Act 53 of 1917 established the State Troops as a wartime constabulary. The State Troopers were to provide internal state security against the dangers of espionage and sabotage, labor agitation and unrest, and military draft dodging. Act 26 of 1919 created the Department of Public Safety and gave it expanded responsibilities. Act 59 of 1935 created the Department of Michigan State Police with a commissioner as its executive head. Act 380 of 1965 reorganized state government into 19 principal departments, the Department of State Police was established, and the title of commissioner was changed to director.

The director is appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, and serves at the pleasure of the governor. The director and department are under the immediate control and direction of the governor. Its members may also be employed by the attorney general in any investigation or matter under his or her jurisdiction. The director and all sworn officers have, and exercise, the powers of a peace officer in the enforcement of criminal laws of the state, including those for the discovery and prevention of crime. Any sworn officer of the department may serve and execute all criminal and civil process when directed to do so by the governor, or the attorney general, in actions and matters in which the state is a party.

The purpose of the department is to provide 24-hour statewide quality police service for the safety and protection of the people and their property in the state of Michigan. Its primary responsibilities are to reduce the opportunities for crime, to reduce traffic accidents through diligent and fair enforcement of the laws of this state, and to act as a first responder to any citizen's needs that can be addressed through the resources of the criminal justice system.

The director is the executive head and, as such, is also the State Fire Marshal, State Director of Emergency Management, and State Director of Homeland Security. The director, or his or her designee, is a member of the Governor's Traffic Safety Advisory Commission, Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards, Fire Fighters Training Council, Emergency Telephone Service Committee, Automobile Theft Prevention Authority, Criminal Justice Information Systems Policy Council, Michigan Emergency Planning and Community Right to Know Commission, and the Michigan Truck Safety Commission.

The Office of the Director consists of six divisions. The Office of Highway Safety Planning serves as a coordinating agency for traffic safety in the state and distributes federal funds for the development, implementation, and evaluation of traffic safety projects. The Emergency Management Division works in the area of emergency preparedness for the prevention, mitigation and relief of, or recovery from, disasters that occur in the state, including homeland security responsibilities. The Human Resources Division provides supervisory control of personnel activities relating to recruiting, selection, classification, employee benefits, and labor relations. The Training Division provides recruit in-service, managerial, and career development training and houses a criminal justice library. The Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards, a policy-making body, develops and sets the minimum employment standards for police officers and certified law enforcement academies which provide police education. The Office of Behavioral Science provides individual psychological counseling, training, employee development services, and direct investigative support services.

The Executive Division provides staff support for the director and department commanders in the areas of policy development, legislative analysis and liaison, legal and operational research, managerial productivity information, public affairs, security for the governor, internal affairs, and staff support for the Automobile Theft Prevention Authority.

The Uniform Services Bureau is responsible for all patrol and uniformed support services for the department. The bureau is administered by a deputy director who coordinates and supervises the bureau. The Uniform Services Bureau consists of seven districts, the Motor Carrier Division, and the Special Operations Division. The seven districts are composed of the troopers and motor carrier enforcement officers operating from the 64 state police posts and teams throughout the state. The Motor Carrier Division ensures compliance of laws governing the size, weight, safety, and ownership of commercial vehicles, economic regulations, and criminal laws associated with commercial vehicles and their operations. This division has responsibility for scalehouse, road patrol, investigative support, hazardous materials transportation and inspection, and school bus inspection activities. The Special Operations Division supplies dispatch, communication network, aircraft, crime prevention, canine, underwater recovery, juvenile support, substance abuse education, and specialized services for the department.

The Investigative Services Bureau is comprised of all the divisions that provide investigative services for the department. The bureau is administered by a deputy director who coordinates and supervises bureau activities. It consists of the Field Detective Division, two Criminal Investigation Divisions, Fire Marshal Division, and Forensic Science Division. The Field Detective Division is composed of detectives assigned to posts and districts throughout the state and an Intelligence Unit that is the clearinghouse for all intelligence collection, analysis, and dissemination for the agency. The Criminal Investigation Divisions consist of detectives assigned to the specialized investigative units and task forces throughout the state. The Fire Marshal Division conducts arson investigations and provides training in fire investigation to local police and fire agencies. The Forensic Science Division provides scientific crime detection for the department and local police agencies through seven regional crime laboratories.

The Administrative and Information Services Bureau is responsible for all of the divisions that provide support services for the department and law enforcement agencies statewide. It is administered by a deputy director who coordinates and supervises the bureau. It consists of the Budget Office, the former Communications Division, Criminal Justice Information Center, and Management Services Division. The Budget Office is responsible for the overall development and management of the department's budget. The former Communications Division continues to assist the department in radio and telecommunication services during the transfer of these responsibilities to the Department of Information Technology. The Criminal Justice Information Center maintains and supervises all criminal and noncriminal records, freedom of information requests, firearm and licensing information, uniform crime reporting, and the Law Enforcement Information Network and the Automated Fingerprint Identification System. The Management Services Division provides financial management of the department's operations, such as quartermaster, tailoring, inventory warehouse, purchasing, payroll, and pension activities, as well as the responsibility for maintaining and improving department facilities.

Agencies of the Department of State Police include the Automobile Theft Prevention Authority Board of Directors, Criminal Justice Information Systems Policy Council, Emergency Planning and Community Right to Know Commission, Fire Fighters Training Council, State Fire Safety Board, Michigan Justice Training Commission, Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards, Michigan Truck Safety Commission, and the Governor's Traffic Safety Advisory Commission.

The Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) Policy Council was established pursuant to Act 163 of 1974 to create policy and promulgate rules regarding the operational procedures to be followed by agencies using the law enforcement information network, to review applications for network terminals and approve or disapprove the applications and the sites for terminal installations, and to establish minimum standards for terminal sites and installations. The Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) Policy Council was established pursuant to Act 307 of 1988 to, among other things, create policy and promulgate rules regarding the operation and audit procedures to be followed by agencies using the AFIS, to design and provide for statewide identification of individuals using an AFIS, to establish minimum standards for AFIS sites and installation, to review proposed applications for the AFIS and approve or disapprove the applications and the sites for system installations, and to establish policy and promulgate rules restricting the dissemination of identification information to individuals and agencies.

The LEIN Policy Council and the AFIS Policy Council were abolished by Executive Reorganization Order No. 1998-1 (MCL §28.161), effective April 13, 1998, and the powers and duties of both policy councils were transferred to the Criminal Justice Information Systems (CJIS) Policy Council created within the Department of State Police by Executive Reorganization Order No. 1998-1. In addition to the responsibilities transferred to it by the executive reorganization order, the CJIS Policy Council serves in an advisory capacity to the Director of the Department of State Police on issues related to the development and deployment of information management systems that facilitate the rapid exchange of accurate information between the various components of the criminal justice community.
