Rep. Kenneth Kurtz, from the 58th District, offered the following invocation:

“Eternal God and Heavenly Father, we are grateful for this day. It is a day You have given to us. We think about the many who are suffering in these very cold temperatures throughout our whole land. We pray O God, that You have mercy on them and keep them safe. For each one in this Chamber, I pray Your special blessing today. Each one of us carry certain problems, burden and cares that perhaps are only known to ourselves and to You. O God, comfort our hearts and help us. As we join together in the business of this day, might we be understanding, might we be caring, might we be diligent in all we do. I pray this in Your name, Amen.”

Rep. Rutledge moved that Reps. Nathan, Lane and Phelps be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Motions and Resolutions

The Speaker, on behalf of the entire membership of the House of Representatives, offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 290.

A resolution of tribute offered as a memorial for Judy Nerat, former member of the House of Representatives.

Whereas, The members of the House of Representatives were deeply saddened to learn of the passing of our former colleague, Judy Nerat. Firm in her beliefs and a tenacious fighter for them, she will be remembered and missed by the former and current members of this legislative body for her passion, honesty, and integrity; and

Whereas, Judy Nerat, a lifelong resident of the Upper Peninsula, enjoyed a long and successful career as a private business owner and public servant. A graduate of Stephenson High School in Menominee County and the Milwaukee College of Beauty Culture, she owned and operated her own beauty salon for over 34 years, while raising her family. She began her public service in elective office in 1999, serving on the Menominee County Road Commission for the next 10 years. Her leadership as a commissioner was recognized by her peers with her appointment to the County Road Association of Michigan’s Commissioners’ Committee—including time as the committee’s chair—and her election as a board member to the County Road Association Self-Insurance Fund. Dedicated to helping people, she also was certified as a nursing assistant and worked part-time at a nursing home during this time. In 2008, she was elected to the House of Representatives for the 108th District comprising Delta, Dickinson, and Menominee counties; and

Whereas, The first female Democrat from the Upper Peninsula to serve in the House of Representatives, Judy Nerat was a strong and caring advocate for Yoopers and the issues important to them. Despite her health challenges, she worked to protect and promote access to Michigan’s natural resources, to support small businesses, to encourage economic development, and to meet the state’s transportation needs. To the very end, she refused to allow her health to stop her from fighting for what she thought was right; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we offer this expression of our highest tribute to honor the memory of Judy Nerat, a member of this legislative body from 2009 to 2010; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Nerat family as evidence of our lasting esteem for her memory.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted by unanimous standing vote.

Reps. Oakes, Durhal, Schor, Brunner, Santana, Haines, Lauwers, Daley, Kurtz, Rendon, Talabi, McCann, Tlaib, Barnett, Brown, Hovey-Wright and Singh offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 291.

A resolution to urge the President and Congress of the United States to take a comprehensive, sustainable, and workable approach to improving our nation’s immigration system in an effort to better serve the unique needs of our local and state economies.

Whereas, Agriculture is Michigan’s second leading industry, contributing approximately $15.5 billion annually to the state’s economy and is responsible for having created more than one in five Michigan jobs. Thanks to a unique combination of natural resources and climate, Michigan is blessed with the second-most diverse agriculture industry in the United States, which produces over 300 different agricultural commodities, including traditional field crops, livestock, and fresh fruits and vegetables; and

Whereas, The diversity of Michigan agriculture is not easy to maintain. It comes at a cost and poses challenges as unique and unpredictable as our weather. Attempts to mechanize our state's agriculture industry have not replaced the need for hand labor. Machinery and technology only work with certain commodities. Asparagus, apples, berries, and other fruits and vegetables are high-maintenance, labor-intensive commodities, destined for fresh-market sale at farmers' markets and grocery store produce departments; and

Whereas, Thousands of Michigan farmers rely on highly skilled seasonal workers to handpick those fruits and vegetables to preserve its quality and integrity, making these workers an invaluable resource and treasured asset to our state. Without these seasonal workers, many of our farmers cannot get their produce to market; and

Whereas, The agriculture workforce is increasingly threatened by national immigration policy that fails to meet the needs of Michigan's agricultural industry. The United States Department of Labor's H-2A visa program is currently the only means by which farmers can hire foreign seasonal workers and is intended to help the agriculture industry meet the demand for legal seasonal workers. However, eligible farms have found the H-2A visa program to be complicated, expensive, and unresponsive to their annual time-sensitive needs. For instance, it is currently estimated that less than 250 of Michigan's seasonal workers are hired through the H-2A visa program; and

Whereas, Agriculture operates under unpredictable conditions, farmers are at Mother Nature's mercy and do their best to predict her random, ever-changing plans here in Michigan. This is particularly true for fruits and vegetables because ideal harvest opportunities can't be identified ahead of time. That's why the average three-week timeline involved in hiring workers through H-2A process makes it practically impossible to utilize; and

Whereas, In the 2012 growing season Mother Nature dealt most of our orchards and vineyards a devastating one-two punch, laying waste to some of our most treasured commodities, including, cherries, juice grapes, apples, peaches, and most other tree fruit. With few if any crops to tend, tens of thousands of seasonal workers who normally spend much of their year here in Michigan were forced to seek greener pastures elsewhere; and

Whereas, The 2013 growing season was back to normal, with trees, vines and bushes laden with ripe fruit. However, we didn't have the seasonal workforce required to harvest these precious commodities. Last spring, many of our asparagus growers had no choice but to forego several potential pickings, mowing down entire fields of perfectly ripened stalks because they didn't have the workforce to handpick them. Some growers in southeastern Michigan reported 30 percent fewer field workers on hand than usual, meaning less locally raised produce for consumers in the most densely populated corner of our state; and

Whereas, There are profound long-term implications for Michigan's agriculture industry if immigration reform continues to be neglected, leaving the availability of qualified seasonal workers in jeopardy. Without predictable access to the needed workforce, farmers may transition to less labor-intensive commodities; and

Whereas, Agriculture workforce shortages and higher wage levels make producing labor-intensive commodities, including many fruits and vegetables, less appealing to farmers. Labor shortages threaten the stability of our state and nation's locally sourced food and produce supply; and

Whereas, While the west coast of Michigan's Lower Peninsula is ideally and uniquely suited to grow fruit and vegetables, we could reasonably see these orchards and vineyards convert to corn and soybean production due to labor shortages. This would be a sad day for our beloved state. Our agricultural diversity is one of the things that makes Michigan a truly unique and special state; and

Whereas, Broadening and streamlining opportunities for farmers to hire skilled seasonal workers and provide them means for earning American citizenship would boost Michigan's economy by hundreds of millions of dollars, increasing our municipal tax revenue, and create thousands of new good paying jobs in the process. For instance, the average farm wage is approximately $12.20 an hour, almost $5 above the current minimum wage in Michigan; and

Whereas, Comprehensive immigration reform is crucial in Michigan's effort to maintain the prosperity of our state's second-largest industry. An industry that brings unique qualities and resources to make Michigan a wonderful place to call home; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the President and Congress of the United States to take a comprehensive, sustainable, and workable approach to improving our nation's immigration system in an effort to better serve the unique needs of our state economies; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Third Reading of Bills

House Bill No. 4003, entitled

A bill to amend 1941 PA 122, entitled “An act to establish the revenue collection duties of the department of treasury; to prescribe its powers and duties as the revenue collection agency of this state; to prescribe certain powers and duties of the state treasurer; to establish the collection duties of certain other state departments for money or accounts owed to this state; to regulate the importation, stamping, and disposition of certain tobacco products; to provide for the transfer of powers and duties now vested in certain other state boards, commissions, departments, and offices; to prescribe certain duties of and require certain reports from the department of treasury; to provide procedures for the payment, administration, audit, assessment, levy of interests or penalties on, and appeals of taxes and tax liability; to prescribe its powers and duties if an agreement to act as agent for a city to administer, collect, and enforce the city income tax act on behalf of a city is entered into with any city; to provide an appropriation; to abolish the state board of tax administration; to prescribe penalties and provide remedies; and to declare the effect of this act,” by amending section 28 (MCL 205.28), as amended by 2010 PA 313, and by adding section 23a.
