Reverend Pam Beedle-Gee of First United Methodist Church of Garden City offered the following invocation:

O God, as the first faint glow of morning creeps across our state, we awaken to the possibilities of renewal that appear fresh each day. Like morning dew on the boughs of wheat and grass, You have bound us together in life in ways that we may not realize. Give us grace to understand how our lives depend on the industry, the honesty, and integrity of those we work with and those we serve. May we be mindful of their needs, grateful for their dedication in our shared endeavors, and faithful in our responsibilities to them.

Fill us with the wisdom, strength, and courage to follow the path You have set before us. That will make our communities and our neighborhoods, our cities and our towns, our townships, our counties, and our state a place of new growth and healthy living; a place of creative and exciting new beginnings.

Lead us. Inspire us. Bless us and the work that is set before us. Amen.

Statements

Senators Colbeck, Pappageorge and Young asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Colbeck’s statement is as follows:

As of yesterday at 2:40 p.m., Senator Ted Cruz launched a marathon speech on why his fellow Senators should defund Obamacare. When I left home at 5:30 a.m. this morning, he was still going strong. As of my last check, he is still going strong. What motivates him? I’ll tell you what motivates him. If you listen to what he is actually saying, he wants to give We the People a voice, and specifically, he wants to give them a voice when it comes to Obamacare. Fifty-three percent of our country opposes Obamacare; only 42 percent support it. We the People are overwhelmingly opposed to this legislation, yet it is going on—October 1st open enrollment starts.

Now the stated objectives of Obamacare were to lower health care costs for everyone, to expand coverage, to improve the quality of care, and protect consumer choice. The results are a little bit different. Right now, premiums are forecast to increase over $7,500 for a family of four. Jobs are being cut, hours are being cut, and the quality of care is being cut, as Medicare is being rationed to go off and pay for this monstrosity.

When I’m talking to people in the district, people who would otherwise hire people, it’s obvious that Obamacare is the No. 1 impediment to businesses hiring people for work. My fellow Senators, it’s time to stop rolling over and start rolling up our sleeves. We need to promote free-market solutions to health care that really do work and serve our citizens.

Senator Pappageorge’s statement is as follows:

I missed all three sessions last week, due to the fact that my wife had to have some serious back surgery. She’s doing fine now. I would like for the record to indicate how I would have voted, had I been here. I would have voted “yes” on the following bills: Senate Bill Nos. 237, 347, 315, 50, 257, 357, House Bill No. 4299, Senate Bill No. 409, House Bill No. 4525, and Senate Bill Nos. 276, 489, 490, and 126.

Senator Young’s statement is as follows:

Madam President, I would like to respond to some of the comments that my colleague from the 7th District said. First of all, let me start with a quote: “Health care is a public good.” President Clinton said that, and I totally agree with that statement. He was saying some things about how the Affordable Care Act is unpopular, or as he calls it, Obamacare. If you look at the individual provisions of that law, it’s very popular. I hear a lot of complaints about how it’s unpopular and what it’s doing, but I don’t hear a lot of actual solutions as to what we’re going to do to fix the challenges of health care costs. The No. 1 leading cause for bankruptcies in this country is medical costs. The Affordable Care Act, as implemented, is reducing costs. In New York, costs have gone down by 50 percent; in California, 33 percent. In the President’s home state of Illinois, 25 percent reduction. These are real actual reductions.

I am hearing this conversation about socialized medicine and takeover of our health care system. If you believe that, then let’s go build a bunker and go get in it, and prepare for the Sharknado to come, because you have a better chance of getting caught up in one of those than you do of this bill being an attack or leading this country toward socialized medicine. The fact of the matter is that in a time when people are literally going bankrupt because they are getting sick; when people who have diseases such as cancer and other health ailments; when you even have folks who because they are women who are being rejected from coverage, the Affordable Care Act stops that. Isn’t that what we’re supposed to have in a society is access to health care? Isn’t that what we want to be? What’s the alternative to that? I don’t see one; I haven’t heard one.

James Madison said that justice is the end of government. I think that for this country, the wealthiest country in the world, to not have a plan that makes sure that everyone is covered; that 30 million Americans will be able to have access to coverage; that is not just; that is not right.

I just want to say that I fundamentally disagree with the Senator from the 7th District on this issue. I think constitutionally this has already been deemed as legal. There is all kind of legal precedent, whether you go to Gibbons v. Ogden in 1824, which basically said the federal government had the ability to be able to regulate commerce; whether you go to Wickard v. Filburn, which talked about the consumption of wheat on a local farm, the federal government getting involved in the consumption of wheat. There is nothing more local and more precious than our farmers, and there was legal precedent for that.

You can go to Stafford v. Wallace, where you had the federal government getting involved in regulating wages for shipyard workers. There are all kinds of legal precedent, constitutionally, which allows for us to have the Affordable Care Act.

I think it's time for us to stop fighting this law. It's the law of the land, and we need to start figuring out ways of how we are going to provide more health care for more Americans who need it and more Michigianians who deserve it.
