Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Somerville, Brown, Durhal, Heise, Howrylak, LaVoy, Price and Slavens offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 311.

A resolution to declare March 11, 2014, as Fibromuscular Dysplasia Awareness Day in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, Fibromuscular dysplasia (FMD) is a disease that causes abnormal cell growth of the arterial wall. FMD can lead to areas of narrowing (stenosis), beading, aneurysms, and dissections (tears) of the arterial wall; and

Whereas, There has been little progress in understanding the disease since it was first diagnosed in 1938. There is no known cause or cure for the disease and there are no set protocols to treat the disease; and

Whereas, FMD has always been considered and is still classified a rare disease. Many researchers now believe FMD is an under-diagnosed disease. Some of the data suggest that 4-5% of the population may be affected by the disease; and

Whereas, Ninety percent of the patients affected by FMD are women, but men and children also get the disease. There are different classifications of FMD, the two most common types are medial fibroplasia and intimal fibroplasia. Unlike the adult population, children tend to be diagnosed with intimal fibroplasia, which can be more aggressive. Some patients present with both types of the disease. There is no understanding of why there are differences; and

Whereas, Individuals and families affected by fibromuscular dysplasia often experience problems such as a sense of isolation, difficulty in obtaining accurate and timely diagnosis, and optimal treatment options; and

Whereas, Many rare diseases are relatively well-known, but is not well-known by the public or medical community. Patients and their families must bear a large share of the burden for things such as educating others, including their own physicians, and raising funds for awareness and research; and

Whereas, The Fibromuscular Dysplasia Society of America (FMDSA) was founded in March 2003. Over the past ten years, this association has been active and successful with many programs including public and physician awareness, patient support, and engaging and working with researchers from around the world; and

Whereas, FMDSA is funding the United States Registry for Fibromuscular Dysplasia. Until the recent data was released, it was thought was that 75% of FMD cases affected the renal arteries, but that is now known to be inaccurate. It is also very common to have a 5 year delay from onset of symptoms to diagnosis; and

Whereas, There is still much needed awareness and research of the disease. FMD patients present with the same symptoms that much of the general population is affected with, such as hypertension, headaches, and dizziness. Others present with TIA or stroke, dissection (tear) of an artery, aneurysm, swooshing noise in the ear, and renal infraction. Children can present with basis symptoms such as high blood pressure, headaches, insomnia, fatigue, and abdominal pain. Misdiagnoses of FMD can lead to severe consequences and disability; and

Whereas, FMDSA is organizing a global observance of Fibromuscular Dysplasia. During the second week of March each year, patients, medical professionals, and researchers, are joining together to focus attention on fibromuscular dysplasia as a public health issue during that week; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare March 11, 2014 as Fibromuscular Dysplasia Awareness Day in the state of Michigan.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Daley, Lauwers, Kurtz, Rendon, Johnson, Schmidt, Brunner, Smiley, Muxlow, Hovey-Wright, Brown, Slavens, Phelps, Segal, LaVoy, Potvin, Denby, Pagel, Victory, Outman, Goike, Glardon, Pettalia, McBroom, Kelly, Yanez, Faris, Kosowski, Cotter, Durhal, Heise, Hooker, Howrylak and Price offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 312.

A resolution to declare March 2014 as Agricultural Heritage Month in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, Each year, states across the nation recognize March as a time to celebrate the importance of food and agriculture as it provides almost everything we eat and use each day; and

Whereas, As part of that celebration, Governor Rick Snyder has proclaimed March as Food and Agriculture Month in Michigan; and

Whereas, Michigan's food and agriculture businesses are increasing in value and importance. The industry generates $96 billion in total economic activity each year and the sector is likely to increase even more because of the export opportunities the next 10-20 years in research and development, food processing, and exports; and

Whereas, Michigan's food and agriculture sector is very diverse with 52,194 farms on nearly 10 million acres of farmland producing more than 300 food and agricultural commodities. Our state ranks fourth in the nation for farmers markets and is also home to 101 wineries and dozens of micro-breweries. Twenty-two percent of the state's workforce (923,000 Michiganders) are employed in agriculture, food processing, and related businesses; and

Whereas, Michigan leads the nation in the production of 17 commodities, including tart cherries, blueberries, three kinds of dry beans (black, cranberry, and small red), 11 floriculture products (including begonias, geraniums, petunias, and impatiens), and pickling cucumbers. Michigan also ranks in the top ten for forty other commodities; and

Whereas, Exports are an important segment of Michigan agriculture. The industry exports about one-third of its agricultural commodities each year, generating nearly $3.2 billion in revenue. Over sixty percent of all Michigan's agricultural exports go directly to Canada, our number one export market. Other top importing countries for Michigan-grown products are Mexico, Japan, Korea, and China; and

Whereas, Food processing is a large contributor to the state's economy. Michigan is home to approximately 2,000 licensed food processors who employ more than 130,000 residents and generate nearly $25 billion in economic activity, making the state nineteenth in the nation for food processing; and

Whereas, FFA has a long and distinguished history in the state. The Michigan FFA Association provides a solid foundation for youth and the future of agriculture in Michigan by promoting premier leadership, personal growth, and career success among its nearly 6,300 members. The members represent diverse backgrounds from rural and urban lifestyles, but share a common goal of educating classmates and communities about the state's $91.4 billion food and fiber industry, including more than 200 agricultural commodities. The FFA is a vital part of quality intra-curricular education, developing good citizens, leaders, entrepreneurs, employees, executives, and future agriculture educators; and

Whereas, The month of March celebrates National Agricultural Week, Michigan State University hosts the State FFA Convention as well as Agriculture and Natural Resources Week, and Secretary of State Ruth Johnson has formed a 2014 partnership with Michigan FFA in promoting Agricultural Heritage License Plates; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of the Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare March 2014 as Agricultural Heritage Month in the state of Michigan. We encourage all citizens to recognize and celebrate this momentous occasion.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

Rep. Daley moved to substitute (H-1) the resolution as follows:

A resolution to urge the state of Illinois to recognize Michigan concealed pistol license holders as being automatically authorized to carry concealed handguns in Illinois.

Whereas, The Illinois General Assembly recently enacted House Bill 183, the Firearm Concealed Carry Act, authorizing appropriately licensed Illinois residents to carry concealed handguns. Illinois has now joined with the rest of the states in issuing concealed carry licenses to qualified residents, creating an opportunity for citizens throughout the country to preserve their right to self-defense regardless of the state in which they travel; and

Whereas, Illinois's new law provides for a non-resident Illinois concealed carry license if the non-resident's home state's concealed carry license laws are "substantially similar" to Illinois's law. However, all out-of-state residents would still have to apply for a separate non-resident license. To apply for a non-resident license, a Michigan resident, who has already been approved under Michigan's law, would have to meet several additional requirements in the state of Illinois. These requirements include obtaining 16 hours of additional concealed carry firearms training provided by an approved instructor, providing an electronic copy of a valid Michigan concealed carry license, and obtaining an Illinois digital identification card. Finally, non-residents must pay a $300 fee for a five-year license; and

Whereas, Illinois's current non-resident structure is burdensome and unnecessary over-regulation of individuals who have already been vetted through Michigan's robust approval process. Statistics show that Michigan's concealed carry law provides appropriate safety measures to ensure those not qualified to carry concealed pistols do not receive a license. Michigan law requires an applicant to be lawfully able to possess, sell, or purchase a firearm and reflects, via fingerprinting and a thorough background check, whether the applicant has or has not been convicted of felonies or other serious crimes; and

Whereas, As is the case in most reciprocity agreements throughout the nation, Illinois should automatically recognize the existing CPL licenses of Michigan residents in order to enhance safety and avoid duplication of regulation, as Michigan allows Illinois license holders to carry in Michigan. Illinois is currently the only state in the Great Lakes region that does not grant reciprocity to Michigan residents; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That, in the spirit of cooperation and reciprocity, we respectfully urge the state of Illinois to recognize lawful Michigan concealed pistol license holders as being automatically authorized to carry concealed handguns in Illinois; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Illinois Senate, the Speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, the Governor of Illinois, the Illinois Attorney General, and the Director of the Illinois State Police.
