Bishop David W. Maxwell of Eliezer Temple Church of Lansing offered the following invocation:

God, we come before Your presence as humbly as we know how. The very fact that we are petitioning You is an acknowledgment of our inability and our human frailty. It is also an acknowledgment of Your sovereignty and of Your ability to do what we cannot do and to bring to pass what we cannot bring to pass. So we invite Your participation, Your assistance, and Your guidance.

Our state is faced with so many challenges. We are trying to do so many things to bring into fruition a budget to provide services to our citizens and to ensure the solvency of this state. We ask that You would bring together diversion and parochial views and cause us to be harmonized with one goal, one objective, and one ambition that is to enrich our state. I pray for these Senators who have the awesome responsibility of crafting legislation and enacting policies that will better our state. We ask and we pray for Your guidance in their lives; not only in the lives of these, our Senators, but we pray for the constituents, that we would not push and prod for our own personal gain, but that we would support them in such a way that is best for all of us not in part and partial, but in the whole.

I pray for the safety for these men and women as they travel from their localities. I pray for the holiday blessings as we celebrate the birth of our Christ. Bless this session of our Senate in the matchless and inimitable name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This is our prayer, this our plea, and every person says, Amen.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Cherry, led the members of the Senate in recital of the \textit{Pledge of Allegiance}.

In The Chair: President

The Senate agreed to the title of the bill.

General Orders

Senator Hammerstrom moved that the Senate resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole for consideration of the General Orders calendar.

The motion prevailed, and the President, Lieutenant Governor Cherry, designated Senator Switalski as Chairperson. After some time spent therein, the Committee arose; and, the President, Lieutenant Governor Cherry, having resumed the Chair, the Committee reported back to the Senate, favorably and without amendment, the following bill:

Senate Bill No. 849, entitled

A bill to amend 1996 PA 381, entitled “Brownfield redevelopment financing act,” by amending section 2 (MCL 125.2652), as amended by 2002 PA 254.

The bill was placed on the order of Third Reading of Bills.

Resolutions

Senator Hammerstrom moved that consideration of the following resolutions be postponed for today:

- Senate Resolution No. 141
- Senate Resolution No. 175
- Senate Resolution No. 139
- Senate Resolution No. 182
- Senate Resolution No. 183
- Senate Resolution No. 186

The motion prevailed.

Senate Resolution No. 170.

A resolution honoring the Village of Constantine.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senator Brown asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Brown’s statement is as follows:

In company with our special guests today, I rise in support of this resolution. Senate Resolution No. 170 would designate the Village of Constantine as the Seed Corn Capital of the World. Mr. President, I know we don’t grant these designations lightly—we shouldn’t—which leads us to ask the question, “What is the criteria that should be used to grant such designations?” I would suggest, Mr. President, that criteria is that which was considered in committee, and that criteria is merit.

By way of background, Constantine is the home of two nineteenth century Michigan Governors—two Democrat Governors, Mr. President, John Berry and John Bagley. The community of Constantine was settled 175 years ago this year. Constantine is known this day far and wide as the Michigan home of several major seed corn producers. Constantine’s product, food product, the activity in which they are engaged is an activity that ties us back to the very genesis of our being as a community, back to Native Americans. Constantine’s local economy is derived from the production of seed corn. Seed corn production provides enough number of jobs for the citizens of Constantine and the surrounding area.

It is home to two of the largest seed corn producers in the world, Monsanto Production Company and Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Constantine production location. These companies have dedicated their support to Constantine’s efforts to be named the Seed Corn Capital.

As I mentioned, these seed corn production facilities play a large role in distribution seed corn worldwide. The research and development efforts of the Constantine seed corn producers yield innovative and environmentally-friendly growing methods. The collective contributions of Constantine seed corn producers benefit the southwest Michigan area, our entire state, and the world. In fact, many, many students are engaged in summer activities of detasseling seed corn. The money that they receive, the pay they receive from that supports their education. Many students have received their college degrees based on income that they have received from their summer employment.

Monsanto Production Company has been in Constantine since 1997. However, Monsanto has been producing seed corn in the area since the mid-1970s. The Constantine facility is Monsanto’s largest production site and produces over 1.2 million bushels of corn each year. The site employs 35 full-time employees, approximately 1,500 seasonal employees during detasseling of which I have mentioned, and up to 300 temporary employees during harvest.

Pioneer Hi-Bred International is the largest seed corn producer in this state. Pioneer has been growing seed corn in the Constantine area for 30 years and has participated in the amazing growth of seed corn in this area. The Constantine location is Pioneer’s largest location. It regularly produces over 2 million bushels of corn, and the amount of production requires them to use over 3,000 summer detasseling employees, 300 harvest employees, and 45 full-time employees.

Constantine is unique, and there are two four-seed corn dryer plants operating within a mile of the city limits. Mr. President, I do respectfully and appreciatively ask the body to approve this resolution.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 28.
A concurrent resolution approving the conveyance of property to the State Building Authority and approving a lease among the State of Michigan, the State Building Authority, and Lake Superior State University relative to the Lake Superior State University Arts Classroom Building.

The Assistant Secretary of the Senate made the following statement:
Mr. President and members of the Senate, the lease and exhibits are attached to the resolution and are available for review by the membership now at the rostrum or after session in the offices of the Session Staff in the Romney Building.

The question being on the adoption of the concurrent resolution,

The concurrent resolution was adopted, a majority of the members serving voting therefor, as follows:

In The Chair: President

Senate Resolution No. 163.
A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact measures that support venture capital activities in Michigan.
The question being on the adoption of the resolution,
The resolution was adopted.

Senator Thomas offered the following resolution:
Senate Resolution No. 200.
A resolution to urge the Congress and the President of the United States to create a new cabinet-level position of Secretary of Manufacturing.
Whereas, Manufacturing has been a driving engine of the American economy for more than a century. This sector of the economy has contributed to the strength of our nation in many ways. The impact of manufacturing jobs has had many positive benefits for our country, including contributing to the growth of the middle class in our society and contributing to our nation’s defense; and
Whereas, In spite of its critical value to our nation and its future, manufacturing in America has suffered dramatically in recent years. Since the peak year of manufacturing employment, 1979, when nearly 20 million people held manufacturing jobs, the United States has lost 5 million of these jobs. The number of manufacturing jobs lost since 1998—3 million—is staggering. Nowhere is the damage from the loss of manufacturing jobs more severe than in Michigan; and
Whereas, With its significance to our economy and its strategic importance, securing and developing our capacities for manufacturing must be among the highest priorities of our federal government. The close link between actions in Washington, including policies related to trade, and the health of our manufacturing sector also argues for a stronger presence at the highest levels of government; now, therefore, be it
Resolved by the Senate, That we urge the Congress and the President of the United States to create a new cabinet-level position of Secretary of Manufacturing; and be it further
Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.
Pending the order that, under rule 3.204, the resolution be referred to the Committee on Government Operations, Senator Hammerstrom moved that the rule be suspended.
The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.
The question being on the adoption of the resolution,
Senator Hammerstrom moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Commerce and Labor.
The motion prevailed.
Senators Allen, Cherry and Kuipers were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of

Statements

Senator Barcia stated that had he been present when the votes were taken on the passage of the following bills, he would have voted “yea”:
Senate Bill No. 834
Senate Bill No. 835

Senator Jacobs asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.
The motion prevailed.
Senator Jacobs’ statement is as follows:

It is with mixed feelings that I rise today to say good-bye to one of our star communication staff people, Beth Bingham. Beth is leaving our central staff. She was tapped by the Governor’s communications staff who recognized the talent that we saw in her. She is a gifted writer, an incredible warm, wonderful person, and friend. We will sorely miss her skills, and we really would like to wish her well in her new position.

She did not write this speech for me. Beth, good luck.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to the order of
