Father John Riccardo of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church of Plymouth offered the following invocation:

This is from 1 Kings, it's King Solomon's prayer as he is given the care of the people of Israel: "And now, O Lord my God, You have made Your servant King in place of David my Father, although I am but a little child; I do not know how to go out or come in. And Your servant in the midst of Your people whom You have chosen, a great multitude that cannot be numbered or counted. So give Your servant therefore an understanding mind to govern Your people, that I may discern between good and evil; for who is able to govern this great people of Yours?"

So, Lord God, Ruler and Builder of all that is seen and unseen, what we all are in reality is children. You, alone, are all wise, all knowing, all good, and all loving. In every age, O Lord, those who govern need Your gifts, and so, I pray in a special way this morning for these men and women gathered here in assembly. And I ask You, Lord, for two things in particular: First, that You would graciously and generously give to them the gift of wisdom; endow them with Your very spirit to see the good that must be done and the courage to pursue it; conform their minds and their hearts to Your mind and Your heart. Second, merciful Father, I ask that You gently remind them, again and again, that they share in Your own authority; and that authority is not the same thing as power. It's not an instrument to be wielded, but rather a responsibility given to them so that those entrusted to their care might flourish and grow.

Finally, Lord, bless them this day with a sense of Your delight in them. Fill them with Your good pleasure. Let them know that the people they serve are grateful for their having stepped forward to offer themselves in service. Amen.

The Assistant President pro tempore, Senator O'Brien, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

As we go through our careers here, we often don't recognize folks who work behind the scenes and often don't get in front of the camera like we do. One of those employees is here today—his name is Tom Warner. It's a bittersweet day in the Michigan Senate as we say goodbye to Tom who is retiring from his role as the Senate Business Office's Finance and Human Resources Manager after 20 years of service. Tom is here today with his family—Karen, Kelly, Josh, Kayla, Cora, Chris, Tiffany, and Lily—whom he very much looks forward to spending time with in his retirement.

During his time in the Senate, Tom has supervised budgeting, reporting, and payroll and benefits, and has played an important role in the implementation of new software systems that will benefit Senate employees for years to come. Tom has always performed his duties in a diligent manner and has shaped the Finance and Human Resources Department into a highly-efficient and professional area within the Senate. Tom's dedication to the Michigan Senate has allowed offices and employees to thrive, knowing that behind the scenes, all of the functions of the Senate are in very good hands.

We thank Tom for his enduring commitment to the Michigan Senate. We will miss him and we will wish him luck as he departs on his next journey. I'd like members to recognize and thank Tom for his 20 years of service.

A resolution recognizing January 28 - February 3, 2018, as Catholic Schools Week.

Whereas, There are 52,475 students attending 222 Catholic elementary and high schools throughout our great state; and
Whereas, The Constitution of Michigan states that “Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged”; and

Whereas, Catholic school parents pay tuition in addition to supporting public schools through their taxes; and

Whereas, Catholic schools comply with the same health, safety, and general welfare regulations required of public schools; and

Whereas, The viability of Catholic schools should be encouraged so that declines in Catholic school enrollment, which necessitate increases in public expenditures in the School Aid Fund, can be avoided; and

Whereas, Catholic schools instill a broad, values-based education, emphasizing the lifelong development of moral, intellectual, and social values in young people, making them responsible citizens of our state and nation; and

Whereas, Catholic schools educate many students who are non-Catholic, many students who are economically disadvantaged, and that a good education remains the single best way out of poverty; and

Whereas, With their traditionally high academic standards, high graduation rates, and commitment to community service, Catholic schools and their graduates make a positive contribution to society; and

Whereas, January 28 - February 3, 2018, has been designated as Catholic Schools Week, with the theme, “Catholic Schools: Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed.” as denoted by the National Catholic Educational Association and the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops; and

Whereas, The common good of the state of Michigan is strengthened through the continued existence of Catholic schools; and

Whereas, Catholic schools seek to form a supporting partnership with each student’s family, encouraging the involvement of parents in the education of their children, so that Catholic schools are part of a solution to form productive lives for future generations; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body recognize January 28 - February 3, 2018, as Catholic Schools Week. We support the continued dedication of Catholic schools across Michigan toward academic excellence and the key role Catholic schools play in promoting and ensuring a brighter, stronger future for students; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Michigan Catholic Conference with our highest esteem.

Pending the order that, under rule 3.204, the resolution be referred to the Committee on Government Operations,

Senator Kowall moved that the rule be suspended.

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Senator Proos asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Proos’ statement is as follows:

I appreciate the opportunity to take a moment of the body’s time today to speak about Senate Resolution No. 123, and specifically to take a moment to recognize Catholic Schools Week which begins next week.

St. Elizabeth Ann Seton in the Catholic Church began what are today our Catholic schools—our parochial Catholic schools—in the United States of America. As the Senator from the 25th District knows, who had this resolution for the last couple of years, we have over 52,475 students who attend 222 Catholic schools throughout our great state of Michigan. The Constitution of the state of Michigan makes it pretty clear, that, “Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged.” Catholic schools fill much of that particular statement in our Michigan Constitution: religion, morality, and knowledge.

Catholic schools instill a broad, values-based education, emphasizing lifelong development of moral, intellectual, and social values in our young people, making them responsible citizens in our state and in our nation. In fact, Catholic schools educate many students who are not Catholic—they educate many of the students who are economically disadvantaged, and our Catholic schools also educate individuals recognizing that education is, in fact, the single best way for individuals to make their way out of poverty and to be contributing to society. High academic standards, high graduation rates, and a commitment to service to fellow man, our Catholic schools and their graduates make a contribution to society that is like no other.

Help me in supporting the resolution if you would please—Senate Resolution No. 123—to recognize January 28 - February 3, 2018, as Catholic Schools Week with the following statement: “Catholic Schools: Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed.” Catholic schools across Michigan lead toward that academic excellence and play a key role in promoting, preserving, and ensuring a brighter future for our students as well as for our great state of Michigan.

Madam President, I rise in support of Senate Resolution No. 123 and I encourage the body’s support today.
