The Department of Corrections, functioning under Act 232 of 1953, administers Michigan's adult prison, probation, and parole systems. Pursuant to Executive Order No. 1991-12, which abolished the Michigan Corrections Commission, the governor appoints a director to serve as the chief executive officer of the department.

The department has jurisdiction over all adults convicted of felonies who are sentenced to prison. Convicted felons who are not sentenced to prison terms are either sentenced to a county jail term or are supervised in the community through a system called probation. Probation services for felons are provided by the department for the various felony courts in Michigan's counties. As of March 1, 2003, there were approximately 56,257 felony probationers in the state.

Convicted felons who have served a specific amount of time in prison can be, if eligible, placed back into the community through a system called parole. Parole is a period of supervision prior to full release from the state's correctional system. The Parole Board, a separate entity within the Department of Corrections, grants parole and parole revocation, determines conditions and terms of parole placement, and recommends pardons and sentence commutations to the governor. During 2002, the Parole Board ordered 11,740 paroles.

At the present time, Michigan has 42 adult penal facilities and ten corrections camps. The total inmate population, as of March 1, 2003, includes 2,295 females and 48,572 males. In addition to institutional facilities for inmates, community corrections centers and electronic monitoring are being utilized. As of March 1, 2003, the population of community corrections centers and electronic monitoring was 1,115. The department also operates a "boot camp" style program for probationers and prisoners diverted from prison and contracts with a private company for the operation of a prison to house juveniles sentenced as adults.

The following Administrations are headed by Deputy Directors:

Correctional Facilities Administration (CFA) is responsible for the operation of all prisons and camps, including the reception and classification process, and treatment and transfer of prisoners. More than 50,000 inmates are secured in 42 prisons and ten camps.

Prison and camp facilities are broken down into three regions throughout the state. Each region is headed by a Regional Prison Administrator (RPA). Each camp facility operates under the supervision of a neighboring prison facility and under the direction of the warden of that facility. Wardens within each region report to their corresponding RPA.

The Prisoner Classification and Transportation unit is housed within CFA and is responsible for determining the appropriate security classification and placement of prisoners as well as coordinating prisoner transfers.

The department's Education and Programs section is also housed within CFA. The department offers educational programming in the areas of Adult Basic Education, General Education Development, and Special Education. In addition, a variety of vocational programs are available.

Administration and Programs Administration (A&P) is in charge of budget preparation and fiscal control, facilities planning, research and planning, and maintenance of files on inmates. Also within this administration is Michigan State Industries (MSI).

The Bureau of Fiscal Management (BFM), housed within the A&P Administration, is responsible for coordinating the budget development process, financial management, physical plant, and purchasing for the department.

The Bureau of Health Care Services (BHCS) is also housed within the A&P Administration. This bureau is responsible for the promotion and maintenance of physical and mental health and the prevention, identification, and treatment of disease, disability, and injury for all prisoners under the department's jurisdiction. This bureau is also responsible for overseeing the contract with the Department of Community Health (DCH) for the treatment of seriously mentally ill prisoners via the corrections mental health program.

Field Operations Administration (FOA), like CFA, is divided into three regions, each with a Regional Administrator.

The FOA is responsible for more than 55,000 probationers and 15,000 parolees following their release from prison. The FOA also supervises approximately 1,000 prisoners in community corrections centers and on electronic monitoring.

Two major programs designed to divert eligible nonviolent offenders from prison are part of FOA: the Office of Community Corrections provides roughly $29 million to counties to develop and implement local punishment options; and the Special Alternative Incarceration (SAI) Program, or "boot camp" instills discipline, self-esteem, and offender accountability in a structured military-style environment.

The Michigan Parole Board is housed in the FOA and is responsible for parole release decisions after an offender has served his or her minimum sentence. The board also makes recommendations to the Governor on commutation and executive clemency cases.

In addition to these Administrations, the following units also report to the Director:

Executive Bureau, under the direction of the Executive Assistant to the Director, includes the Office of Public Information and Communications, the Bureau of Human Resources, the Legislative Liaison Section, and the Office of Policy and Hearings.

Office of Audit, Internal Affairs and Litigation evaluates the department's internal accounting and administrative control system while the Office of Internal Affairs coordinates with the Michigan State Police the investigation of possible criminal or administrative violations of laws or rules by department employees. The Litigation Division coordinates legal representation for eligible employees named in lawsuits brought against them and/or the department. In addition, this division works closely with the Attorney General's Office on pending litigation brought against the Department. This office also oversees the County Jail Services Unit, which conducts inspections of all county jails on a periodic basis as required by statute.

The Office of Public Information and Communications is responsible for coordinating the Department's contacts with the news media, including the types of information to be released. The office is also responsible for providing information regarding department activities to its employees and the general public.

The Bureau of Human Resources contains the Equal Employment Opportunity Office, the Office of Training and Recruitment, the Office of Personnel Services, and the Personnel Offices for all department offices and facilities.

The State Community Corrections Board, the Correctional Officers' Training Council, and the Parole Board are statutory agencies of the Department of Corrections.

Michigan's State Community Corrections Board advises the Director of Corrections in developing goals, criteria, and guidelines for local governments in establishing community corrections programs and in determining grant guidelines for Comprehensive Corrections Plans. These plans are intended to provide safe, cost-effective alternatives to incarceration. The State Board was created by Act 511 of 1988. Members of the board are appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to 4-year terms. The Director of Corrections is a statutory member of the board.

ALGER MAXIMUM CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: BARBARA BOUCHARD
Industrial Park Drive, P.O. Box 600
Munising, MI 49862
(906) 387-5000

Opened: 1990
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Level: V

General: The Alger Maximum Correctional Facility has a total of six housing units. Five are identical, and the sixth has additional beds. Three housing units are general population and three are used for segregation. Other buildings provide food service, health care, maintenance, storage, and space for administrative offices.

Programming: Prisoner programs include general library, law library, barbering, adult basic education, special education, and GED classes. Prisoners who are not allowed to leave their cells for classes can have in-cell study.

The prison also has substance abuse treatment, psychotherapy, and religious activities.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious and emergency problems are treated via local community providers, the Brooks Medical Center at Marquette Branch Prison, and the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: Double fences, five gun towers, electronic detection systems, razor-ribbon wire, and patrol vehicles make up the perimeter security.

BARAGA MAXIMUM CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: TIM LUOMA
301 Wadaga Road
Baraga, MI 49908
(906) 353-7070

Opened: 1993
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Level: V

General: There are eight housing units at Baraga. One is a 240-bed unit for Level I prisoners. The seven other housing units (three for general population and four for segregation) are inside the secure perimeter and house Level V prisoners. Other buildings house food service, health care, prisoner services, maintenance, warehouse, and administration.

Programming: Prisoner programs include adult basic education, special education, and GED preparation. Prisoners who are not allowed to leave their cells can have in-cell study. Treatment services include counseling, substance abuse services, psychotherapy, and religious activities.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious and emergency problems are treated via local community providers, the Brooks Medical Center at Marquette Branch Prison, and at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: Double chain-link fences, gun towers, an electronic detection system, razor-ribbon wire, and a 24-hour patrol vehicle make up the perimeter security.

CHIPPEWA CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: FABIAN LAVIGNE
4269 West M-80
Kincheloe, MI 49784
(906) 495-2275

Opened: 1989
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Levels: I, III, IV

General: The facility, built on 80 acres, is near the Straits Correctional Facility and is at the corner of Tone and Chennault Roads. It shares several staff positions with the Straits facility, including warden and the warden's staff, business manager, physical plant superintendent, food service director, personnel officer, training staff, school principal, and fire safety inspector.

The facility consists of three Level III housing units with 240 beds each; one Level IV housing unit with 192 beds; a Level I unit with 120 beds; a 184-bed administrative segregation, and a 22-bed detention unit. The facility also includes an administration building, food service unit, and a program/school building.

Programming: Programs include academic and vocational instruction, work assignments, general and law library services, group counseling, substance abuse treatment, horticulture, recreational, and religious programs.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical, dental, and mental health care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies are referred to a local hospital.

Security: The perimeter security includes a buffer fence, double chain-link fences, razor-ribbon wire, electronic detection systems, an armed patrol vehicle, and gun towers.

HIAWATHA CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: LINDA METRISH
4533 W. Industrial Park Drive
Kincheloe, MI 49786-0001
(906) 495-5661

Opened: 1989
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
who are not diagnosed as mentally ill
Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Hiawatha Correctional Facility comprises eight separate housing units contained in 4 buildings. Each unit has 120 beds. The remaining buildings include the administration building, the food service units, and a warehouse.

Programming: Special education, adult basic education, and GED completion are offered. Vocational trade programs are available in institutional maintenance and building trades. The Business and Office Occupations Program includes basic business skills and use of computers. Other programs include substance abuse treatment and religious services. Other activities include law and general libraries and hobbycraft. Many program resources are expanded through participation by community volunteers (local clergy and lay people), which allows more prisoners to participate in programs.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facility includes two perimeter fences, rolls of razor-ribbon wire, an acoustic sensing system, an electronic detection system, and fence-mounted perimeter cameras. A road surrounds the perimeter and a patrol vehicle responds to all detection system alarms.

KINROSS CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: LINDA METRISH
16770 S. Watertower Drive
Kincheloe, MI 49788
(906) 495-2282

Opened: 1978

Age Limit: Males, 17 and older

Security Level: II

General: This Level II security prison has the largest fenced area (113 acres currently enclosed) of any state prison in Michigan.

Programming: The education department has 21 staff. GED preparation is offered to those without a verified high school diploma or GED. Students have the opportunity to do some of their preparation in the computer labs. Career and technical training are available in auto mechanics, automobile body repair, building trades, welding, custodial maintenance, business education technology, and horticulture. Testing for state certification in auto mechanics is offered. Training in employability skills is also available.

Other programs include substance abuse treatment, hobbycraft, a prisoner newspaper, a music program, and a master gardener program. The prison also has chapters of Vietnam Veterans of America and Jaycees, as well as several other prisoner organizations. Religious activities are coordinated through the institutional chaplain.

Psychological services staff are available to provide diagnostic assessment, group and individual psychotherapy, and crisis intervention. Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The perimeter of the Kinross prison is composed of two perimeter chain-link fences, monitored with electronic security devices, and topped with razor-ribbon wire. The perimeter is patrolled by armed personnel.

MARQUETTE BRANCH PRISON

Warden: GERALD HOFBAUER
P.O. Box 779, 1960 U.S. Highway 41
Marquette, MI 49855
(906) 226-6531

Opened: 1889

Age Limit: Males, 21 and older

Security Levels: I, V

General: Marquette Branch Prison was authorized by the Michigan State Legislature in 1885 and was built on the shores of Lake Superior. The land was a gift to the state from the Marquette Businessmen's Association. The prison was completed in 1889 at a cost of less than $200,000. When originally built, the prison was used to house both males and females; however, it has been a prison for males only since the early twentieth century.

The total complex is contained within a 35-acre area, of which approximately 3.5 acres are within the Level V walled section. In addition to the maximum-security section, there are five

Level I units—four housing units just outside the walls, and the Mangum Farm, six miles south of the main prison. Increased prisoner population has caused double bunking of the trusty division.

Overall, the prison can access 1,276 acres of state land. Camp Ottawa is located just north of Iron River and houses 240 prisoners. The camp sends out many public works crews in the western Upper Peninsula. There is also a Michigan State Industries sawmill on the property.

Although more than 100 years old, the greatest changes in the prison have occurred in the last 15 years. Two new Level I dormitories were built in 1979 and 1986. In 1984, the state entered into a consent decree with the federal government, which required extensive remodeling of all housing units. Three of the Level V housing units were rebuilt. The other three Level V housing units received all new plumbing and electrical fixtures, fire exits, and sprinkler systems. Other projects have included remodeling of both Level I and Level V kitchens and the addition of an auditorium.

Programming: Special education, adult basic education, and GED completion are offered. Vocational programs are available in institutional maintenance and building trades. The Business and Office Occupations Program includes basic business skills and use of computers. Other programs include substance abuse treatment and religious services. Other activities include law and general libraries and hobbycraft. Many program resources are expanded through participation by community volunteers (local clergy and lay people), which allows more prisoners to participate in programs.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The Level V perimeter is protected with a 30-foot-high concrete wall, razor-ribbon wire, electronic detection systems, and eight gun towers. Level I is surrounded by a single 10-foot fence.

NEWBERRY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: JERI-ANN SHERRY
3001 Newberry Avenue
Newberry, MI 49868
(906) 293-6200

Opened: 1996
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: II

General: The Newberry Correctional Facility is in Pentland Township, Luce County on M-123 and was formally part of Newberry Regional Mental Health Center.

The facility consists of ten interconnected, 80-bed housing units, a 96-bed housing unit, a 32-bed housing unit, and an adjoining educational building. The facility also contains a separate warehouse, maintenance buildings, a support services building, and an administration building. All housing units are double bunked, except for four cells that are used for temporary segregation.

Programming: Academic programming consists of adult basic education and GED completion. Vocational skills instruction is provided in custodial institutional maintenance. Substance abuse programming includes Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, counseling and religious programming.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The perimeter security includes two 16-foot fences with rolls of razor-ribbon wire, an electronic detection and sensor system, camera monitoring systems, and two perimeter vehicles for constant patrol.

OAKS CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: DAVID GUNDY
P.O. Box 38, 1500 Caberfae Highway
Eastlake, MI 49626-0038
(231) 723-8272

Opened: 1992
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Level: V

General: The Oaks Correctional Facility has four general population housing units, two administrative segregation units (including detention), and a protective segregation unit. The protective segregation unit was double bunked in May 1995 and now houses 192 prisoners.

Programming: The Oaks offers academic programs that include adult basic education, GED completion, and special education. Other activities include religious services and a legal and general library.

Routine health care is provided on site. Serious and emergency health care needs are handled at Westshore Hospital in Manistee as well as the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: There are double fences, electronic detection systems (including monitor cameras), razor-ribbon wire, a 24-hour patrol vehicle with armed personnel, and five gun towers to provide perimeter security.

OJIBWAY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: TERRY SHERMAN
P.O. Box 236
Marenisco, MI 49947
(906) 787-2217

Opened: Originally opened as Camp Ojibway in 1977;
converted to Level II prison and opened in July 2000
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: II

General: The Ojibway Correctional Facility is in Marenisco Township, Gogebic County, on Forest Service Road 8220, near M-64. Ojibway Correctional Facility was formerly Camp Ojibway prior to expansion.

The facility consists of an administration building, a warehouse and store, and buildings for education, meals, training, and housing of inmates. The five housing units can accommodate up to 960 prisoners.

Programming: Ojibway provides adult basic education, GED completion, pre-release, vocational classes, and various treatment regimens.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The perimeter includes two chain-link fences, monitored with electronic security devices and topped with razor-ribbon wire. The perimeter is patrolled by armed personnel.

PUGSLEY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: RAY WOLFE
7401 East Walton Road
Kingsley, MI 49649
(231) 263-5253

Opened: Originally opened as a camp in 1956; converted to a Secure Level I prison and opened in January 2001

Age Limit: Males, 17 and older

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: Pugsley Correctional Facility currently utilizes 180 acres located approximately 25 miles southeast of Traverse City. Within the 180 acres, 23 acres are fenced. The structures are made of a pole-style brick exterior with a plasterboard interior. Throughout the housing units and programs building are painted/sealed floors. Also within the facility is the renovated Camp building which is made of blocks and mortar.

Programming: Academic programming includes GED and several vocational programs.

Routine medical and dental care are provided on site. Serious medical problems are treated at local area hospitals.

Security: Security includes two 15.5-foot-high fences, with the interior fence topped with a single roll of razor wire and the inner side of the exterior fence is covered with several rolls of 3-foot razor wire from top to bottom. Within this secure area is another single fence topped with razor wire which separates the prisoners that meet camp criteria from the Secure Level I prisoners. A patrol road surrounds the perimeter of the facility, and a vehicle responds to all detection systems alarms. A surveillance camera system is located at the sally port and is monitored within the control center. The sally port is operated within the control center for added security of this area.

SAGINAW CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: BLAINE LAFLEUR
9625 Pierce Road
Freeland, MI 48623
(989) 695-9880

Opened: 1993

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: I, II, IV

General: The 43-acre facility in Tittabawassee Township, Saginaw County, was built on a 142-acre site and is comprised of 11 buildings, totaling about 225,590 square feet. The facility includes three Level II buildings, two Level IV buildings, and one Level I building along with buildings for education, programs, administration, food service, health care, and maintenance.

Programming: Academic programming includes special education, GED completion, adult basic education, and vocational education, as well as life-role competency programs. Religious and library (law and general) services are provided by institution staff and community volunteers.

Routine medical care is provided on site. Major emergencies are treated at a local hospital or at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The perimeter of the prison is enclosed by a double, 12-foot fence, topped with razor-ribbon wire. The wire is also installed in the open space between the fences to enhance the barrier. An electronic detection system has been placed on both the inner and outer fences. In 1996, a third fence, with its own electronic detection system, was erected. Security cameras, strategically placed within the prison and around the perimeter, allow 24-hour remote observation and videotaping of prisoner activities. Two gun towers were added in 1997. A perimeter vehicle with armed personnel is on patrol 24 hours a day.

STANDISH MAXIMUM CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: THOMAS BIRKETT
4713 West M-61
Standish, MI 48658
(989) 846-7000

Opened: 1990

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: V

General: Standish Maximum Correctional Facility is comprised of six 88-bed housing units. Three units are for general population; two are for administrative segregation, including detention cells; and one is a protective custody unit. Other buildings on the grounds provide food service, health care, maintenance, programming, and administrative functions. Standish's mission is to safely house difficult, hard-to-manage prisoners and work to transition them to lower custody level facilities.

Programming: Academic programs include adult basic education, GED completion, and special education. In-cell study programs are available to prisoners who are not allowed to leave their cells for security reasons. Treatment services include counseling, substance abuse services, Assaultive Offenders psychotherapy and religious services. Many program resources are expanded through participation by community volunteers (local clergy and lay people), which allows more prisoners to participate in the programs. A unique program in place, Secure Status Out-Patient Program (SSOP) successfully treats mentally ill prisoners in a general population setting with a goal of keeping them out of administrative segregation. Standish also has on-site legal and general libraries that are available to prisoners.

Prisoners are provided with excellent on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious emergency cases are treated at the Standish Community Hospital and the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Standish also provides outpatient mental health treatment with Department of Mental Health staff.

Security: The Level V perimeter is protected by 16-foot-high double chain-link fences topped with razor-ribbon wire, which are monitored with state-of-the-art electronic detection systems. There are five gun towers that overlook the interior of the facility and provide perimeter security. A patrol vehicle with armed personnel constantly patrols the prison perimeter.

STRAITS CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: FABIAN LAVIGNE
4387 West M-80
Kincheloe, MI 49785
(906) 495-5674

Opened: 1988

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Straits Correctional Facility is comprised of eight separate housing units contained in four buildings. Each unit can house 120 prisoners, for a total of 960. The remaining buildings are for administration, food service, maintenance, storage, classes, and programs.

Programming: The academic programs encompass special education, adult basic education, and GED completion. Vocational programs are available in institutional maintenance and building trades. Other programs consist of substance abuse treatment, and individual and group psychotherapy. Other activities include libraries, hobbycraft, the Vietnam Veterans of America, and religious programming.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies are referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facility includes two perimeter chain-link fences. The fenced area is also monitored by a series of security devices called E-Field, E-Flex, and H-Field sensors for the detection of approaching persons. The perimeter of the facility is patrolled by armed staff.

Ionia, MI 48846
(616) 527-2510

Opened: December 2001

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: I, IV

General: The Bellamy Creek Correctional Facility, located in Ionia, is the most recent facility built by the Michigan Department of Corrections. It is primarily a Level IV facility for male offenders. The Level I (minimum security) dormitory houses prisoners nearing release.

Prisoners serve institutional needs in areas such as food service, the library, recreational aides, and maintenance workers. Future plans include a furniture factory.

Programming: Academic programs offer a range of educational opportunities including adult basic education, and GED. Special education courses for prisoners with learning disabilities are also available. Vocational training is available in Custodial Maintenance Technology.

The prison also offers group counseling and religious services. For prisoners with mental health problems, psychologists are available. An outpatient mental health team provides additional therapy. Referrals to outside medical facilities are made when necessary.

Other programs include various clubs, intramural sports, and a voluntary cognitive restructuring effort called Strategies for Thinking Productively (STP).

Security: Bellamy Creek Correctional Facility's perimeter is surrounded by fences with razor-ribbon. It is also patrolled by armed staff and monitored by gun towers.

BOYER ROAD CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: KURT JONES
10274 Boyer Road
Carson City, MI 48811-5000
(989) 584-3941

Opened: 1987
Age Limit: Males, 21 and older
Security Level: II

General: The Boyer Road Correctional Facility has no individual cells. All housing is in 6-bed open bays. Each bay has two single beds and two bunk beds, all of which accommodate six prisoners.

Programming: The Carson City complex, which includes the Carson City Correctional Facility nearby, offers training in food technology, building trades, and office occupations. Prisoners housed in the Level II unit also have the opportunity for employment at the Michigan State Industries garment factory. Level I prisoners can work on public works assignments in the surrounding community under supervision of corrections staff.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson and emergencies are referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facility is surrounded by two fences with rolls of razor wire on the side and top of the outside fence. The perimeter is monitored by a series of electronic devices and is patrolled by armed staff.

Opened: 1989
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Levels: I, II, IV

General: The Earnest C. Brooks Correctional Facility is adjacent to the Port City Industrial Park near Muskegon and sits on 76 acres.

Brooks and the Muskegon Temporary facilities were the first two prisons to begin a program of shared services. Positions that are shared with the Muskegon Temporary Facility are warden and warden's staff, business manager, personnel officer, training staff, school principal, mailroom staff, physical plant superintendent, warehouse manager, and fire safety inspector.

Brooks is comprised of six housing units. Three are Level II and house up to 240 prisoners each. Two are Level IV and house up to 192 each. The sixth is Level I and houses up to 120 prisoners. Housing units are separated by additional internal fencing to prohibit prisoners of different security levels from mixing. Prisoners from different security levels are only mixed under limited, controlled situations. The facility also has a 22-bed segregation unit.

Programming: Academic programs include special education, adult basic education, and GED completion. Brooks operates innovative assault reduction programming.

Vocational programs include food service and custodial maintenance. Michigan State Industries also operates a prison laundry and a notebook bindery.

Other programs include impulse control therapy, sex offender treatment, group counseling, and substance abuse treatment. Leisure activities include library, religious, and special activity groups.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facility includes two fences with rolls of razor wire on the side and top of the outside fence, along with a third outer perimeter chain-link fence with razor wire and a low, property-line fence of medium-gauge galvanized wire. The fences are monitored by a series of electronic security devices. The perimeter of the facility is constantly patrolled by armed staff. Two gun towers were added in 1997.

CARSON CITY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: KURT JONES
P.O. Box 5000, 10522 Boyer Road
Carson City, MI 48811-5000
(989) 584-3941

Opened: 1987
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Levels: I, II, IV

General: The Carson City Correctional Facility consists of seven housing units (1 Level I unit with 136 beds; three Level II units with 768 beds, including eight detention beds; two Level IV units with 394 beds, including 12 detention beds). All units, except detention beds, are double bunked.

Programming: The Carson City complex, which includes Boyer Road Correctional Facility, provides vocational training in food technology, building trades, and office occupations. Level I prisoners, under supervision by corrections staff, can work on public works assignments in the surrounding community.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facilities are surrounded by two fences with rolls of razor wire on the side and top of the outside fence. The fence area also is monitored by a series of electronic devices. Security was further enhanced in 1997 by the addition of two gun towers. The perimeter of the facility is patrolled by armed staff.

FLORENCE CRANE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: SALLY LANGLEY
38 Fourth Street
Coldwater, MI 49036
(517) 279-9165

Opened: 1985
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Florence Crane Correctional Facility occupies six renovated buildings taken over from the Coldwater Regional Center for Developmental Disabilities and a new housing unit building and food service building which were completed in March 2000. Prisoners are Secure Level I custody.

Programming: Prisoners may become involved in the following academic and vocational programs: adult basic education, special education, GED preparation and testing, horticulture, and food technology.

Recreational activities, religious services, psychological services, substance abuse groups, and Alcoholics Anonymous groups are available. The medical needs of prisoners are met through the Bureau of Health Care Services which provides medical, dental, psychiatric, and psychological services. Necessary off-site care is provided by various hospitals.

Prisoners have opportunities to develop skills and good work habits through various institutional assignments. Prisoners work in food service, on-grounds maintenance, unit maintenance, and the library. They also work as academic school tutors and teacher aides. Prisoners also assist maintenance workers in preparing and refurbishing the buildings at the prison as well as maintaining acceptable levels of cleanliness in the buildings.

Security: Crane has a double fence, electronic detection systems, razor-ribbon wire, and a perimeter patrol vehicle.

DEERFIELD CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: CARMEN PALMER
1755 Harwood Road
Ionia, MI 48846
(616) 527-6320

Opened: 1985

Age Limit: Males, 17 and older

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Deerfield Correctional Facility is located on 30 acres and is immediately adjacent to the southwest boundary of the Riverside Correctional Facility. All buildings have sealed concrete slab floors and are weatherized. Walls are covered with plasterboard and the facility has acoustic-tile ceilings. The prison consists of separate buildings for administration, food service, maintenance, educational programs, a print shop, and prisoner housing.

Programming: Academic programming includes adult basic education, GED, and life role competency classes. Vocational training includes office occupations, building trades, graphic arts, printing, and building maintenance. The public works program involves work crews that fulfill general labor contracts with local governmental agencies. Impulse control therapy and psychotherapy are provided for sex offenders.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: Security includes two 12-foot fences, rolls of razor-ribbon wire, sensor and electronic systems, and fence-mounted perimeter cameras. A patrol road surrounds the perimeter and armed personnel supply continuous security.

RICHARD A. HANDLON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: JOHN PRELESNIK
1728 Bluewater Highway
Ionia, MI 48846
(616) 527-3100

Opened: 1958

Age Limit: Males, 25 and under

Security Level: II

General: The Richard A. Handlon Michigan Training Unit, named after the prison's first warden, is a facility for male offenders who are, on average, younger than most other prisoners.

Programming: Six vocational courses are offered: building trades, machine shop, welding, horticulture, auto mechanics, and auto body reconditioning. adult basic education and GED completion are offered.

Religious services, counseling and psychotherapy, and other programs are offered. Job skills, life skills, and prevocational counseling are also offered, as well as a program for anger control.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: A double fence, razor-ribbon wire, and electronic detection systems make up the perimeter. A patrol vehicle enhances perimeter security.

IONIA MAXIMUM CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: WILLIE SMITH
1576 W. Bluewater Highway
Ionia, MI 48846
(616) 527-6331

Opened: 1987
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Levels: II, VI

General: The Ionia Maximum Correctional Facility is Michigan's only Level VI institution, and it provides security for prisoners who pose constant security risks at other facilities.

There are 5 bi-level, double-winged housing units and 1 single-level, 2-unit building. The bi-level units have single cells, day room areas, shower rooms, a laundry room, staff offices, and a fenced activity area for the Level VI and detention prisoners. The single-level building has 20 6-bed bays per unit, day rooms, shower rooms, a laundry area, staff offices, and a yard for Level II prisoners. The Level II prisoners provide the facility with a workforce.

A prisoner services building contains classrooms, libraries, and a barbershop. A separate building is for food service, prisoner and staff dining, and health care.

The administration building, which is also the institution's control center, has offices for records, visiting, staff training, and a room for misconduct and Parole Board hearings.

Programming: Programs are limited to small, closely supervised groups and in-cell study. Videotaped programming also is used to cover substance abuse treatment, education, group therapy, and religious programming.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: Perimeter security consists of two 12-foot fences with razor-ribbon wire. There is an electronic perimeter detection system, gun towers, and a patrol vehicle with armed personnel. Inside the prison, a personal alarm system helps protect staff throughout the facility. Enclosed officers' stations separate each wing within the housing units. Cell doors are equipped with high-security lock cylinders and are operated electronically and have a manual back-up system.

LAKELAND CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: CAROL R. HOWES
141 First Street
Coldwater, MI 49036
(517) 278-6942

Opened: 1985
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: II

General: The Lakeland Correctional Facility provides mainly dormitory-style housing with 16 units including some smaller rooms shared by prisoners who have behaved while incarcerated.

The facility has a separate food service building, two schools, and indoor activity areas.

Programming: Education programs include adult basic education and GED preparation. Vocational training is available in food service technology, office occupations, building trades, and horticulture.

Michigan State Industries operates a Geographic Information Systems (GIS) factory at the prison. Governmental agencies and nonprofit organizations are provided with a low-cost alternative to many forms of GIS and AutoCAD productions, while at the same time teaching prisoners valuable skills. Some of the work performed includes creating Parcel mappings and Street Centerlines, both of which associate data with digitized geographic features. Prisoners also learn how to produce basic engineering drawings.

Legal, religious, and general books are available. Staff and volunteers offer counseling. Health, outpatient mental health, and dental care services, as well as business office and maintenance support are provided on a shared-services basis with the Florence Crane Facility.

Security: The perimeter includes a double fence, electronic detection systems, razor-ribbon wire, and a patrol vehicle.

MID-MICHIGAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: PAUL RENICO
8201 N. Croswell Road
St. Louis, MI 48880
(989) 681-4361

Opened: 1990

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: This minimum-security prison is sited on 40 acres of land in the northeast section of St. Louis, in Gratiot County. It consists of separate buildings for administration, food services, education, maintenance, storage, and prisoner housing. There are eight separate housing units contained in four buildings. Each unit houses 120 prisoners in a dormitory-style setting. Modular units have been placed in the facility to provide space for programs and prisoner property storage.

Programming: Pre-release preparation, psychological counseling, Strategies for Thinking Productively (STP is a cognitive restructuring program), and substance abuse treatment are offered. Other programs and services include general and law library, hobbycraft, religious services, recreation programs, and a barbershop.

An academic and vocational program offers educational opportunities. Vocational programs are offered in the areas of custodial maintenance technology, business education technology, horticulture, and building trades. Academic classes are offered in adult basic education and GED.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies are referred to the local hospital.

Security: The facility is surrounded by 2 fences, with razor-ribbon wire on the side and top of the exterior fence. The perimeter is also monitored by an electronic detection system. The perimeter of the facility is patrolled by armed personnel. Surveillance cameras are also used.

MUSKEGON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: JOHN CASON
2400 S. Sheridan Drive
Muskegon, MI 49442
(231) 773-3201

Opened: 1974

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: III

General: Tucked away in a heavily wooded section in the southeast corner of the city of Muskegon, the Muskegon Correctional Facility began operations with two dormitory-style housing units. To increase capacity, housing units have been added since it opened.

In 1983, Muskegon became the first Michigan prison to become accredited by the American Correctional Association's Commission on Accreditation. In 1986 it was the first to become reaccredited.

Programming: Muskegon Correctional Facility provides a wide range of programs. Academic programs cover special education, adult basic education, and GED completion.

Also offered are training programs in food preparation, auto mechanics, and horticulture.

Many programs are carried out with the help of a variety of Muskegon community groups. Volunteers, made up primarily of local clergy and lay people, assist the staff chaplain in providing religious instruction.

The Muskegon Correctional Facility was a pioneer in using a pre-release program, which was developed by a committee made up of prisoners and staff. Among the special courses in the program are small business management, gardening, family responsibility, and financial survival. The courses are taught by volunteers, staff, and qualified prisoners.

Security: The prison is surrounded by three fences with razor-ribbon wire, gun towers, armed patrols, cameras, and electronic detection systems.

PINE RIVER CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: JAN TROMBLEY
320 N. Hubbard
St. Louis, MI 48880
(989) 681-6668

Opened: 2000
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Pine River Correctional Facility is comprised of eight separate housing units contained in four buildings. Each unit has 120 beds. The four remaining buildings include administration, food service, school, and maintenance/warehouse.

Programming: Academic programming includes adult basic education and GED completion, as well as individual and group counseling, pre-release programming, and parenting classes. Psychotherapy is provided for assaultive and sex offenders. Vocational training includes food technology, business educational trades, building trades, building maintenance, and electrical programming. Other activities include law and general libraries, hobbycraft, religious services, and barbershop.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The facility was built incorporating the latest concepts and designs for correctional institutions. The facility is surrounded by two 12-foot fences with rolls of razor-ribbon wire on the side and top of the outside fence. The perimeter is monitored by a series of electronic devices including an electrified "stun" fence. A patrol road surrounds the perimeter and a patrol vehicle responds to all detection system alarms.

RIVERSIDE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: JANETTE PRICE
777 W. Riverside Drive
Ionia, MI 48846
(616) 527-0110

Opened: 1977
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: IV

General: The Riverside Correctional Facility was originally known as Ionia State Hospital, which hospitalized offenders with severe mental health problems. Subsequently, the name was changed to Riverside Center and served as a regional psychiatric hospital. In 1977, the operation was transferred to the Department of Corrections when it began operation as a close-custody correctional facility.

The facility provides 916 beds for Level II general population prisoners, a 301-bed Residential Treatment Program (RTP) for Level II and Level IV prisoners requiring mental health care without hospitalization, eight close-observation cells, and an 8-bed Crisis Stabilization Unit.

Programming: Prisoners provide a work force for facility assignments such as food service, maintenance, prisoner laundry, store operations, institutional housekeeping, and grounds care.

Programming for prisoners includes remedial education through high school (GED) completion, and vocational programming. Prisoners can earn college credits through correspondence courses.

Prisoners are double-celled with the exception of RTP and other mental health programs, including the Crisis Stabilization Unit.

The Psychological Services Unit provides support and other related psychological services to this and other institutions within this regional worksite.

Residential Treatment Program (RTP): Mental health services are available to prisoners in western Michigan. The Crisis Stabilization Program assists with the observation and evaluation of prisoners demonstrating spontaneous, poor mental health behavior.

Security: The perimeter of the prison is controlled with double fences, electronic detection systems, and special security razor-ribbon wire. A patrol vehicle with armed personnel and armed gun towers also help to control the security.

ST. LOUIS CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: PAUL RENICO
8585 N. Croswell Road
St. Louis, MI 48880
(989) 681-6444

Opened: 1999

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: III, IV

General: This multi-level correctional facility houses prisoners classified as Level III (medium security) and Level IV (close custody). The prison is sited on 67 acres of land in the northeast section of St. Louis, in Gratiot County. It consists of separate buildings for administration, food services, education, maintenance, storage, and prisoner housing. There are seven separate housing units. Each unit houses up to 192 prisoners in a double-bunked individual cell setting.

Programming: Pre-release preparation, psychological counseling, Strategies for Thinking Productively (STP is a cognitive restructuring program), Cage Your Rage, and substance abuse treatment are offered. An academic and vocational program offers adult basic education, GED opportunities, and custodial maintenance technology. Other programs and services include general and law library, hobbycraft, religious services, recreation programs, and a barbershop.

Prisoners receive on-site routine medical care, including x-ray and dental care. Telemedicine is available and there is a mini-clinic in each housing unit. Serious problems are treated at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, while emergencies are referred to the local hospital.

Security: The facility is surrounded by two fences with razor-ribbon wire on the side and top of the exterior fence. The perimeter is also monitored by an electronic detection system. There are 5 armed gun towers and the perimeter of the facility is patrolled by armed personnel. Surveillance cameras are used extensively.

WEST SHORELINE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: MARY BERGHUIS
2500 S. Sheridan Drive
Muskegon Heights, MI 49444
(231) 773-1122

Opened: 1987

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The West Shoreline Correctional Facility is one of three in a complex of facilities for male offenders. As part of a complex, it shares some operations with the other facilities.

There are eight separate housing units contained in four buildings. Each unit has 120 beds. The remaining buildings are used for administration, food service, maintenance, training, and storage. The West Shoreline Correctional Facility and the Earnest C. Brooks Correctional Facility were the first two prisons to share services. Positions shared with Brooks are warden and warden's staff, business manager, personnel officer, training staff, school principal, mail room staff, physical plant superintendent, warehouse manager, and fire safety inspector.

During 1991, the prison was converted from a Level II facility to a Secure Level I facility.

Programming: Academic programs consist of special education, adult basic education, and GED completion.

Vocational programs are available in building maintenance and office occupations.

Other programs include sex offender treatment, substance abuse treatment, and religious services. Beginning in 1993, staff developed and began operating a new sex offender program that includes two housing units operating as modified therapeutic communities.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, and emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Security: The perimeter includes two fences with rolls of razor-ribbon wire on the side and top of the exterior fence. The fence area is also monitored by a series of sensors that detect anyone approaching them. A vehicle, with armed personnel, patrols the perimeter constantly.

COOPER STREET CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: THOMAS G. PHILLIPS
3100 Cooper Street
Jackson, MI 49201
(517) 780-6175

Opened: 1997
Age Limit: Males, 17 and older
Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Cooper Street Correctional Facility was created from the former Michigan Parole Camp. It was expanded with an increase in security to create a Secure Level I prison. The facility opened in July 1997. It is located across the street from the Southern Michigan Correctional Facility and what will be the Jackson Maximum Correctional Facility, both of which were created from the former State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Cooper Street serves as a centralized staging point for prisoners from the camp program and some facilities who are about to be released on parole, discharged, or moved to another camp or a corrections center.

The facility is an active member of the Department's Community Liaison Committee in the Jackson County area, and maintains open lines of communication between the community and prison administration.

Programming: Academic programming includes adult basic education, GED preparation, vocational training, and pre-release programming. Cooper Street offers various religious activities, work assignments, and several self-improvement programs such as Alcoholics Anonymous. A residential substance abuse program, run by Western Michigan University, opened in late 1998.

Cooper Street has a public works program that allows certain lower-risk prisoners to work on community projects, such as snow removal at hospices, under the supervision of staff outside of the prison.

Routine medical and dental care are provided on site. Serious medical problems may be treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital or at Foote Hospital, both of which are in Jackson.

Security: Cooper Street has double fences, razor-ribbon wire, a perimeter detection system, and a patrol vehicle outside grounds.

G. ROBERT COTTON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Acting Warden: DEBRA SCUTT
3500 North Elm Road
Jackson, MI 49201
(517) 780-5000

Opened: 1985

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: I, II, III, IV

General: The G. Robert Cotton Correctional Facility sits on 114 acres and is located northwest of the intersection of Elm Road and I-94 in Jackson County.

The prison is a combination of pole barns, which have weatherized buildings, sealed concrete flooring, and plaster-board walls, and older buildings that are brick, mortar, steel, and glass.

Programming: Academic programming includes adult basic education, GED preparation, special education, and several vocational training programs.

Routine medical and dental care are provided on site. Serious medical problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital.

Security: Security includes three 12-foot fences, rolls of razor-ribbon wire, two perimeter towers, an acoustic sensing system, and an electronic detection system. A patrol road surrounds the perimeter of the facility, and a vehicle responds to all detection system alarms. Surveillance camera systems are located throughout the facility.

CHARLES EGELER RECEPTION AND GUIDANCE CENTER

Warden: NICK LUDWICK
3855 Cooper Street
Jackson, MI 49201-7517
(517) 780-5600

Opened: 1988

Age Limit: Males, 17 years and older

Security Level: I, Reception V

General: The Charles Egeler Reception and Guidance Center sits on 53 acres and also houses the 86-bed Duane L. Waters Hospital. Egeler, along with the Southern Michigan Correctional Facility and Parnall Correctional Facility, was carved out of the old State Prison of Southern Michigan (SPSM). The maximum-security hospital within the facility provides medical services to both male and female prisoners from many of the state's prisons and camps.

Security: The perimeter of the facility is protected by a double chain-link fence, electronic monitoring systems, and razor-ribbon wire. An emergency response vehicle also patrols the perimeter.

GUS HARRISON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: DAVID JAMROG
2727 East Beecher Street
Adrian, MI 49221
(517) 265-3900

Opened: 1991

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: I, II

General: The Gus Harrison Correctional Facility is named after the department's first director. It is a multisecurity prison on the western border of the city of Adrian. The facility consists of six housing units.

Programming: Programming includes academic and vocational instruction, work assignments, general and law library services, psychological group counseling, substance abuse treatment, horticulture, and English as a second language.

GUS HARRISON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY (Cont.)

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies are referred to a local hospital.

Security: The facility protects its perimeter with double chain-link fences, razor-ribbon wire, electronic detection systems, a patrol vehicle, and two gun towers.

HURON VALLEY CENTER

Director: DR. ROSETTUS WEEKS

3511 Bemis Road
Ypsilanti, MI 48197
(734) 434-5888

Opened: 1994

Age Limit: All ages

Security Level: V

General: Huron Valley Center is a 400-bed psychiatric hospital operated by the Michigan Department of Community Health, under contract with the MDOC. Huron Valley Center offers residential mental health treatment, including diagnostic evaluation and active treatment for convicted felons with serious mental illness. In 1997, the center was the first of its kind in the state to be accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

Services are provided by the hospital, which is housed on the grounds of the former Huron Valley Women's Facility. Prior to the opening in September 1994, three buildings were added to accommodate expected population. There are four admission units, seven acute-care units, one female unit (admission/acute), and 1 medical support unit.

Treatments in admission units are characterized by diagnostic and treatment measures intensively applied to effect sufficient remission of symptoms. Treatment in acute-care units is characterized with an emphasis on a biopsychosocial model.

Programming: Huron Valley Center provides progressive psychiatric programs for prisoners who cannot function adequately in a general prison population. Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Medical emergencies are referred to a local hospital.

Academic programming includes adult basic education, special education, general education, and GED preparation.

Security: The facility includes two perimeter chain-link fences, electronic detection systems, and an emergency-response vehicle.

HURON VALLEY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: KEN ROMANOWSKI

3201 Bemis Road
Ypsilanti, MI 48197
(734) 572-9900

Opened: 1981

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: IV

General: There are five housing units in the prison. Each unit contains two floors. The prison contains a school, an infirmary, a power plant, and a food service facility, which also services the nearby Technical Rule Violation center. Three of the five units provide inpatient mental health treatment. The mentally ill prisoners receive therapeutic treatment in the facility's residential treatment programs.

One of the five units houses general population prisoners, double-celled. One wing of another unit houses double-bunked general population prisoners, and the other wing houses the Self-Mutilator Program, segregation, and detention cells.

Additional staff were added to provide custody support services for the Department of Corrections' psychiatric hospital, Huron Valley Center, which is run under contract by the Michigan Department of Community Health.

Programming: Administrative segregation prisoners have the opportunity for "in-cell" study, including special education and preparation for GED. Prisoners housed in general population and some prisoners in the residential treatment program attend classes in the school building. The classes include adult basic education, special education, and GED preparation. Prisoners also have access to religious programs. All prisoners have access to a general library and law library. Prisoners can also participate in substance abuse treatment programming. The facility provides custodial maintenance as a vocational educational program.

Prisoners are provided with on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson. Emergencies can be referred to a local hospital.

Mental Health Services: The Outpatient Services Program functions as the main entry into the corrections mental health program. Mental health professionals determine whether a prisoner is mentally ill and recommend the appropriate treatment.

The Residential Treatment Program offers more intense services in housing units set aside for the mentally ill only. Professional mental health staff work in these units with prisoners who cannot function adequately in the general prison population. Prisoners are helped to readjust to the general prison population.

Security: The prison is surrounded by two 12-foot fences, which are topped with razor-ribbon wire and which also have a special electronic detection system. Six gun towers surround the facility. Vehicles and armed personnel patrol the perimeter.

MACOMB CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: HUGH WOLFENBARGER
34625 26 Mile Road
P.O. Box 480999
New Haven, MI 48048-0999
(586) 749-4900

Opened: 1993
Age Limit: Males, all ages
Security Levels: I, II, IV

General: The Macomb Correctional Facility sits on a 100-acre site. It comprises 11 major buildings and two minor buildings, totaling about 300,000 square feet. The prison contains three Level II housing units, two Level IV units, and one Level I building outside the security perimeter. Four other buildings house a school, the administration offices, support services, and storage.

Programming: Educational programming includes special education, GED preparation, adult basic education, and vocational classes.

Facility staff work closely with community groups and encourage community volunteer participation.

Routine health and dental care are provided on site. Major emergencies are treated in a community hospital or at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The perimeter of the prison is enclosed by double, 12-foot galvanized chain-link fences topped with coiled stainless steel razor-ribbon wire. The wire is also in the space between the two fences to enhance the barrier. A third, 12-foot galvanized chain-link fence, topped with stainless steel razor-ribbon wire provides a buffer between the facility property lines and the perimeter road. An electronic detection system is in use on the inner perimeter and the buffer fences. The prison's security was further enhanced in 1997 by the addition of two gun towers. An armed officer in a perimeter response vehicle provides a continuous patrol.

MOUND CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: ANDREW JACKSON
17601 Mound Road
Detroit, MI 48212
(313) 368-8300

Opened: 1994

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: II, IV

General: The two state prisons in the city of Detroit are rare because of their placement in a densely urban setting. Mound is on the east side of the two; the other is the Ryan Correctional Facility. They share personnel services as well as the maintenance warehouse between the two prisons and outside the security perimeter.

Mound is on 39 acres previously owned by the Chrysler Corporation, which used the area to store new cars prior to shipping. It now contains buildings to house prisoners as well as those to provide educational and vocational training, food services, health services, administrative services, and storage.

The prison has a small intake center and a small segregation unit. It is separated from the community along Mound Road by a planting berm with evergreen and deciduous trees as well as two security fences. The entire complex of Mound and Ryan covers 78 acres.

Programming: The prison's academic programs provide for special and remedial education through completion of GEDs for prisoners, including those in segregation. The priority is to develop reading skills for each prisoner at least to the eighth-grade level. Mound has a building maintenance vocational program.

As with most Michigan prisons, volunteers help staff in providing prisoners with religious and other life-enrichment programs.

Minor health care services are provided at the prison; serious cases are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson as well as at local facilities.

Security: Both Mound and Ryan have four gun towers to complement double, 12-foot fences that are topped with coiled stainless steel razor-ribbon wire. As at all secure facilities, an electronic detection system is inside the inner security fence. A vehicle patrols the perimeter 24 hours a day. Buffer fences separate the surrounding area from the prison and help to keep intruders away.

PARNALL CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: HAROLD WHITE
1780 East Parnall
Jackson, MI 49201-9037
(517) 780-6004

Opened: 1926

Age Limit: Males, 21 and older

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: This prison is the minimum-security section of what was part of the former State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Programming: Parnall Correctional Facility offers educational, vocational, and religious programs, as well as psychological treatment. Work assignments in food service, maintenance, and Michigan State Industries are available.

There is a health care unit at the facility. The Duane L. Waters Hospital, which treats more serious health problems, is nearby.

Security: The perimeter of this prison consists of two chain-link fences that are topped with razor-ribbon wire.

PARR HIGHWAY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: DAVID JAMROG
2727 E. Beecher Street
Adrian, MI 49221
(517) 263-3500

Opened: 1989

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Level: Secure Level I

General: The Parr Highway Correctional Facility is a Secure Level I prison consisting of seven buildings surrounded by two electronically monitored fences.

Programming: Academic and vocational programs are offered, including substance abuse treatment, GED completion, and adult basic education. Other programs include training in electronics, food service, and maintenance.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Serious problems and emergencies are treated via local community providers, or at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The perimeter consists of two 16-foot fences with razor-ribbon wire, electronic detection systems, two gun towers, and an armed alert response vehicle.

RYAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: RAYMOND BOOKER
17600 Ryan Road
Detroit, MI 48212
(313) 368-3200

Opened: 1991

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: II, IV

General: The Ryan Correctional Facility is located on the east side of Detroit on 39 acres, off Ryan Road. The land was previously used by DaimlerChrysler AG to store cars.

The facility contains buildings for housing, educational and vocational instruction, food services, a health clinic, dialysis unit, administrative offices, storage, and security. The prison has a small intake center and a small segregation unit. The prison is separated from the surrounding area by a 6-foot landscaped berm with evergreen and deciduous trees.

Programming: The institution's academic program provides for special and remedial education as well as completion of a GED for all prisoners, including those in segregation. Vocational training includes an on-the-job training program for porters and food service. The food service class serves meals as part of the training. About 200 community volunteers help staff in providing prisoners with faith-based programming.

Health care is provided at the prison, at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson, or at local hospitals in the event of emergencies. A dialysis unit was opened in March 1995, serving approximately 44 offenders.

Security: Security is provided by two 12-foot fences, electronic detection systems, razor-ribbon wire, gun towers, and buffer fencing.

ROBERT SCOTT CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Plymouth, MI 48170
(734) 459-7400

Opened: 1991

Age Limit: Females, all ages

Security Levels: I, II, IV, V

General: The Robert Scott Correctional Facility serves as the intake center for all newly committed female prisoners. It is located on 35 acres in western Wayne County. Housing consists of two double-winged units, dayroom areas, laundry rooms, and staff offices.

Another building complex contains areas for food preparation, prisoner and staff dining, health care, a warehouse, and maintenance areas. The administration building comprises executive offices, a records section, visiting rooms, noncontact visiting rooms, staff training rooms, and the facility's control center.

Programming: Adult basic education, GED certification, special education, vocational classes, college classes, and apprenticeship programs are offered.

Prisoners employed by Michigan State Industries manufacture janitorial products, cushions, and dentures. The Prisoner Services Building houses classrooms, a gymnasium, a library, a prisoner store, and a vocational lab.

There is a residential treatment program for mentally ill prisoners, substance abuse treatment, a parenting program, special programs for pregnant prisoners, and domestic violence programs.

Routine medical and dental care are provided on site. Serious medical problems are treated at the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson or at a local hospital.

Security: Security includes three 12-foot fences, topped with razor-ribbon wire, gun towers, electronic perimeter detection systems, electrically powered gates to isolate each wing in the housing units in case of a disturbance, and cell doors equipped with high-security locks. A road surrounds the perimeter of the facility and is constantly surveyed and patrolled by armed staff.

SOUTHERN MICHIGAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: SHERRY BURT
4002 Cooper Street
Jackson, MI 49201
(517) 780-6000

Opened: 1997

Age Limit: Males, 21 and older

Security Level: II

General: The Southern Michigan Correctional Facility opened in 1997, after renovations were made to the former State Prison of Southern Michigan, once the largest walled prison in the world. Areas of the facility include housing, recreation, medical, school, library, quartermaster, food service, special activities, and administration.

Southern Michigan Correctional Facility houses prisoners who have specific medical needs, area court hearing(s), a scheduled parole/discharge in the near future, educational/vocational needs, or have been classified to Administrative Segregation.

The facility is an active member of the Department's Community Liaison Committee in the Jackson County area and maintains open lines of communication between the community and prison administration.

Programming: The education/vocational programs provide opportunities for prisoners to improve their knowledge and skills, while special activities provide productive and diverse opportunities.

Educational/vocational programs include adult basic education, GED, pre-release, social skills, visual graphic arts, business education technology, and an optical program. Special activities are comprised of group psychotherapy (impulse control, anger management, and sex offender therapy), substance abuse counseling, and Alcoholics/Narcotics Anonymous.

Prisoners are employed in a variety of assignments, including food service, maintenance, grounds keeper and Michigan State Industries (MSI). MSI is a factory inside the secure perimeter of the facility and has three divisions. The Optical Division grinds lenses which provide eyeglasses for prisoners throughout the state. The Print Shop Division produces paper forms used by all State of Michigan agencies, and the Textiles Division, using weaving and sewing machinery, produces clothing items and bedding material for all Department of Corrections facilities.

The facility also provides a variety of religious programs for prisoners.

Security: Security includes a 40-foot brick perimeter wall, gun towers, and electronic detection systems. A road surrounds the perimeter of the facility and is under constant surveillance and patrolled by armed staff.

THUMB CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: MILLICENT WARREN
3225 John Conley Drive
Lapeer, MI 48446
(810) 667-2045

Opened: 1987

Age Limit: Males, all ages

Security Levels: II, IV

General: The Thumb Correctional Facility has one Level IV housing unit. The unit is divided so that Level IV adult and youthful offenders are separated. There are four Level II housing units including day showers, laundry facilities, and staff offices. The segregation unit is equipped with stainless steel sinks and toilets, and slotted doors for feeding.

Other buildings include the prison services building, which has academic and vocational classrooms, libraries, a barbershop, a food service building for prisoner and staff dining, health care area, warehouse, and maintenance areas. There is an administrative building for staff offices, records, visiting, staff training, hearings, and the institution's control center. Michigan State Industries has a building where it provides industrial laundry services for state and other nonprofit agencies.

Programming: Prisoners can involve themselves in academic, vocational, and religious programming. Prisoner work programs include the prison's laundry. Treatment programs include special programs such as substance abuse counseling, group therapy, clubs, and organizations.

Prisoners are provided on-site medical and dental care. Serious and emergency care is provided by the department's Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The perimeter security includes triple 12-foot fences with razor-ribbon wire, towers, electronic perimeter detection systems, and a perimeter vehicle with armed personnel.

will be offered in the near future: life skills, business education, graphic arts, custodial maintenance, and horticulture. Religious, psychological, vocational, and career counseling services are also available. Prisoner jobs are available in several areas including food service, maintenance, landscaping, and clerical work.

Health care is provided on-site and through inpatient care at the Duane L. Waters Hospital in Jackson.

Security: The perimeter security includes three chain-link fences which are monitored by a series of electronic security devices and are topped with razor-ribbon. In addition, two gun towers provide added security. An emergency response vehicle is also available.

MINIMUM SECURITY CORRECTIONS CAMPS

Minimum security corrections camps generally represent the end of a sentence for offenders, and they serve as a transition point for the offenders getting ready to return to society. The camp program started in 1948 primarily to provide a labor force for the Department of Natural Resources. Now, prisoners can attend school and work on projects for state, local, and federal units of government and nonprofit agencies. Currently, there are ten camps throughout the state of Michigan; each camp is overseen by a nearby corrections institution.

Region 1

Camp Cusino: Located in Alger County, Camp Cusino is under the administrative control of the Alger Maximum Correctional Facility. The camp has a capacity of approximately 320 and a staff of 50. It provides GED and adult basic education programs. It also provides local qualified agencies with prisoner labor.

Camp Kitwen: Under the control of Baraga Maximum Correctional Facility, Camp Kitwen has 54 employees and a capacity of 240. Up to 12 inmate work crews are sent each day to various public and nonprofit work sites.

Camp Koehler: Located in Kincheloe and under the management of the Kinross Correctional Facility, Camp Koehler houses 233 prisoners and employs 45 staff members. Programming includes Alcoholics Anonymous, substance abuse counseling, group counseling, and a self-initiated horticulture program.

Camp Lehman: Under the direction of the Standish Maximum Security Facility, Camp Lehman is north of Grayling. The camp sits on 19 acres of land donated by the Department of Natural Resources and can house 339 prisoners. A total of 82 employees work at the camp. Its programs include adult basic education, GED, a pre-release program, substance abuse treatment, Alcoholics Anonymous, and group counseling.

Camp Manistique: Opened in June 1993, Camp Manistique has a capacity of 216 prisoners and 49 employees. Its parent facility is the Newberry Correctional Facility. Academic programming consists of adult basic education and GED. Vocational skills instruction is provided in custodial institutional maintenance. Substance abuse programming includes Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, counseling, and religious programming. The perimeter security includes one 12-foot fence with rolls of razor-ribbon wire, and a perimeter vehicle.

Camp Ottawa: Built in 1991 on 120 acres of state land, six miles north of Iron River, Camp Ottawa is under the supervision of the Marquette Branch Prison. It has a maximum capacity of 240 prisoners and employs 48 staff members. Inside the camp, Michigan State Industries operates a sawmill and the Department of Natural Resources uses prisoner labor to produce concrete pads for boat launches used throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Camp Sauble: Under the supervision of the Oaks Correctional Facility, Camp Sauble was originally opened as a prison camp in 1960. Sitting on 40 acres of state-owned land, Camp Sauble has a maximum capacity of 156 prisoners and employs 38 staff members (not including medical staff). Among the programs offered are group psychotherapy, substance abuse treatment, job skills, and Alcoholics Anonymous.

Region 2

Camp Branch: Under the administrative control of the Florence Crane Facility in Coldwater, Camp Branch currently houses 324 minimum-security female prisoners. This is the only camp for women prisoners. It employs 132 individuals. Its programs include adult basic education and GED preparation and testing.

Region 3

Camp Brighton: Near Pinckney, this camp has a capacity of 270 and a staff of 55. It is under the jurisdiction of the Huron Valley Correctional Facility. Substance abuse treatment is available. Camp Brighton also has a public works program.

Camp Tuscola: Located in Caro, Camp Tuscola has 260 Level I prisoners and a total of 60 staff members. Under the supervision of the Thumb Correctional Facility, Camp Tuscola has a large public works force which works with local government units.
