other Democrat serving with me. I've been able to direct investment back into my district evidenced by:

1. Brennan pools at Rouge Park,
2. a running track at Cody high school,
3. the reconstruction of a $3 million dollar bridge on Southfield freeway
4. closing the deal on a $5 million dollar clinic at Joy Road and Southfield,
5. a baseball field at Dossin school for children who are literally playing in a field of dreams
6. and, I helped my colleagues secure funding for important projects and programs in their districts

As a Democrat I've been tapped to help my Republican colleagues to better understand public policy discussions such as the Detroit Bankruptcy, Detroit Public Schools and the like.

I literally got off a plane to vote against the Right to Work legislation, voted against, PA 4, PA 436, eliminating the cap on charters, a $1.5 billion dollar cut to education, I worked hard to prevent the repeal of Michigan's Item Pricing law which by the way I'm still aggravated by because you go into a store half the time the scanners are broken and the other half you have no clue how much anything is. And by the way my grocery bill hasn't gotten cheaper either.

I led the effort to pass a Workman's Compensation bill package that helped workers in Genesee County who found themselves without health insurance because of a technical glitch in the system.

I led the effort to update our Domestic Violence laws and when it came to violence, well...I'm the only guy in this room that has literally been beat up just because I wanted to pass much needed Mixed Martial Arts legislation for amateur fighters.

Corrections Reform: I'm proud that after 5 years of sweat and tears my work paid off and we extended the age for the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act, and we passed bi-partisan legislation with Employer Certification for returning citizens.

I did all these things as a Democrat in 6 years while being in the minority party, and I never used the excuse that some find so convenient when faced with an obstacle. We don't have enough votes, the Republicans don't want to work with us, they are a bunch of racists on and on and on. Never an excuse only a pathway to success called bipartisanship.

I believe I helped to change the dialogue and narrative about the city of Detroit. I hosted several bus-tours, town halls and one on one visits to my district and the city of Detroit.

And for those who felt offended by me or my style then I want to say from the bottom of my heart and from the deepest part of my soul that I apologize————to absolutely no one.

You see...what people never saw or knew about me was the amount of work I did in the community amongst a population of citizens that doesn't even vote. It takes a certain type of politician to walk into a prison yard and immediately have the respect of the prisoner population as I try to pull together a gang truce.

It takes a certain type of politician to be a winning soccer coach at the Rosedale Park Soccer league with an impressive record of 38 wins and 4 losses.

It takes a certain type of politician to take 20 kids from Cody high school to the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice to see grown men be sentenced to multiple years in prison, then to the Wayne County Mourage to see and smell what death looks like, and later that day to a prison in Jackson to shown them where their lives were headed if they didn't readjust their behavior.

Today. Those 20 young men are sitting in college classrooms around the United States and working as productive members of society. Not one of them have ever seen the inside of a jail cell.

It takes a certain type of politician to sit in a drug house with a gang of young men looking to ride on their enemies, to pull guns out of their hands, change their point of view and breathe life into them. And to find out through working with them throughout the years that they couldn't read the court documents they were sent in the mail. So Representatives Price and Garcia, now you know why I wasn't going to turn my back on you on that 3rd grade reading bill package like someone else did in that process. Because the needs of my people are far greater than the talking points for a Press Release or being part of a caucus position

Yet. As skilled as I am. As capable as I am. As talented as I believe I am. I was not allowed to sit in a room and discuss public policy with adults.

In closing

My legacy won't be judged by how many bills I had signed into law, nor by the amount of appropriations I was able to secure. It will be judged when I'm old and grey, I'm laid out in a hospital room, I put way too many miles on my body and everything is broken and there is no way to fix it. As I lay there...in will walk an Arab woman in a hijab she will review my charts and say Mr. Santana I'm your Doctor.

Great! Now give me some Vicodin!

The doctor will say Do you remember me? I will look and say no.

She will say 'My name is Sura.' When my family immigrated to this country from Iraq to escape Sadaam Hussein, we moved in next door to you. You and your wife made us feel very welcomed. You made a lot of phone calls to important people and made sure I got into the right schools.

Thank you for taking care of me, now it's my turn to take care of you.

I will look at her and say 'Great! You can start with the Vicodin!'

As I'm laying in bed reading through some political magazines. I will read a story of a young man from Detroit who is a member of Congress furiously debating the politics of the day. I will be reminded he was one of those young men from Cody high school.

I will then glaze over to the television, as young man from Detroit walks out of the locker room to the starting blocks of a swimming pool, focused and determined as he prepares to break Michael Phelps swimming record at the International Olympic games, the crowd will be cheering, screaming because history is going to be made and I will smile because the commentator will tell the story of how this young man spent his summers training in a public swimming pool in Rouge park. It was his only outlet that prevented him from becoming another statistic in the pipeline to prison.

That's when I'll know that everything I went through, everything that I strived to achieve, everything that I stood for was meant for something. That's when I will know that my time here was a success.

The Vicodin will kick in...and like Tony Soprano I just fade to black."

Rep. Somerville:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker!

The past six years have gone by much too quickly and I will forever cherish the limited time I've spent with all of you. You see, my experience here in Lansing has probably been quite different from yours. I'm the guy that's not supposed to be here for one term, let alone three. I've just recently discovered where all the bathrooms are at in the Capitol because for the first four years the only path I was aware of was through the back door, down the stairs, and out the door to the parking lot to my car. I quickly learned that anything I say can and will be used against me in a thirty second TV commercial. My friends and family were made aware that you are NOT to tag me at any places, events, or in pictures on Facebook. They only had to see the first commercial...they got the picture! These are some of the realities you have to deal with representing a ‘vulnerable’ seat like mine. However, I wouldn’t change a thing and would do it all over again. The people I’ve had the chance to meet, the new friends that have been forged, the relationships that have been built, the places that I’ve been able to go have made the sacrifices so worth it. I’ve even been able to cross many golf course off of my bucket list!

Our success as representatives would not be possible without the help and support of many people. I’d like to take this opportunity to thank my friends and family for encouraging and supporting me through this whole process. I’d like to especially thank my dad for his planning, organizing, and campaigning to help get me across the finish line in the first place. I’d like to thank former State Representatives Paul Opsommer, Bob Genetski, and former State Senator Bruce Patterson for their guidance, mentorship, and helping me to navigate the political process. A sincere thank you to the clerks, Dave Dickson and his staff, human resources, building maintenance, legislative service bureau, and our policy and constituent relations teams. You’ve all contributed to making my job easier and making me look way better than I am and I thank you!

To my seat mates:

- 1st term: Kevin Cotter – I knew you were Speaker material from the very beginning. Job well done!
- 2nd term: Joe Haveman – the Big Easy! Thank you for listening to my pleas for funding a grade separation in my district. Tim Kelly – it took me a little while to realize that you’re not mad all of the time. You’re passionate about your ideas and beliefs. I hope you’ve been invited back to Governor meetings.
- 3rd term: Tom Barrett – service before self. You’ve served your country and district with honor and integrity. You know the issues and are willing to stand up for what you believe in, even when I told you to vote yes or no on certain bills.

I’ve been blessed with great staff. You know you have a good staff when you’re knocking on doors and you constantly hear about all of the issues and problems that were solved without your knowledge. To my Lansing office team, Allison Hartman, Sue Trussell, Griff Drew, Mike Hart and Cody Mott (for filling in while my current staff ran for office), Sonny Koch (Sorry Tony, I needed him more than you did), and Matt Muxlow. Thank you for your hard work, dedication, and commitment to the citizens of the 23rd district.

Finally, thank you to the citizens of the 23rd district for putting your confidence in me to be your voice here at the Capitol. It has been an honor and privilege to serve you. I hope that I’ve lived up to your expectations.

And now, the moment you’ve all been waiting for. As you know, I’ve been responsible for the M&M jar at my desk for the past three terms. I’ve had countless people ask me how much I spend. So, I’ve compiled the numbers by legislative session and have them ranked according to total consumption.

- 3rd Place: 98th Legislature - Total consumption of 357 lbs at a cost of $1,185.24
- 2nd Place: 97th Legislature – Total consumption of 426 lbs at a cost of $1,414.32,
- 1st Place: 96th Legislature – Total consumption of 477 lbs at a cost of $1,583.64.

During my tenure over the last 6 years, we have consumed a grand total of 1,260 lbs at a cost of $4183.20. I’m a recovering engineer...soon to be a recovering politician. I was curious, so I decided to go ahead and extrapolate that number over 30 years using the GASB assumption rate of 8% annual return. Running the M&M jar for the past 6 years has potentially cost me $42,094.11! I hope you enjoyed them! Those are the costs. Watching the reaction after pouring M&M’s into an empty glass jar...priceless! Who wants to take over the M&M jar?

We’ve come a long way in 6 years. If you were to ask me in high school, this would have been the last profession I would have thought I would end up in. I ran for office because I was tired of seeing my friends and family leave the state for better opportunities. I decided to stop complaining about it and start doing something about it. I believe Michigan is in a better place. We have balanced budgets ahead of schedule, debt reduction, a better business environment, and lower unemployment. All in all, not bad, not bad at all. And with that I say goodbye, God Bless you, God Bless the great State of Michigan, and forever and always Go Blue!”

Rep. Jacobsen:

“Thank you Mr. Speaker,

I’ve been thinking about this farewell address for a few weeks now, but had no theme to condense my thoughts. Then, last week as Speaker Cotter and I were having a conversation he mentioned three words that seemed to have triggered many memories: ‘A Wild Ride’.

This was not ‘Mr. Toad’s Wild Ride’, for those of you who have been to that big Amusement Park in Florida with your kids, where you putter around in a Model T. No, this is more like the ‘Rock N’ Roll Rollercoaster’ where you have Aerosmith music blasting in your ears throughout the ride. Think about it. You wait in a large crowd outside of the doors hoping to get in – and FINALLY you are at the front of the line... A little like reaching the end of a successful Primary & General Election?

So, you strap into the seat. Then, ZOOM – zero to 70 in two seconds. New issues, new problems, 1000’s of new people. I used to think I was good with names until I got here. I asked one of the lobbyists how they kept track of all of our names and, with a grin, he reached over and tapped on my lapel pin. He continued by explaining ‘Haven’t you noticed how we all greet you simply with ‘Morning Rep’ – we don’t know all of your names.’

For some of you it was the first time you had to hire & manage staff, and MANY rules – yes, rules.

I believe it was my first day of Session, and my dear wife Teri had joined me on the House Floor. I asked her to sit at my desk for a photo... then out of nowhere a voice rang out ‘Ma’am, you’ll need to get out of the Representative’s chair’. I started to explain that this was my wife, but before I could get more than a few words out he repeated himself, this time much louder and with more emphasis ‘Ma’am, please get out of the chair’. I hadn’t been in Lansing more than 24 hours and I had already learned Rule 1: No one but a Representative sits in the Representatives seat.

During Session that same day, my nephew’s class was visiting the Capitol, but they were not from my district. They had been sitting in the gallery for some time and I knew they had to leave soon to head back home. I took a look around to find their Representative, who is now long gone, but he was nowhere to be found. So, it seemed only logical that I do my colleague the favor of introducing his guests and my nephew for him. I was sure to mention that they were from ‘Representative Smith’s’ district, not mine. Well... about 15 minutes later, ‘Representative Smith’ showed up and was blowing a gasket that I had the nerve to introduce his guests – who, by the way, were already loading up on the buses at the point. I was on a roll – I had just learned a second rule on my first day, Rule 2: Don’t tread on another elected officials territory.

Shortly after this incident, and still the same day, Floor Leader Stamas said he needed to speak with me in the back room. Now, the Floor Leader was quite an imposing figure to a lowly freshman such as myself and was literally twice the man he is today, so it is safe to say I was a little nervous. He wanted to point out to me that I had used a representative’s name on the floor, rather than the proper form of ‘The Representative from...’. I had just learned Rule 3: Follow the proper etiquette.

By the end of my first day of being a State Representative, I had violated and learned three rules within four hours of Session. I would have to check with Clerk Randall, but this has to be some sort of record?

Some of you may know I did my college internship here with my representative, Mel Larsen, in the late 70’s. At that time, the Capitol was in horrible condition – it had temporary floors that created ‘offices on top of offices’, creaky stairs, and many other signs of disrepair. I was just telling someone the other day that I have no idea how the fire marshal let that happen. Our legislative office was in a row of trailers in the parking lot behind the Capitol. As we look around at this glorious building today, I am so grateful they decided to renovate and improve our Capitol, rather than tear it down. One of my favorite things to do here has been taking student groups and visitors around on tours of this building. Thank you to Clerk Randall and the Capitol Commission.

We have all received guidance from others, especially previous and term-limited Representatives. My advice is that you can’t read everything. Find a topic or two and become the ‘got’ expert for colleagues and build a relationship with those who are knowledgeable in their respective areas of interest. Seek out the colleagues with like minds and attitudes when seeking council on a decision or question.

My seatmates have been wonderful sources of information and advice. Over the years, I’ve sat in this Chamber with Pete MacGregor, Dave Pagel, and now Brett Roberts. Whether we are discussing MSP budgets, fishing stories, education issues, apple production, or how to make a Dairy Queen ice-cream cake, they were all here for me – Thank you.

Remember we all, both sides of the aisle, want the same things for our families and constituents: a quality education, good health, sustainable jobs, and to take care of our veterans and seniors. We just all have different ways to get there. I regret not getting to know more of you during our time together. Those I have gotten to know are all here for the right reasons – selfless public service. I will apologize now for those I may miss and I’m sure I’ll have dozens of more thoughts to add moments after finishing my speech. I have great respect for Charles Smiley, Paul Clemente, Bob Kosowski, Wendell Byrd, David Rutledge, Tom Stallworth, and Lesia Liss... well, maybe not so much for Bob. And, I also would like to give mention to Jeff Farrington, Lisa Lyons, Joe Walsh, the Kowalls, Amanda Price, Kevin Cotter, and Jim Stamas. I would also be mistaken to miss my good friend, Jeff Farrington, who I have many memories with from cooking ribs to golf. You all have made a special impact on this special journey of mine.

In order for a big operation to be successful, it takes many hands. I’d like to first off thank my family – I know I wouldn’t be where I am today without them.

When first considering running for higher office, my parents, Bruce & Marilyn Jacobsen, and in-laws, Ruth & Bill Patterson (who passed away about 10 years ago) all encouraged me, supported my decision, and offered guidance throughout my journey. During my 30 plus years of service, at the township, county, and state level, my father, uncle, and cousins graciously stepped up and allowed me to take time away from our family business as I followed my passion to serve my community.

My children Lauren, Emily, and Bradford Jr. – They have never known a time when I was not involved with public service. I remember taking a one year-old Lauren door-to-door with me in a stroller during that first campaign for Township Trustee. Trust me, having a little girl in a stroller is a great conversation starter while going door-to-door. I am looking forward to having my first two grandkids very soon with Emily and Lauren both due over the next month or so. My dear wife Teri, what can I say? You’ve spent nearly 37 years of putting up with me, 32 years of supporting my ambitions as I served in various public offices, and doing a wonderful job raising our children and keeping our home running flawlessly - all while managing your successful career of being a speech therapist in Lake Orion Schools. You are so special – I love you.

I've also been fortunate to have worked with the many others who make this state run smoothly and successfully. From facility management, to sergeants, to clerks, to policy staff, to the departments, John Perry, my writer Sam Bell, and the rest of our communications staff – thank you for making it possible to accomplish the things we have. I would also like to give a special thanks to Rich Adams. When I was trying to learn how to tie a bowtie, Rich was patient enough to walk me through the process SEVERAL times until I eventually got the hang of it. Thanks to Rich, I've been able to teach numerous people this process on my own.

My office staff have been stellar. I entered office with John Bremer, who is now working in Washington D.C., and Mike Compagnoni, who was with me until recently when he became a well-respected lobbyist here in Lansing. Along the way I was joined by Mike Alaimo, who is now leading an association here in Lansing. And of course my current staff, Andrew Reed & Brittany Lewandowski. Teri and I consider all of you to be family of ours and appreciate your hard-work and help over the years.

Last, but not least, many thanks to the voters of the 46th District. It has been such an honor to serve you and our community over these past six years.

In closing, I also want to thank the majority of the members for the gift of supporting my speed limit, school, and gravel roads safety package. I appreciate your support and making it possible for Santa's sleigh to REALLY fly on the way home tonight!

Speaker Cotter:

“The time has come for me to say farewell, and I am so thankful for the opportunity that I have had over the last six years. I want to start by thanking the people of Isabella and Midland counties for believing in me and giving me the opportunity to represent you and serve our state. We have accomplished so much from where we started as Michigan was in a very desperate place in 2010. I want to thank then Republican Minority Leader Kevin Elsenheimer, Speaker Jase Bolger and so many others that worked so hard to allow me to serve in the majority. I also want to thank them for so many of the major accomplishments we have realized. So many policy goals are not realized in a single term, but rather like a relay race, progress is made and then the baton is passed from one legislature to another.

I want to thank my colleagues for our accomplishments and for the experiences that we have had over the last six years and for believing in me to serve as your Speaker. Winning elections is the easy part when compared to the incredible task of governing. I have no doubt that at some point I have frustrated or maybe even disappointed each one of you. Please know that I did my best and I am so incredibly proud of what we have accomplished together. Thank you for continuing to stand with me as we worked together to make this state better. I feel so fortunate to have been able to serve during the period in which I did. I believe that this period will be viewed as a historic chapter in Michigan's history. A historic comeback and a period of transformational change.

I want to thank House Business Office Director Tim Bowlin; Clerks Randall and Brown; Chief Sergeant Dickson; Mary Ann Cleary of House Fiscal; and all of your teams, as well as all other non-partisan staff. You are all dedicated servants who give so much to serve and protect this House and the people of Michigan.

I have been fortunate to work with so many talented people. I will name just a few, but there are so many more both past and present who deserve recognition. You have all been critical to our efforts. Brock Swartzle, Norm Saari, Lindsay Vogelsberg, Matt Golden, Gideon D'Assandro, Liz Smalley, Josiah Kissling, Hassan Beydoun, Megan Gill, Sean Lawrenson, Meghan Koorndyk, and Gabi Swain. We have celebrated a lot of successes together, but we have also persevered through challenges. Thank you for always standing with me.

There are so many members that I would like to give special thanks to, but where to draw the line is so difficult. I will mention just a few by name and regret not including so many others. I want to give special thanks to Floor Leader Aric Nesbitt; Speaker-elect Tom Leonard; Whip Rob VerHeulen; Chairwoman Andrea LaFontaine; and Chairmen Brad Jacobsen, Al Pscholka and Harvey Santana. You have all helped me in so many ways and I appreciate your friendship.

As if the demands of serving in this chamber are not enough, there is so much more that happens in our personal lives while we serve. Each of you have a story to tell in this regard. As far as personal challenges go, my most challenging term has been this one. I was officially elected to serve as your Speaker in January of 2015. The next month I learned two things that would forever change my life, for better and for worse. Jenn and I learned that we were expecting our first child, and we also learned that my mom, who had just joined me on the floor for opening day had been diagnosed with cancer. In October of 2015 we welcomed our son Joseph into this world. He is the light of our lives and together he and Jenn gave me the greatest title I will ever hold . . . Dad. In March of this year, after a 13 month battle, we said goodbye for now to my mom who was just 60 years old. Even with great loss there is so much to be thankful for. I am thankful that their lives overlapped by five months. As a body we have collectively mourned the sudden deaths of Representatives Plawecki and Pettalia. Many of you also lost other loved ones. Through it all, you returned to do the important work of the people and your strength and dedication are to be commended.

When the term started, I had many goals. In addition to policy goals such as passing a road funding plan and so many others which I am proud to say that we have done, I had goals in other areas as well. One of these goals was to protect the integrity of this great institution. While it may sound easy, sometimes it takes great effort. Unfortunately, in 2015, two members of this body threatened the integrity of the institution. I am proud of the way you responded. We stood together through the very difficult process of expulsion, something that is thankfully so rare in Michigan's history. You should all be proud of yourselves for your courage to do the right thing and minimize the impact on this institution.

Term after term in Lansing one of the most frequently discussed topics is that of term limits. My own views on this topic have changed several times. While term limits will prevent me from serving in this body again, I am at peace with that. It has been an incredible run, I am proud of our accomplishments, and it IS time for me to go. It is time for me to recalibrate my priorities. To sharpen my refocus on other important titles I am fortunate to hold such as: husband; father; son; brother and uncle to name a few. Today I am joined by my wife, Jennifer, nephew Andrew, Father Bob, sister Kelly and cousin Julie. I want to thank you and so many other members of our family for their unwavering love, support and understanding. Jenn, thank you for the countless sacrifices that you have made that have allowed me to serve. Thank you for being there for me even when you may have voted differently than I did. I love you and I thank you.

Leaving is also made easier because of the confidence I have in the members that will make up the 99th legislature. I have great confidence in the abilities of Speaker-elect Tom Leonard, and I will look forward to observing your many accomplishments from a distance. Thank you and may God bless you all."

Rep. LaFontaine:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker

While I originally thought giving this speech on the final day of speeches would be a good thing, I came to the conclusion that it's not. Everyone has already hit on points I wanted to make, Lisa has given all the life lessons, and Ed has used all the good words (some I still need to look up)....and let's be real, everyone is ready for the farewell speeches to be over...with that being said, I will do my best to hurry this along.

As a freshman, everyone warns us that this time will fly by.....and there is merit to that, except on days/nights like tonight when it feels like session will never end.

I'd be remised if I didn't give thanks to all of those who have played a significant role or made a lasting impression during my time here. While most of my gratitude is implied, some of these individuals have unique stories that accompany my appreciation, and I want to share some of that with you.

Starting with my Mom & Dad.....Back in 2010, I was a 23 year old, full time waitress, part-time district rep for Senator Sanborn, and working on my masters degree on the weekends, I had this crazy idea to try and convince my mom to run for this office.

Selfishly, I was looking for a way to add some campaign experience to my resume. I made the pitch to my parents, left them to mull it over, and after short deliberation, they came up with (what I thought was an insane idea) for me to run instead. But with nothing to lose, and an experience to gain, I decided 'why not'..... And that's where it began..... I have them to thank for planting that wild idea, making my farfetched dream a reality, and being my #1 fans.

I also want to acknowledge the original crew: Senator Sanborn, Andy Doerr, Amy Maxwell, Kyle Kaminski and Leta Howard for believing in me, and encouraging me. And to all of my family and friends who knocked on countless doors, and walked in all those parade, especially my younger brother Chuck and his crew...Thank you!

Fast forward a few months, and I was headed to Lansing for Orientation, I can still remember the feeling driving down Michigan Ave, towards the Capitol....seeing it in the distance....literally gave me goosebumps. Granted I had worked in this building before, but this was something new, and I realized right then this was bigger than just me.

Thank you to the entire staff that works day and night to make this place operational and functional on a daily basis, and especially to our sergeants who keep us safe. And Sergeant Dixon, all those years of telling me I need to wash my car is actually starting to resonate...., before I drive to town, I seriously contemplate going to the car wash.....I don't always go, but at least I think about it.

To my inaugural class, and those that served in the 96th legislature, Thank you! We took some really tough votes. During that time, I realized who my true friends were, and how cruel grown adults can be. I could go on and on referencing the negativity in comments from colleagues and constituents alike, facebook posts, letters to the editor, and unpleasant encounters in the grocery store....but you get the point....and to those people...I also say thanks!... you provided me with the prime example of what NOT to be like. Your words made me stronger, more determined, and completely convinced that what we were doing here in Lansing was right.

Thank you to Speaker Bolger, you saw something in me that I never thought I'd be prepared or qualified for. You asked me to chair the Natural Resource committee, at first I was skeptical of my ability, but I was up for the challenge. Thank you Speaker Cotter for allowing me to continue chairing a committee whos policies I have developed a strong passion for. To the interest groups who were so patient, and worked deliberately to bring me up to speed on sooo many issues, Thank you. To the Departments for being readily available at all times for tough questions, my committee clerk Joy Brewer and policy staff Steve Daunt and Katie Abraham....you guys are rock stars!

To the other members of the J team, I am grateful for the example you set, and the courage and leadership you exuded on a daily basis.

To my Macomb County colleagues; I found when I introduced myself to people in Lansing and said I was from Macomb, they gave me one of those 'oh' expressions. Well, after working with all of you for the past 6 years, I understand why.

We are a group of misfits, composed of obnoxious, straight to the point, in your face, unfiltered individuals, and like a family, we tend to disagree and fight with one another, but we always have each other's back. Our passion for Macomb County is unwavering, and it has truly been a privilege to serve with all of you..... And Pete Lund, even though you drove me absolutely crazy keeping me on task during the even years, I am grateful.

I can't forget my St. Clair delegation, Paul, Phil and Dan; you're much less dramatic in comparison and I've enjoyed working with you.

In a climate where turnover is often, and our time here is brief, it's very difficult not to entertain preconceived notions of individuals based off of their previous jobs or political affiliation. Thankfully, I learned quickly that these notions were baseless, and had proved me wrong on two occasions, specifically in regards to two of the people I consider my closest colleagues here in Lansing.

The first; John Kivela. When I found out he would be serving on Natural Resources, I did a google search and saw picture of him with President Obama. I thought to myself, oh boy, Obama and natural resource/environmental policy, and from the UP....he is definitely going to make things interesting. And he did just that, he surprised me with his positions on policy, and willingness to work together to accomplish a common goal. It wasn't until the Detroit recovery package, (which I personally believe was our greatest legislative accomplishment) that I realized you are more than a colleague you are a friend. You've helped me make some tough decisions (especially lately) and you've always been there help me navigate the process, I will be forever grateful for your loyalty and support.

The second; Tom Leonard, you have been my seat mate for 4 years now and only a handful of us will know the secret to that arrangement. Obviously, after describing my Macomb colleagues, you can see why I was uncertain of the totally filtered, non-swearing, conservative, upcoming political star. It was over time that I realized your work ethic, integrity, and leadership characteristics were undeniable. And you may be one of the most humble people I know (although you do have your moments). Thank you for subjecting me to being your seatmate for the past 4 years, I'd say your mentor did a great job!

Obviously, I have learned a lot during my time here through various experiences and challenges. I've met a lot of great people and made relationships that I know will last a lifetime. To my staff; man have you been great! Any time of day, any day of the week, you are always there. You were my therapists and confidantes, you picked me up and brushed me off after I stumbled countless times. You are the reason for my success. So Eric Ventimiglia, James Biehl, Laura Haynes, and Amy Smith.....THANK YOU.

Holly Hughes and Judson Gilbert, I will always think of you and all those times we spent laughing so hard our stomachs hurt.

Senator Stamas, thank you for hiring Meghann Keit and Jason Griffin. Meghann introduced me to Griff, and Griff introduced me to Sam, the man who's been promoted to husband, it's pretty cool having one of those now. Sam, thank you for tolerating and supporting me.

I ran for office because I was watching my friends and family leave this state, and I was considering leaving as well. While I'm proud to say some of them have found their way back home, there is still work to do, and I trust that the 99th legislature will continue that progress.

District 32, Thank you for taking a chance on a 23 year old waitress, it has been a privilege serving you.

In conclusion, if you remember anything from this speech; take away this.....always give credit where credit is due. Know that good policy always begins with a foundation of respect for the process and for one another. Your success is not measured by your level of education or intelligence, but rather integrity and principle. Be bold, and act purposively and FIRE UP CHIPS!"

Rep. Rutledge:

"Mr. Speaker and colleagues, I rise to bid farewell to my legislative family and to a career of public service. Who would have believed that little black boy who grew up at the foot of Lookout Mountain in Chattanooga, Tennessee; attended a segregated school system; shined shoes in a barber shop; worked his way through college cleaning bathrooms—would end up being appointed to statewide commissions by three governors; being elected as a township supervisor and a state representative. Who would have believed it? My parents believe it. While they didn't know the exact path that my life would take, they knew that my steps were ordered. They knew because they constantly prayed for me. I'm talking about actually wearing marks in the carpet beside their bed from being on their knees so much. They loved me, nurtured and protected me, and if I've done any good in this world, it's because of them. They have passed on now, but their picture has been on the wall of my office since I got here. It's there as a constant reminder that amazing things are possible through prayer.

There's one other picture on my office wall. It is a portrait of Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall. During a period of study at Harvard, he was assigned as my mentor. His picture is there as a reminder of the many dinners and late night sessions we spent together. During those times, he would recount cases and battles he fought while risking his life on behalf of those that otherwise had no voice. But most of all it's there because of the profound influence this man had on the development of my core philosophy of 'servant leader'. Someone said that the best days of your life are the day you're born, and the day you find out why. I'm clear that the imperative of my life is service to others. That principle has been the guiding compass on this journey. And, it is why you will never hear me refer to myself as a politician—I am a public servant.

REMEMBRANCES

As I prepare to leave public office and this amazing place, I will take with me something from each of you. I am a better person because our lives touched. My dad has passed away, and when I would do work around the house, I'd wear his boots – I wore them until I wore them out. Every time I'd put them on, I'd remember something special about him; some life lesson he taught me; or a funny joke he'd tell that had a serious meaning.

For the past six years, I've been trying to walk in your shoes; trying to understand our differences, or find commonality. Trying to walk in someone else's shoes is not without some risks. For example, former Rep. Dave Agema and I had some things in common. We were both Air Force officers, and I wanted to know him better. So, one day after session, we walked to his office to view some pictures he wanted to show me. As he took off his coat, a large hand gun fell out of his pocket. We looked at the gun and looked at each other, and he said, 'Don't worry, the safety is on.' That's when I learned that Reps are permitted to be armed on the House Floor. Thanks to you, Sgt. Dickson and your team for the pride and professionalism with which you keep us safe. I have never felt the need to carry a weapon in this place. You were certainly on point late one session night when separating Reps. Santana and Nathan from what Rep. Santana now describes as him just trying to show Rep. Nathan some tough love.

I haven't walked in Rep. Potvin's shoes, but I've worn his sport coat – it's the very one he has on today. It was a perfect fit, and I wore it proudly. You can learn a lot about a man when you wear his coat. Phil, you forgot to check the pockets before you gave it to me. And all this time I thought you were only taking pictures that were PG rated.

SPECIAL THANK YOU

1. Thank you to the Democratic Central Staff. I've never worked with a more talented group of people.
2. I have to thank Rep. Stamas, who is now Senator Stamas. During the time we shared our common duties on the floor here. He was always civil, and nothing but a gentleman. I know everybody knows you are a pizza maker; but what they don't know is that when I happened to be in Midland, you insisted on making a pizza for me, uncooked, with instructions of what to do when I got back home. I think you're a fantastic person.
3. To our House Clerks Gary Randall and Rich Brown, I would like to add my gratitude to that of others for the outstanding way in which you carry out your responsibilities. By the way, in my opinion, a number of State Government Departments could take a lesson from the two of you on staff diversity.
4. Thanks, Rep. VerHeulen for your help with a much needed project in my district that was successful only because of your leadership and the assistance of others on your team.
5. Rep. Pscholka, your talents were well matched with your committee chairmanship. Big thank you for your help with a critical capital outlay project for EMU's campus. Thousands of students will benefit. Often when we talked, I wasn't sure you were listening, but when you walked by my desk one day singing, 'I think it's going to be a green and white day', I knew good things were about to happen.
6. Rep. Tim Kelly, it's been a joy and real pleasure to co-chair the bi-partisan Prayer Breakfast Group with you. I had selected Rep. Julie Plawecki as my replacement and she was so excited to say 'yes'. With Julie's passing, Rep. Robert Kosowski stepped up. There is no doubt that the two of you will work well together.
7. Leader Tim Greimel: You've done an amazing job as our caucus leader. I'm glad that our lives touched, and proud to have served on your team. If you take a look at Rudyard Kipling's poem, 'If', you will find a description of you in each line. I especially like the one that says, 'If', you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on you.
8. Leaders elect Singh and Greig: Both of you will need to draw on all of your leadership skills, negotiation experience and wisdom in the session ahead. I'm wishing you all the best.
9. Seatmate Rep. Talabi: Your passion for serving the underserved is unmatched. It's important that you don't lose it.

STAFF THANK YOU

I've had a phenomenal staff; Emily Arents, my Office Manager and Legislative Director, and Anne Brown, my District Manager. For a short time, I was fortunate to have Kris Young assist me on the House floor. My District and this state have benefited immeasurably from their unique skill sets, loyalty and passion for public service. We literally fit together like hand and glove. They will leave this venue when I leave, and move on to wonderful opportunities.

I cannot end this without sharing a word about my life partner who I lost last year. She was such a special lady. Some would say that she had to be to put up with a dreamer like me. Many of you encouraged me with your presence at the celebration of her life. Special shout out to Rep. Sherry Gay-Dagnogo who at great sacrifice, cut short a trip to be present and add her melodious voice to the celebration of Gerri's life. In memory of Gerri, I have made available to each of you a video entitled 'The Life and Times of David Rutledge'. This has been viewed by the prayer breakfast group, and was put together at the request of my church. Some of you have asked for a copy, and I have been hesitant to share the burden that I carry every day. It is so deeply personal. In many ways, I hope you never have to walk in my shoes. But, you are family, and the video gives some insight into our family and the life Gerri and I had together. I hope it helps someone recognize that failure is not fatal unless you stop trying.

My feelings are summed up in the words from Edward Fitzgerald's Poem, The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam:
 The Moving Finger writes; and, having writ,
 Moves on: nor all thy Piety nor Wit
 Shall lure it back to cancel half a Line,
 Nor all thy Tears wash out a Word of it.

Colleagues, during my time here, I've tried to write an example of humility and integrity; I tried to write trust in all my relationships; I tried to write ethics in my behavior; and for all people of this state who just want a fair shake from their government, I've tried to write HOPE.

May God's grace and mercy be with each of you until we meet again."

Rep. Pscholka:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I don't need my remarks printed in the journal, and you will find out why shortly. It takes a lot of people to do this job well.

First, I would like to thank Kevin Cotter for winning the Speaker's race. Some of you here and not here today or me may have been injured otherwise. I asked my mentor Senator Harry Gast if he had any advice on running for Speaker, 'Yeah, he said as he took a drag from his cigarette, you would be a really good Approps chair, why would want to put up with the crap of being Speaker?' As usual, Harry was right.

So thank you Mr. Speaker for giving me the opportunity of a lifetime to Chair the Appropriations Committee. The sign of a great leader is to put the put the right people on the bus, and for the people on the bus to be in the right seats. I'll always have your back.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to dispel a couple of rumors. First, I STILL have not met Steve Marino. I would like to meet Steve Marino someday....perhaps behind a prominent Lansing nightclub. But not for the activity described in a certain e-mail.

Second, no funds from my leadership account were used to fund Representative Roberts one way trip to Bali. She should have asked. Just kidding.

Want to thank my wife Suzie P. She is not a public person. We attended the Inaugural in 2011. Only the second time I had been in this building in my life. We are on the elevator and in walks Governor Rick Snyder. You know those five or six seconds when no one says anything...well, my wife breaks the ice by saying, in this voice, Well, good luck fixing Michigan.'

No, we are reinventing Michigan.

Suzie P at GOP...he makes me nervous

Suzie P at legislative reception.

So a big thank you to all of our spouses, they didn't sign up for a lot of this. In my case, death threats, recalls, and having my face on the Rachel Maddow Show. The best part of getting trashed on the Maddow Show? Nobody really sees it.

Again, thank you to the spouses, or in the case of Rep Iden, Rep Bumstead and Senator Richardville....thank you to the many special people in your lives.

Many of us came here in 11 because our kids couldn't get jobs. The people of Michigan wisely selected an outsider, a business guy as Governor. Someone who wanted to solve problems for people. And here is where the critics of Rick Snyder come up short. He is not just about the numbers. He cares deeply about the people of Michigan. Each number represents a person or family. Or as he calls it 'Michiganders.' He's not a politician, and I say 'good.' He's about solutions to complex issues. I say 'good.' A half a million people are back to work, I say 'good.' Our kids don't have $20 billion in debt, I say 'good.' No more Michigan Business Tax, I say 'good.' No more reps sleeping on the floor, I say 'real good.' Thank you Governor Snyder and Lt. Governor Calley for stepping forward, for reinventing Michigan.

It takes a lot of people to do this job well.

Like Siskel and Ebert up in front...Clerks Brown and Randall.

Unlike many of my colleagues, I am disappointed in Chief David Dickson. I had Santana in the second round by TKO over Nathan. I didn't know Chief Dickson could move so well for a big guy.

I was going to say something nice about Alice Mansfield, and then it comes out that there are special soaps and oils in the women's room, and none for the men. Alice, that's profiling...and profiling is wrong.

Doom and Gloom, Mary Ann Cleary and Kyle Jen. They know the GF number in 2030. Thank you to all of the budget bunch, Senator Hildenbrand, Director Roberts and all of their staffs. Josiah and Budget Becky, great job. The Governor asked what I thought about Roberts, I said he talked too fast. Got thrown out of Senator Kahn's office in 72 seconds...tell quick story.

Thank you to the J Team - Jim Murray and Jim Kirsch. Okay, the real J team too, Jase, Jim, and John. I told Walsh at the beginning of the second term I wanted a Capitol office and a larger staff...he said why, and I explained that was what Olumba was promising for his caucus.

It takes a lot of people to do this job well...ever notice the people who hate lobbyists the most, also like term limits the most? So they don't like lobbyists, but they love the law that's the Lobbyist Full Employment and Retention Act.

Speaking of the lobby corps - we all have gotten this voice mail...'Representative, this is Steve Young, Government Consultants.'

(Tell Young story).

Lots of people with the institutional knowledge make up folks on the tiles. Don't have time to mention them all. But... Bill and Becky, Frank, Brez, Jim, and the underrated Lindley at PAA. The street gang at GCSI, many have nicknames, Hawkeye, Ziggy, Barbie, GO, Chrissy, et al. Adrian, Bret, Smalley. Sarah Hubbard, she always wants your ear, but never wastes your time. LeFevre, we have more than Saginaw in common. If I don't mention Robert O'Meara he will cry in my office. Thank you Robert, you will do great things in this town...Christine Shearer and Dominic, Chris Mitchell and Dave Finkbinder, top notch. Chris Kraft has forgotten more than many of us will ever know. I would take Melissa Yutzey and Sandi Jones if I got in a fight, they are relentless. The good lobbyists give you both sides of an issue, the bad ones trash you on social media.

I am not going to mention many individual members because of time. But a few highlights

- Wasn't much of a traveler, but got to go to Isreal, trip of a lifetime, the bible comes to life, along with a new appreciation of our strategic partner.
- Singing at the Ida Christmas Fest with Poleski, Shirkey, and Kurtz. Tell story.
- Having KY drive a 48 foot RV across Michigan. Tell story.
- Sister Lisa Lyons, this place is better because you served. Believe it. Earl Poleski, the conscious of Approps, The Blondetourage led by Aric Nesbitt,

I miss Peter Petallia, I miss him saying at leadership, 'I got a bill for that.' I didn't know Julie Plawecki well, and that's my fault. But this place can be like middle school at times, we are all in our various cliques.

Here is all you need to know about my Vice Chair, Jon Bumstead. A few weeks ago Karen Petallia sent a group text remembering the time this summer we were all on the island, and this huge moon was lighting up the porch. Within seconds, Bumstead sent me a note saying we needed to get to Presque Isle and visit Karen. And so we did, the day before Halloween. Jon Bumstead has a heart as big as his.....Well, he has a big heart.

I'll miss Tim Skubick calling me kid.

Chad Livengood is real good reporter, old school.

It takes a lot of help to do this job.

Lastly, my Wamily. I didn't burn through a lot of staff. Lorillea left for fashion, and I thank Wayne Schmidt for bringing us Kirstie Sieloff, who is now with Calley. She will be running one these state departments one day. Christine Simon is as cool as the other side of the pillow, nothing rattles her. She's landed with Hildy on Approps. Taylor came on board and fit right in, she's off to the clerk's office. You got a good one, Gary. And then there is Adam Carlson. I don't have a son, but if I did, I would want him to be like Adam...well, not really, maybe taller, more athletic, better vertical jump, and not have to have a beard to look more than 15. Adam has been with me since day 1, he is a blue chipper. We may not be done yet.

For all of you, I want to share a note my daughter gave me after my first election in 10. It pertains to all of us.

Well, for the children of MICHIGAN - You can grow up in a single parent household, where your father never pays a dime of child support, and you have to live in an attic at your Grandparents house for a while. And as your Mom goes back to school to get a job, she gets cancer and survives, and you are more interested in sports in high school and are a bit of a late bloomer, and you can become the first one in your family to go to a great school, Western Michigan University, and be the first in your family to graduate college. And you can overcome lots of stuff, if you listen to your teachers and coaches. And you could end up here, working with some of the greatest people you will ever meet.

God Bless you All, and Row the Boat."

Rep. Franz:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker.

I had written a several page floor speech that detailed what I saw as our successes and failures – my joys and disappointments (and there were plenty of both) and some profundities. But what's the point? Those are battles already won and loss – though some just got rained out. Besides, other Reps have done a fine job at that.

Instead I would like to take my time to thank so many people who have made this a most remarkable 6 years of my life. – Not to mention the fastest.

First, and foremost, I would like to thank the people of the 101st district. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve you! And a very heartfelt thanks to the slightly more than 50% who supported and voted for me – especially all the really dedicated souls who helped in so many ways – doors, parades, fundraisers. It was you who made this journey possible. And except for maybe one vote, I think I did what I said I would do, and voted how you expected me to.

I would like to thank my Tuesday morning groups – your insight and opinions often brought a different and clarifying view of many bills.

I would like to thank my vice chairs – Rep. Roberts and Dianda. Thank you for your help running a smooth committee.

Next I would like to thank Cheryl, Stephanie and Sondra. Your pleasant welcome and warm smile brightened every day I entered this beautiful chamber – and even after more than 25 hours straight with several more to go after we were done – you were still so nice to me – thanks.

Next I would like to thank John Perry and Jeff Behrendt. You certainly helped with my communication skills. Returning Members, if you're not using them once a week – you're missing a great opportunity. Thank too, to Mike Quillinan and Rich Adams for all the pictures – tough subject matter – but you did a great job.

Thank you to all the policy staff – both past and present – you made me smarter than I am. Special thank you to Joelle Demand. You are a huge help in choreographing what goes on here and you made my job in the chair so much easier. Your mom is rightly proud of you. Also – thanks to Alice for taking care of all of us.

Thank you Chief Dickson! And thank you to all your Jedi knights (his term). Don Dunham, Randy Carpenter, David Dahlke, Peter DePrekel, Chris Devlin, Loren DeYoung, John Hersman, Randy Kindy, Fawn McHenry and Jon Priebe.

You all were always so helpful, pleasant, and definitely re-assuring. A couple of those guys actually said they would take one for me – what a humbling compliment! Not sure if they really would – but I'm really glad we didn't have to find out.

Thank you to David, Dougie, Rich, Eric, Smitty, Ben and even Billy. Your friendship and the fun we had was worth every fine.

A very special thank you to Clerk Randall who has become a dear friend. I can't begin to express my appreciation for all of your wisdom and encouragement over the last 6 years. I so enjoyed participating in your class and visiting with you to discuss politics, policy, and the history of this great institution.

As a lover of history – and especially political history, I thoroughly enjoyed our talks. And speaking of history – I'm sure many of you don't know that Clerk Randall is kind of special – historically speaking. You see – as a much younger State Rep, Gary voted on the Resolution that made Michigan the final state to ratify the 27th Amendment to our US Constitution.

What makes this even more unique is that the 27th amendment was drafted by James Madison – yes that James Madison – some 203 years before. It was one of the first 17 amendments proposed – 10 of which became our bill of rights. Clerk Randall – it truly has been an honor to get to know you.

Thank you to the absolutely wonderful people who have working in our office – Brian Modelski, Josh Robertson, James Krone and Danielle Sirianni who is currently with me – you all did a marvelous job with constituents and made me look really good!

And then there is Jennifer Smeltzer! She and David have been good friends of mine for more than 20 years. When this seat came open and I thought I'd run by putting a few signs – and calling it good.

It was Jennifer, with her experience and knowledge who offered to help – and thank God she did. I would not be standing here today – but for Jennifer Smeltzer.

It was her plan and execution that won a primary that I was picked to lose and then she went on to unseat an incumbent who had clobbered me the election before, against pretty stiff opposition that got really ugly – so much so I was glad my parents weren't around to see the ads against their son.

Jennifer and I continued to win. Once here, she had a hand in nearly every bill I had and once I became chair of Reg Reform – she continued to help develop good policy, by working with dispirit groups to craft language that worked.

Our office – that is Jennifer – was even asked by other Reps to help with liquor issues which of course we could and did because of her relationships. And through it all – for over 6years – Jennifer has always had my back – PRICELESS!! Thanks partner.

I would like to thank Carol, Faye and Tammy – three ladies who worked for me for over 100 years combined – along with most of their children. Why Carol, Faye and Tammy?? They were my first test of each bill – how does it affect their lives?? They are the faces of people – real people – for whom I was working.

I would like to thank my sons – Mark and Jeff and their families. They helped with campaigning, parades and encouragement. They also kept me grounded. When I was ranked 93% conservative – I thought I was doing pretty good. But first thing both of them said was – 'What happened to you the other 7%?'. Grounded! I love you, boys.

Finally, I would like to thank Speaker Cotter and all the members of my Caucus – and for that matter, all the members of the house. You appointed me to a leadership position and entrusted me with the gavel.

You have no idea what an experience it is to be in the chair. I absolutely loved it. Think about this for a second – there are over 320 million people in this great country – and less than a couple hundred get to do what you allow me to do. I will be eternally grateful to each and every one of you.

Thank you – and Good Bye!"

Rep. Nesbitt:

"The hardworking taxpayers of Van Buren, Allegan, and Kalamazoo Counties humbled me with the great honor of representing them in this House of the People.

The thank yous are too numerous to list: the campaign staff, campaign volunteers, my office staff, central staff, support staff, interns, along with my friends, family, and neighbors who have helped move Michigan forward especially my Mom and Dad. All these people helped sustain leadership needed to make the right decisions—instead of the decisions that were politically expedient.

Our state has come a long way from the days of high unemployment, families fleeing the state, budgets built on smoke and mirrors, and crushing debt.

Our success as members of this legislature over the last six years has helped more businesses to invest and expand, more people to find work, and a better, brighter future for our children and grandchildren.

I came here to solve problems, to expand freedom for individuals, and to revert government control from the state to the individual.

We all took a role in the success. And, on a lot of what we came here to do—with the people’s help: We did it. However, there is more to do. Being competitive and free is not a destination, but a journey that we must continue.

As I leave this body of representatives, I have a new sense of passion for my state to deliver for the people of Michigan. I look forward to living here with my wonderful wife, Trisha. We have a life to live, love, and grow together. And I look forward to the most important role of all—citizen.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve and please continue to fight for the individual over the state. For the taxpayers over the tax-takers. For Main Street over Wall Street. And for the little, ordinary guy over the big, powerful guy. May God bless you all and the great State of Michigan in the months and years ahead.”

The Speaker Pro Tempore called Associate Speaker Pro Tempore Franz to the Chair.

Rep. Cotter moved that Reps. McCready and Hughes be excused temporarily from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Lyons:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker,

I used to walk the halls of this building when I was a kid. Sometimes I would be so naughty that mom would send me to work with dad, and that meant either going to the farm or going to the Capitol. Getting sent to Lansing was once my punishment. I bet Little Lisa never would have guessed that 30 years later, getting sent to Lansing would be my privilege. When I walk these halls as an adult, when I see the dome of the people's building glow brightly in the night, and when I step foot into this chamber, I always have to stop for a moment. This Capitol is a beautiful building to work, not because it is ornate; but because it constantly reminds me what an honor it is to serve the great people of the great state of Michigan.

As I prepare to end my service in the Michigan House of Representatives, I am leaving with heart filled with gratitude, lessons learned, and- if I'm being honest- I leave with a couple regrets. Come to think of it, I'm leaving with a lot more wrinkles than I came here with, too!

I regret leaving without having accomplished some the things I set out to do, especially issues like including state and local corrections officers with their public safety brethren in Public Act 312, real meaningful education reform that ensures all our children have a quality education, and providing property tax relief for our hardworking taxpayers. I hope when I am gone, another member will take up the mantle on these important issues. I consider it a blessing that my regrets revolve around unfinished business rather than matters of the heart.

I will leave the legislature with a sense of peace and confidence knowing that I am leaving Michigan in better shape than when I arrived, that I was part of a team who brought Michigan out of the lost decade. I am proud to have played a small role in passing budgets that prioritize roads, public safety, public education, and veterans. I'm proud that we have worked to pay down our debt and liabilities so my kids aren't saddled with it. I'm proud to have helped create an environment where jobs have grown, and unemployment shrunk. The real results we have delivered to the people of Michigan have put our state back on the path of prosperity. I know there is more work to be done, and I wish the 99th Legislature all the best in building upon the foundation we have laid.

I have grown so much, learned so many lessons, and affirmed things I already knew over these last six years. I would like to offer to this body some of the lessons I've learned and live by.

Life Lesson number 1) Everybody is brave behind a computer screen. I recommend face to face communication.

Life Lesson number 2) We have a very serious job here in the legislature, but we should never take ourselves too seriously.

Life Lesson number 3) Everybody in Alto understands the meaning of certain farm animal expressions, but apparently a lot of other people don't. (If you're not laughing, see lesson number 2)

Life Lesson number 4) People will label you, but you don't have to accept it. Political labels like 'conservative', 'liberal', and 'moderate' are entirely relative and totally dumb.

Life Lesson number 5) Everyone elected here loves our state and wants to make a positive difference, and I that the public will never be told about all the times we put partisanship aside and work together.

Life Lesson number 6) In order to truly make a difference in this world, I must remember to show grace to others, even when they don't deserve it.

Life Lesson number 7) I learned to be passionate about an issue without taking opposition personally. You just might not be able to tell. Calm isn't my strong suit.

Life Lesson number 8) A quote from Tommy Boy can diffuse any situation. I learned that I have the ability to quote Tommy Boy in any situation. Except in my farewell speech, apparently.

Life Lesson number 9) It doesn't matter if I pass 100 bills or 0 bills. I won't remember the policy I worked on. I'll remember the people I worked with and for.

Life Lesson number 10) Doing what is right sometimes means standing against your usual allies and sometimes standing alone. And that's ok.

I love that we close out our legislative session in a season where our hearts are tuned to thanksgiving and positive reflection. My heart is overflowing with gratitude. Thank you to the people of the 86th District for electing me to serve the people of Michigan. Our service is propped up from the support of so many unsung heroes, who deserve many thanks. Gary Randall, Rich Brown, and all our enrolling clerks: you are calm and competent all the time. What a steady comfort on a chaotic House Floor. To the Michigan State Police, Chief Dickson and all the sergeants: you guys just rock! Thank you for your protection and professionalism. If any of you ever need a bodyguard, I would be happy to return the favor. I'm small but I can be scrappy! To the hardworking facilities staff: you guys are the classiest group of people in this town. You treat everyone with dignity and respect, and you constantly drop everything you are doing to assist someone who needs help. For letting me into my locked office, letting me into the locked parking garage, and unlocking my keys from inside my car (so, so many times), I am eternally grateful. To our central staff, especially our policy staff, thank you for all the hard work you do behind the scenes to help us advance our agendas to make a better Michigan. I am especially grateful for the policy staff assigned to my education and elections committees: Jason Mancini, Matt Schueler, and Wendy Larvick in Education Committee. Doug Maines, Aaron Van Langevelde, Hassan Beydoun, and Brock Swartzle. Working with you made even the most frustrating issues fun. You are all honorary lifetime members of Team Lyons!

I have been blessed with two teams of staff throughout these last six years. Jennifer Merchant: we didn't have much, but we had each other! Thank you for managing my first campaign and for being the Charter Member of Team Lyons! We were lucky to add Jessie Scalabrino to the team. You ladies worked tirelessly for the people of the 86th District. I'm so proud of the advances you both have made in your career, and I am thankful for your hard work, but mostly for our true friendship. You are both like sisters to me, and I will never forget all the fun we had together here. Courtney Panter, I am so glad we found each other. I admire your quiet intelligence, and I am excited to see what the future holds for you. Rob Macomber, loyalty is a fading virtue in the term-limit era. I am so grateful for your fierce loyalty to not only me but to the integrity of this institution and to the people of the state of Michigan. I am thankful for all you have done here in the legislature, and I look forward to working together for the people of Kent County in the Clerk/Register of Deeds office.

If I had a nickel for every time somebody asked me 'How do you do it?' when they learn that I balance the responsibility of this job with my duties as a wife whose husband works third shift and mother of four, let's just say we wouldn't have potholes in our roads, and I wouldn't have to fight so hard to get money for new voting equipment! The truth is, I know exactly how I do it: with the love and support of my awesome family. I want to thank Ron and Dina Lyons and Beth Ann Posthumus for being awesome grandparents and stepping up when needed to watch the kids during late night session and last minute meetings. I want to thank my sisters Krista and Heather and my brother Bryan for all your support from the beginning of this adventure, from walking in parades to knocking on doors, to babysitting the kids, and for your prayers. My parents. There is no speech in the world that could articulate my gratitude for all you have done for me and for the example you have set. To my mom, Pam Posthumus: you were a true Proverbs 31 woman. The example you set as a wife, mother, and faithful servant to all is the legacy you left us. I strive every day to carry on your legacy. To my dad, Dick Posthumus: Thank you for teaching me what leadership truly is. I am grateful that you instilled in me faith, family, and friendship always take priority. I am a better legislator because you are a great dad. I am thankful that we had the unique opportunity to work together here. Dicky P.: thank you for making the House feel a little more like home. To my wild and crazy and AWESOME kids: Easton, Charlie, Gage, and Fisher: I love you more than words can say. You are all my sunshine, and you make me happy when skies are gray and every other day. I want to thank you for inspiring me to make this state better for you. To my partner, best friend, and love of my life, my husband Brad: You are such a stud! Thank you for being the strong, steady leader of our family. I am grateful for the faith you have in me and for all the sacrifices you made over these last six years so that I could serve. I love you more than anyone on this earth. And finally, I am so grateful to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for all His blessings and for calling me to serve.

In conclusion, if ever I am asked about my experience in the Michigan House of Representatives, I will only need to say one thing: I swear I've seen a lot of stuff in my life, but that...was...AWESOME!!!!!!

Farwell, and God Bless you all!"

Rep. Hovey-Wright moved that the House adjourn.
The motion prevailed, the time being 11:59 p.m.

Associate Speaker Pro Tempore Franz declared the House adjourned until Thursday, December 15, at 12:01 a.m.
