Chaplin Christine Hillman, from the University of Detroit, offered the following invocation:

“Most ancient of all the world’s sacred writings are the Vedas of the Hindu tradition. And the Rig Veda includes this verse:

‘I know not what I am.
I wander alone...
Then comes Vac, first born of the Divine
And of that I receive a share.’

Vac, this lost ancient goddess of the Hindu tradition gave, as gifts to humankind, the awareness and the power of speech. The power to bring into community what otherwise lies behind and within the human mind.

This power of speech is certainly not lost on any member of this body. You well know the power of your own voices and, that the people of our great state have, in great part, handed their voices to you.

All religious traditions recognize the gifts given to us by God or what is named as divine or ‘the Ground of Being’ as the great twentieth century Protestant theologian Paul Tillich named and understood what is ultimate.

It was through the voice of Muhammad that Allah gave the people of Islam the Q’uran. The God of Israel spoke through the matriarchs, the patriarchs and the prophets in the ancient Israelite tradition and God continues to speak through the Torah, the Talmud and through the great Rabbis. And Jesus spoke of the outcast, the troubled and entrusted His voice to the apostles and to all who would follow Him.

It is, as well, an essential element of American democracy for the few to speak for the many and, in that speaking, to decide—to legislate—for us all.

Much of elected representation is a speaking well of each other and the world.

A speaking well of what we value
A speaking well of human effort
A speaking well of human dreams
This is how we celebrate life and how we work
Through speaking well of this work
Living the invocation and becoming as a word well-spoken.

Let all present be ever mindful of what awesome power the people of Michigan may have through your voices.

May Vac, Allah, the Ground of Being—all the many names of God—present in every person, speak through your work today.”

Rep. Dobronski moved that Rep. Schermesser be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Hammerstrom moved that Reps. McManus and Walberg be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Harder asked and obtained a temporary excuse from today’s session.

Notices

March 25, 1998

Reps. Gagliardi, Scranton, DeHart, Dobronski, Kukuk, Raczkowski, Kaza, Baade, Hale, Profit, Prusi, Cherry, Scott, Kelly, Murphy, Thomas, Schauer, Perricone, Voorhees, McBryde, Vaughn, Anthony, Horton, Jelinek, Godchaux, Goschka, Green, Gire, Richner, Tesanovich, Dalman, Rocca, Schroer, Brater, Parks, Bankes, Martinez, Middaugh, McNutt, Callahan, Baird, Hood, Wallace, Varga, Birkholz, Oxender, Bodem, Palamara and Galloway offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 242.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to reject the designation of Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes for the purposes of the National Sea Grant College Program.

Whereas, The recent actions to designate Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes in the National Sea Grant College Program makes this lake eligible for federal research money. News of this designation is disturbing to people concerned over the quality of the Great Lakes; and

Whereas, Located a considerable distance from the nearest Great Lake, Lake Champlain, at a size of 435 square miles, is far smaller than even the smallest of the five Great Lakes. Its shores do not include large cities or industrial sites comparable to those located near the Great Lakes. These differences are significant when considering the potential impact of making Lake Champlain a Great Lake. Even as we work to try to protect our waters from threats from commercial and recreational activities, pollution, and changes in how millions of people live and work along their shores, our Great Lakes now face a likely reduction of resources for this work. Adding another "Great Lake" as being eligible for research funding can only make dealing with the serious problems we face more difficult; and

Whereas, Congress needs to address this issue. If there is a need to define eligibility or to set dimension requirements, other options should be considered. However, federal legislation should not be making Lake Champlain a Great Lake; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to reject the designation of Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes for the purposes of the National Sea Grant College Program; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Conservation, Environment and Recreation.

Reps. Kilpatrick, DeHart, LaForge, Raczkowski, Baade, Hale, Profit, Prusi, Cherry, Scott, Kelly, Murphy, Thomas, Schauer, Wojno, Voorhees, McBryde, Vaughn, Anthony, Quarles, Godchaux, Goschka, Gire, Richner, Tesanovich, Schroer, Brater, Bankes, Martinez, McNutt, Baird, Hood, Wallace, Varga, Birkholz and Bodem offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 243.

A resolution commemorating January 30, 1998, through April 4, 1998, the anniversary of the deaths of Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., respectively, as a "Season For Nonviolence".

Whereas, January 30, 1998, marks the 50th anniversary of the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi, and April 4, 1998, marks the 30th anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.; and

Whereas, We embrace the nonviolence doctrine of these two great leaders, as they each adopted nonviolence philosophies in effectuating positive change and promoting peace among men; and

Whereas, The Michigan Task Force proposes a commemorative period, constituting a "Season for Nonviolence," during the 64 days from January 30th through April 4th, in an effort to highlight the deeds of Gandhi and King, and to focus on and impart to our children the significance of the principles of nonviolence and the application of those principles in our homes; our schools and throughout our daily living; and

Whereas, The members of the Michigan House of Representatives concur with the need to put an end to violence in America, and therefore support the Michigan Task Force's efforts to promote nonviolence throughout this nation, we do hereby dedicate to the members of the Michigan Task Force, as well as to the citizens of the State of Michigan, this verse entitled, SEASON:

Summer brings us colorful blooms
While spring prepares the way
As fall transforms with lovely hues
We await winter's blanketing days.

Each season brings new reason
 To celebrate life anew
 And the arrival of this new season
 Shall bring peace and joy to you

A season for nonviolence means
 Practicing peace, love and respect
 And in honor of Gandhi and Martin Luther King
 We must take some time to reflect

So, from January 30th through April 4th
 The beginning and the end
 We hope to successfully change the course
 Toward world-wide peace among men

Our children are the heirs
 They look to us to lead
 It's up to us to ensure that theirs
 Is a legacy steeped in this creed

Nonviolence is the answer
 To life's regrettable ills;
 For, violence is just another cancer
 That festers, and spreads, and kills;

by Sharron Solomon

; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That members of this legislative body commemorate January 30, 1998, through April 4, 1998, as a "Season For Nonviolence" in Michigan in honor of the late Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to the Michigan Task Force as evidence of our acceptance of the observation of a "Season For Nonviolence".

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Gagliardi moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Reps. Profit, Kukuk, LaForge, Raczkowski, Hale, Prusi, Cherry, Scott, Kelly, Murphy, Wojno, Voorhees, Vaughn, Anthony, Godchaux, Schroer, Brater, Parks, Jansen, Wallace and Varga offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 244.

A resolution recognizing the mourning dove, Zenaida Macroura, as the Michigan Bird of Peace.

Whereas, The mourning dove is an American bird known for its sad, cooing call. Its grayish-brown feathers and long tapering tail are widely recognized in Michigan, as is its soft and mournful sound. The mourning dove, or Zenaida Macroura as it is known in the scientific realm, is a peaceful songbird; and

Whereas, The day of the mourning dove begins early in the morning when it begins to look for food and water. The doves then rest during part of the afternoon, seek more food and water, and before nightfall, return to their nests built loosely of twigs in a tree or bush or on the ground. Many scientists believe that a male and female mourning dove mate with each other for life. Bird watchers will note that mourning doves are often found in pairs and, as parents, the doves are both responsible for feeding the young, called squabs, which are born blind and almost featherless; and

Whereas, The dove has traditionally symbolized peace. It is often depicted with an olive branch in its beak. Mourning doves do not eat olive branches, but do, however, feed on weed seeds and insects. It is a peaceful bird which will swiftly fly from conflict on strong wings that make a whistling sound as they move through the air. The mourning dove plays a quiet, but vital role in the fragile and beautiful ecosystem that is the Michigan water wonderland; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the mourning dove, Zenaida Macroura, be known throughout the state as the Michigan Bird of Peace.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Gagliardi moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Reps. Gagliardi, Gire, DeHart, Thomas, Hanley, Murphy, Scranton, Dobronski, Kukuk, Raczkowski, Kaza, Baade, Hale, Profit, Prusi, Cherry, Scott, Kelly, Schauer, Perricone, Voorhees, McBryde, Vaughn, Anthony, Horton, Jelinek, Godchaux, Goschka, Green, Richner, Tesanovich, Dalman, Rocca, Schroer, Brater, Parks, Bankes, Martinez, Middaugh, McNutt, Callahan, Baird, Hood, Wallace, Varga, Birkholz, Oxender, Bodem, Palamara and Galloway offered the following concurrent resolution:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 91.

A concurrent resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to reject the designation of Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes for the purposes of the National Sea Grant College Program.

Whereas, The recent actions to designate Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes in the National Sea Grant College Program makes this lake eligible for federal research money. News of this designation is disturbing to people concerned over the quality of the Great Lakes; and

Whereas, Located a considerable distance from the nearest Great Lake, Lake Champlain, at a size of 435 square miles, is far smaller than even the smallest of the five Great Lakes. Its shores do not include large cities or industrial sites comparable to those located near the Great Lakes. These differences are significant when considering the potential impact of making Lake Champlain a Great Lake. Even as we work to try to protect our waters from threats from commercial and recreational activities, pollution, and changes in how millions of people live and work along their shores, our Great Lakes now face a likely reduction of resources for this work. Adding another "Great Lake" as being eligible for research funding can only make dealing with the serious problems we face more difficult; and

Whereas, Congress needs to address this issue. If there is a need to define eligibility or to set dimension requirements, other options should be considered. However, federal legislation should not be making Lake Champlain a Great Lake; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to reject the designation of Lake Champlain as one of the Great Lakes for the purposes of the National Sea Grant College Program; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Committee on Conservation, Environment and Recreation.

The Committee on Tourism, by Rep. Baade, Chair, reported

House Resolution No. 216.

A resolution to support the selection of Mackinaw City as the site of a national lighthouse center and museum.

(For text of resolution, see House Journal No. 18, p. 320.)

With the recommendation that the following substitute (H-1) be adopted and that the resolution then be adopted.

Substitute for House Resolution No. 216.

A resolution to support the selection of Mackinaw City as the site of a national lighthouse center and museum.

Whereas, A twenty-one member national committee is working to select a locale for a national lighthouse center and museum. Mackinaw City is among the finalists in this process. With the strong private and community support and the keen interest of Michigan's residents and visitors, Mackinaw City would be an outstanding and fitting spot for a national center to highlight the history and service of lighthouses; and

Whereas, Michigan's history emerged from the maritime culture of the Great Lakes. Our state has 116 lighthouses, more than any other state. There are more than 350 lighthouses on the Great Lakes. Another measure of the popularity of lighthouses with our citizens is the Great Lakes Lighthouse Keepers Association, an active organization of approximately 4,000 members; and

Whereas, Michigan's tourism industry supports 400,000 jobs and represents $8.7 billion overall each year. The Straits of Mackinac, one of the most beautiful areas of the country, includes many historic attractions. Mackinaw City already is a highlight of 1.7 million trips, a number that grows each year; and

Whereas, A national lighthouse museum would be a fitting addition to the area. Over the years, lighthouses have been a key element of safety along the treacherous Straits of Mackinac. Within 40 miles of Mackinaw City are 21 lighthouses that are still standing; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we support the selection of Mackinaw City as the site of a national lighthouse center and museum; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the national lighthouse center and museum selection committee.

The Speaker announced that under Rule 77 the resolution would lie over one day.
