Senate Bill No. 865, entitled

A bill to provide for the removal of a local government from receivership; to provide for a receivership transition advisory board; and to prescribe the powers and duties of the governor, other state departments and officials, and officials and employees of units of local government, including school districts.

Rep. Stamas moved that the bill be referred to the Committee on Local, Intergovernmental, and Regional Affairs.
The motion prevailed.

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Knollenberg, Heise and Hooker offered the following concurrent resolution:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 68.

A concurrent resolution to urge the Congress of the United States to adopt stricter economic sanctions against Iran.

Whereas, Iran continues to pursue the development of nuclear weapons. Iran’s nuclear program threatens to destabilize the Middle East and its energy supplies vital to the United States and the rest of the world. Iran has failed to demonstrate that its nuclear program is strictly limited to civilian uses; and

Whereas, The U.S. Congress recently passed stronger economic sanctions to compel Iran to abandon its pursuit of nuclear weapons. The new sanctions close avenues used to evade past sanctions and further restrict Iran’s ability to generate revenue for its nuclear program. The sanctions will punish banks, insurance companies, and shippers that enable Iran to continue to sell its oil; and

Whereas, The new sanctions do not go far enough. Iran has demonstrated with past sanctions that it will do everything it can to circumvent them. Only the strictest economic sanctions preventing business with Iran will make Iran end its nuclear weapons program; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That we urge the Congress of the United States to adopt stricter economic sanctions against Iran; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Committee on Banking and Financial Services.

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Stamas moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Olson:

“Thank you Mr. Speaker, and thank you Mr. Speaker Bolger, fellow members and guests.

First, thanks to the voters of the old District 55 for allowing me this honor and privilege of serving as your representative these past two years.

Thanks are owed to many people around here who serve, but I will mention just a very few.

Thank you Dave Szewczyk and Lindsey Case, my first two legislative aides, who helped me land on my feet here in Lansing. I have had quite a bit of turnover in these positions as I assisted each new legislative aide in turn find more stable and financially rewarding positions after I was redistricted out of the legislature, but our office team was our most effective and fun with these two. Incidentally, I now have my two most recent hires that have not yet secured employment after the first of the year that are worthy, and I would appreciate your support in helping them find positions.

I need to thank Transportation Committee Chairman Paul Opsommer for essentially telling Roy Schmidt and me to ‘go find out for yourself’ when I showed my skepticism when told in committee the state needed $3 billion more transportation funding per year. That opened up an opportunity for me to explore an major issue which has been studied and studied, talked about and talked about, and solutions evaded time and time again - and which this legislature has dutifully followed that historic pattern.

I would also be remiss if I did not mention Bethany Wicksall in the House Fiscal Agency for her expertise in guiding us through the discussions on the reform of the Michigan Public School Employee Retirement System. We could not have done it without you. Unfortunately, this reform has also been left incomplete with the deletion of the Current Operating Expenditure solution to the stranded cost problem from the August, 2012 passage of SB 1040. The simple truth is, without this fix, the reforms we passed, as important as they were, will not be sufficient to prevent the MPSERS system from falling apart in 3 - 5 years.

Lastly, I need to thank John Walsh for the sandwich of his I mistakenly ate when it was placed on my desk instead of his. Excellent choice!

The past two years have been remarkable in our House Republican Caucus of 63 and 64 members not having a single blow up or serious personality conflict in two years. With the collection of strong egos in one room, I think this is amazing. Our shared intent to put Michigan back to work, balance the budget without budget tricks or accounting gimmicks and pay down debt to put the State of Michigan on a sound financial footing had a lot to do with that. It also is a tribute to our leader, Speaker Bolger, who always had the right thing to say to us at the right time.

I have appreciated Speaker Bolger’s implementation of our caucus members’ desire that proper decorum be returned to the floor of this House. Minority members deserve and have had the opportunity to introduce amendments and debate issues on the floor, even when we knew those efforts would only be used to make political points. I also appreciate how gracefully Speaker Pro Tem John Walsh and Associate Speaker Pro Tem Paul Opsommer have served to conduct the sessions.

The highlight of these past two years has been the opportunity to get to know many of you and develop the relationships we have - on both sides of the aisle. Thank you.

The greatest disappointment has been the lack of true collaboration across the aisles, with hyper-partisanship all too present.

- Imagine an atmosphere here in the legislature similar to that in many successful private and public entities where open dialogue is allowed to enable the best decisions to be made for those organizations.
- Imagine a warm welcome being given to proposals regardless of their source, such as the bills to reduce the vandalism and sale of scrap materials introduced by Rep. Tlaib or the bill by Rep. Liss to allow nurse practitioners a broader scope of practice to truly make health services more available and less costly.
- Imagine consideration of proposals based on whether they are good for the people of the great State of Michigan, rather than whether they can be used as fodder for the next political campaign.

My challenge to, and my hope for, those of you returning in the next session is to attempt to better reach those aspirations we have just imagined. My hope is also that you would complete the work on MPSERS reform dealing with stranded costs and transportation funding so those efforts to date will not be in vain.

I bid you all a fond farewell.”

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Shaughnessy:

“Thank you Mr. Speaker

As my service to the people of the 71st House District concludes in the next few weeks, no words could ever adequately express my gratitude to them for giving me the distinguished and humbling honor to serve alongside all of you in the Michigan House of Representatives.

The past two years have gone by much too quickly and I will forever cherish the time I’ve had with you. I remember when this freshman class first met for orientation right after being elected. We were all giddy with excitement about our victorious elections and looking forward to taking office in January. We didn’t necessarily know who was a Democrat or who was a Republican – and at that point, we didn’t care. We were just ready to get to work on behalf of our constituents.

And get to work we did!

This Legislature, under the leadership of Speaker Bolger, Senate Majority Leader Richardville, and Governor Snyder, has made historic and monumental reforms to state government that will benefit the citizens of Michigan for years to come. We have made Michigan a state that will be vibrant and sustainable for our children and grandchildren.

I am so grateful to be able to look back and say the votes I cast were not about protecting my job, but about restoring Michigan to greatness once again. I would not trade what we have done in the past two years for returning for four more years – only to muddle along and continue on a path that didn’t address Michigan’s long-term financial instability. We chose not to bury our heads in the sand, and I am extremely proud of this body for serving so unselfishly by addressing the tough issues.

My fellow colleagues, we all know that any success we have as representatives would not be possible without all of the work our staff and other people do on our behalf. As a former staffer myself, I know the time and effort they put in and I want to thank them for their service. From the clerk’s office to human resources, financial operations, building maintenance as well as our policy and constituent relations folks, they all contribute to making our jobs easier and I thank you.

And let’s not forget those communications and media folks, who are always pushing us to get in front of the camera or speak to a reporter - always reminding us to SMILE! You guys have made us move out of our comfort zone, and I thank you for that!

Thank you also, to our Sergeant-at-Arms team for keeping us safe and making sure that when tempers fly in this chamber, we maintain decorum and respect for one another and this institution.

I have had some wonderful professionals working in my office these past two years and I cannot leave here without recognizing all of them. I began my term with Brad Wever and Matt Sowash, and will conclude this term having worked with Molly Zolman, Caroline Liethen, and Matt Wesolek. Thank you so much for all of your efforts to assist me in serving the people of Eaton County.

Finally, there are some very special people in my life who were by my side before I came to Lansing, and who will be there when I leave – and that is my loving family - my husband, Steve, and my children, Matthew and Christa Schueller.

They have supported me every step of the way in my desire to make a difference in Michigan and I will be forever grateful for their love, patience and sacrifice. As legislators, we all know that when we are criticized and scrutinized, often times our family members take it the hardest and feel helpless because they want to protect us and we ask them to hold their tongues! In a way, they are drafted into public service when we make the decision to run for office. I thank my family for putting up with my many years of public service - as a city councilor, a mayor, and as a state representative. I love you all very much. Matt, my heart is so full to have you back in Michigan with your wife, Monica, and our granddaughter, Mackenzie Rose.

In closing, I want to encourage my colleagues who are returning to this legislative body next year to hold on to the principles and values you came to the Capitol with. The remainder of your time here is brief compared to the rest of your life. And when you leave here, the most important thing you take with you is your honor and integrity.

Don't let the pressures you face extinguish the passion and love you have for serving those who elected you. If I have any regrets during the past two years; it is that I didn't take enough time to reflect on the many blessings that come with the privilege to serve in this capacity.

Although we don't all see eye-to-eye on policy matters, I believe every one of you loves your community and this state as much as I do and I wish you well. I am confident you will continue to serve the people of Michigan by making decisions that are in the best interest of our children and grandchildren.

My prayer is that God will grant all of you wisdom and strength and many blessings to you and your families.

Today I do not say 'good-bye' or 'farewell', but 'I'll see you around and Go Blue!'

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Rep. Stapleton:

"I thank you for allowing me to say a few words. Representatives Howze, Horn, LeBlanc... I will say a few words! This time honored tradition of representatives speaking to colleagues on their departure, is special and while you work with people for two years you get to hear things about them that you didn't know. Tradition in this institution is important and very special and a part of what makes this institution continue long after we are gone. I have only been here for two years; I knew from the very first days that the tradition of this institution was important.

On the first day that I arrived, I came into the office and everything I needed to set up an office was there. I called for computer assistance, I called the legislative service bureau about drafting, and yes...I am a policy wonk.... I called Sherry Haueter about office supplies and newspapers and I called the House Business Office for questions about staffing. All were there in an INSTANT. On the second day, the same thing occurred. Person after person they were there in an instant. So on the third day the routine started again, I said to one of the staff 'thank you so much... you guys are so responsive, I won't keep bothering you...'

And one of the staff said something that has stayed with me every day that I walk into this building. She said, 'Representative it's not a bother at all. What we do here is for the institution, many of us have worked here for our entire lives. It is really not about the individual Representatives or you that occupy these offices. It's about the position you hold, it's about the office, and it's about the institution. And we love it.'

Lesson One; it really isn't about any of us. It's about this institution. If we legislate in that manor, lead caucuses in that manner, nurture new Representatives who come to this institution in that tradition and with that humility greater things can happen on behalf of the citizens in our great state.

So Lesson One, it's not about you or me!

Lesson Two is you can't do this alone...

Our favorite MIRS reporter Kyle Melinn, called me weeks after I got elected. They do stories on incoming reps. I happen to be in Lansing so I sat down with him. I said something that was absolutely wrong and I laughed at it recently when I read it again. I said I am an unapologetic policy wonk; I don't need to go to dinner or lunch, just meet me for coffee and let's talk. My thought at the time is that I didn't need to do the 'intentional' relationship stuff, good policy would prevail. Well, I soon learned that I was dead wrong. I get now that while dinners and lunches are really not necessary, maybe nice but not necessary, there is very little time in this process to get to know people except through social interaction and relationships building. Lesson Two Relationships matter because you can't do this alone.

A good example of this, I will leave the names off of the story. At some point this year, I had a bill for which I wanted bi-partisan support. I can't remember which one but I can tell you it was one very important bill to the city I love. I walked up to one of my Republican Colleagues on a busy, busy day and said I need you to sponsor this; it's a bill to do X. They looked at me in the eye and then said, 'I trust you.' They signed it and moved on. My relationship with that person made a difference which led to a level of trust.

This leads me to lesson three. This process is for many and should be for more about building trust.

If you don't trust your leadership and your leadership don't trust you. If you don't trust your committee chairs and vice chairs and they don't trust you, if you don't trust your staff and they don't trust you, if you don't trust the institution of lobbying and therefore lobbyists, they won't trust you either. And from that lack of trust comes a host of things that are not good for the people who occupy these chairs on behalf of their citizens.

It's a about trust people! I have people from every major lobby firm say to me, you know what we like about you? You are a person of your word, if you are going to do something, you do it and if you say you can't support something you are upfront. When you change your mind after researching an issue, you tell us. You are always on time, always responsive, always ready to work to understand an issue.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my parents for teaching me this lesson and thank those who have recognized it.

Lesson Four

This is not a game but it is definitely theater. I swear, some days I have popped popcorn and watched the jockeying, posturing, antics and the movements on the floor and have giggled to myself. This is better than a movie! After I won, I came up to Lansing several days in the fall to watch the process from the balcony. It looked chaotic and looked unorganized. Folks... for the untrained eye, we look absolutely crazy! From movements to partisan rhetoric intended to sting and rhetoric intended for people to notice this is the best theater in the world! I am so grateful to be one of the ones that looked and sounded crazy.

While having said that, I never ever thought of the process of legislating as a game. I wonder if others can say the same. The one-ups-man-ship, the polarizing legislation, the intra and inter caucus debates.

Our friend Representative Lindberg gets Maureen's Truth award for the 96th legislature. Doesn't matter who controls the gavel both sides are equally guilty. I ask myself everyday is this really what we need to be doing and unfortunately, I have answered NO too many times. I hope and pray that the gamesmanship leaves this place because people deserve better!

Lesson Five

It's about purple people... Not the darkest shade of blue and not carmine... the deepest shade of Red. In 2010 a seismic shift occurred in our government and who controls it. Partially out of fear because of our economy. Partially because of job loss, partially because those in control weren't getting what the people wanted done and partially because quite frankly those in this chamber on this side of the aisle didn't make their case well.

The balance of power swung and here is what I think people are saying... We really don't like red and we don't like blue but there is some shade of purple we can live with...not Lavender, Royal....but purple. When you combine red and blue you get closer to what people want. The people of this state didn't get purple and as a result, laws have been overturned by the people, some of us lost our elections and the people in the middle, the average and everyday Michiganian's have gotten the shaft again. Lindy is right... both sides do the same thing, but those of you who return to this chamber for the 97th Legislature can change it if you want to. 63 of us were new this term; we could have done it too.

Lesson Five

Staff and folks in this institution ROCK!

From Chief Sgt Dixon and Crew, to Clerk Brown and Clerk Randall, to Alice Mansfield to the IT folks... Tonah, Leanne and Kathy you won't have to hear from me for a while...

To Tim Bowlin and the awesome House Business Office staff to Sherry, Jon, Naye and their whole team over in the HOB.

To Steve Menovich and all the good folks at LSB.

To Steve and company in Capital Tours and Steve and Matt at Capitol Facilities. ABSOLUTELY ROCK and you are absolutely awesome.

Final Lesson

I have been truly blessed. I have many friends and supporters who got me here and folks that have had my back since I got here.

To my friends in Detroit Fran Parker, Darci McConnell, Anisa Ward, John Roach

My family Aunt Louise who listens to me moan daily, to my brother Jim, to my cousin Gary Gilyard, who called me this morning to say it is ok to cry during this speech.

Former staffer that I text weekly Marvin Yates

To my seatmate Rudy Hobbs, I am totally looking forward to you rocking the Floor Leader role. I am a junkie, so trust I will be watching. I am sure that you will to a great great job.

To my unlikely friend Marilyn Lane. I woke up one day and realized that while I did not come here with the intentions to make friends. You and I, the unlikely pair have become friends. The late evening conversations in the lounge made us the dynamic duo.

To my sister and friend Alberta Tinsley Talabi... We finally got to work together, I thank you for your support over the years and for accepting me as the other Tinsley sister.

To my chairs Ken Kurtz, Frank Foster and Mark Ouimet thank you. I was not always pleased with the way things turned out but you did what you had to do and I respect you for it. Vice Chair Diane Slavens thank you, Vice Chair Woodrow Stanley thanks for your leadership and your friendship. We started this journey in January 2011, handling most undemocratic bill we have seen this term. I am glad the people spoke. Wood, you are a true leader and statesmen and I am glad to have you on speed dial. To Vice Chair Harold Haugh lord knows I needed you to translate half the issues in Natural Resources, but you have worked in a bipartisan manner that is good for everybody.

Finally, to the most knowledgeable and most connected staffer in Lansing Kris Young. Those close to me have heard me say, it's a mars Venus thing. I swear on some days that Kris is so classic mars and me classic Venus it is unbelievable. I am old enough to be his mom or at least his big sister but Kris, you have shown loyalty and friendship like none other. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the sacrifices you have made for me.

So I hope that you will remember my lessons. It's been a blast telling them to you.

May the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back and until we meet again (and I guarantee you we will) may god keep you in the palm of his hand. God bless this institution, god bless the city that sent me here and god bless the great state of Michigan."

Rep. LeBlanc:

"Thank you.

I'll begin with a huge thank you to the people who allowed me to have the privilege of serving 3 terms in the House: residents and voters within the 18th District, the City of Westland. I'm deeply indebted to them.

The 18th is the only district in the entire state that is one community, one community only, no one shares it, and only one person represents it.

Unlike many of you who have a few cities, a couple of counties, or hundreds of square miles of towns to represent, I've had 21 square miles, one mayor, one city council, and even more importantly – only one parade to attend. I've been very fortunate, indeed.

So, the City of Westland, my hometown of 53 years, the community that I love and that has elected me eight times, has been an absolute joy to represent.

At this time, because I do not wish to forget later, I'd like to talk about my family for a moment.

My family is very conservative. My Mom, Dad, aunts, uncles, siblings, children, everyone, considers themselves a Republican except my wife...

Oh, and me too!

My family has helped me in everything I do. So, I say thank you to my wife of 33 years, Cheryl, our sons Rick and Jeff and their families, my parents, sisters, in-laws, and everyone else. They've always supported my goals and I love each of them.

Senator Anderson was my predecessor. We served together on the city council until I pressured him to run for state rep in the year 2000.

When he termed out of the House in 2006, he turned the tables on me and insisted I run. We've worked together in elective positions for over two decades and it has worked out.

My first year was 2007. I remember hearing 3rd termers say in 2007, 'It'll be a brief 6 years. You'll see each other 100 days or so out of the year, and you'll make Lifetime Friends during your service.'

It's true.

The budget that year was 'initiation by fire.' As tough as it was, it also solidified friendships on both sides of the aisle in an odd sort of way.

The Euchre Caucus and Cottage Caucus were born during that time, and I'm taking credit for their birth within our Democratic Caucus during that Session.

The card games in the late Morris Hood Sr's office on the 3rd floor were legendary. What happens in Vegas – I mean the 3rd floor – stays on the 3rd floor.

A handful of us have also shared time at each others cottages, and though all legislators were invited and most were unable to attend, my hope is that someone will assume leadership over the Cottage Caucus. Our overnight events have been a lot of fun.

Speaking of sleepovers, we had a few of those in 2007, too. I'll simply say I never expected to spend so much time with colleagues, and that when Rep Constan referenced last week the first Legislative Session in Michigan consisted of a total of 13 days, I remember we had a weekend about that long during 2007.

I saw things during the lock-in that are forever etched in my memory...Ouch. Speaker Dillon, Speaker Bolger and Leader Hammel have each been generous and kind to me and I appreciate what they've allowed me to do regarding Committee assignments.

Chairing the Michigan State Police and the Military & Veteran Affairs Committees was an honor, and I thank Speaker Dillon for appointing me for four years.

During my service, MSP Colonels, Munoz, Washington and Etue have led the finest police organization in the country, and it was a pleasure to have worked with them - and the Michigan State Police Troopers Association - as department changes were implemented.

Within the Military & Veteran Affairs Committee, Adjutant Generals Cutler and Vadnais, and Brigadier General Fausone, worked tirelessly for both active and retired members of the military. My hat is especially off to those veterans who continue to visit the Capitol during each Session day to advocate for their fellow veterans. Like Rep Hughes mentioned last week, I wish we did more as a state for them.

Staff is the first impression callers and visitors get when they contact our office. Mine have each done a wonderful job, and I thank them all dearly for their service to my office.

Though benefits of legislative staff positions are good, we're limited regarding the pay we can offer. Therefore, some folks seek greener pastures, and I haven't discouraged it.

Jamie & Nick started with me. Jamie left to become a stay at home mom, and Nick went to work for one of the local lobby interests. Sal and Kevin worked in the office for shorter amounts of time and each left to pursue other positions. Michelle, Meredith, and Ryan worked part-time at points during the last 6 years and each went on to secure full-time employment in and around Lansing.

Ian, and Liz work for me today and I can say with certainty the office functions flawlessly. They're the best. Things could not be better, and I'm very pleased that my successor will be keeping them in place. He's lucky, and so are the people who will contact his office.

As for Non-Partisan Committee Staff – While a chair or member of committees, I worked with several knowledgeable people, but more extensively with Jon Wisniewski and Robin Risco. Both did a great job, and I appreciate everything they did for me during our time together.

During the past two years as Minority Vice Chair for Appropriations, I've worked with Maureen Watson-Bolger, Mark Sologar, and other policy staff. House Democrats are fortunate to have dedicated people who work for peanuts compared to those with similar responsibilities in private sector positions.

To the Clerk and Clerk staff, the Sergeants who look after us and other members of the public, the Legislative Service Bureau, and everyone else who makes these wheels spin, thank you.

Folks within the Press Box have been fair, and we all appreciate that.

Lobbyist, is not a four-letter word, and I believe we benefit from their wisdom and advocacy. And when you think about it, each of us legislators are lobbyists for the things we want and for the people we serve.

Heck, I figured that's why I was elected; to lobby on behalf of those who sent me here.

Thank you to each of those in the Lobby who have assisted me throughout the past 6 years.

Being elected since 1992, I've never missed a vote, and a combination of luck and attention is responsible for that. And while in the majority, it's easier.

While in minority, however, we rely on consideration.

To Speaker Bolger, Speaker Pro-Tem Walsh and Floor Leader Stamas – thank you. Your consideration regarding the ability of elected Representatives to speak, to participate in the process, and to not miss a vote, has been better during the past two years than it ever was during the preceding four. While not critical of your predecessors, your extraordinary effort has not gone unnoticed.

Chairman Moss and the chairs of my other committees do a good job, too.

Co-Chairing the House Breakfast Group has been an honor. I have perfect attendance in those monthly events too, and it's been a rare privilege to get to know better – and in a different way – colleagues from both chambers.

As I wind down toward the end I'll offer a few notable items:

I've enjoyed almost every single minute of this service, and there's been 3.2 million of them since my service began.

Of the 308 weeks thus far that I've been a Representative, I've been in the office 307 of them. Whether we have Session or not, like others, I've been here.

I once drove back and forth from my residence to this Capitol three times in one day. Yes, it was during the 2007 Budget, and it was the same Saturday I had planned a surprise birthday party for my wife, Cheryl.

I'll never forget saying 'Surprise' with everyone at her party during my third trip, then heading back to the Capitol for the final time that day. I think we voted about two days later.

My round-trip commute from my residence to this Capitol is 162 miles. When the Session days are added to the non-session days that I've been in my office, I've put 130,896 miles on my vehicles to get here.

That pales in comparison to the miles I've driven for Representative-related activities and functions, and more importantly, it's probably nothing compared to the mileage of my Yooper friends.

I've stayed overnight in Lansing a total of four days, and two of those were when we locked in together in 2007.

When I'm back home, I brag about commuting each workday. I believe they appreciate it.

I've never taken a tour of this building. There's thousands of 6th graders who know a lot more about the Capitol building than I do.

I've been escorted through the secret passageway to the Governor's Capitol office only once. It was in 2008, and when I didn't agree to the ask, less than three minutes later I was escorted OUT of the Governor's office through the same secret passageway.

That may be a record.

I received 'Quote of the Day' once. I liked it.

While writing these comments I reflected on my wonderful seat mates, my fellow 3rd termers, and also on the colleagues we've had that have died.

Immediately following their service, colleagues Aldo Vagnozzi and Kate Ebli passed away.

During our tenure, Representatives Robert Jones and Mike Simpson, my friends, colleagues, and members of my class, also passed away.

Each of these folks were great legislators for their communities.

Term limits are lousy. But I remind myself that without Term Limits, I would have never been here. So, I've moderated my views regarding them.

A colleague once said to me, 'I think everyone should experience being in both the minority and the majority.' I agree.

There's no doubt the majority is better, but I like to think my inclusiveness and transparency while a chair for four years paid dividends when power shifted.

I was taught to always remember that things won't always be like they are today. When I was young, my parents encouraged me to be a bridge builder, figuratively. I hope my service has reflected that.

I wish the very best to Leader-Elect Greimel and Speaker Bolger during the next term, but I'll offer no advice to those who will stay after I'm gone.

I mean, really! If I couldn't get it done in 6 years, who am I to make demands after I leave?

Like the constituents who voted for you, I trust that you'll make decisions on their behalf that represent a majority viewpoint. Even though there's occasional disagreement here, we are a diverse state and its elected officials represent that diversity.

With that in mind, I say to some of my Democratic colleagues, I'm sorry I couldn't have been more of a good Democrat.

And I say to some of my Republican colleagues, I'm sorry that I was so much of a good Democrat.

It's my belief that being in the political middle is good. In the end, I'm 100% confident my votes and my actions were overwhelmingly reflective of the community I represented, and that's why I made decisions the way I did.

In closing, as I leave these chambers in a month, I wish to say it has been a pleasure, a tremendous opportunity, and everything I expected and more.

To serve in this capacity in this historical building was absolutely fabulous.

So, since I'm done, I hope everyone will make their way back to the Thatcher Room to enjoy a slice of my:

'Darn it, I Can't Run For Re-election,' Cake!

18th District Staff, as always, is waiting to assist you!

Thank you!"
