Undersheriff Christopher Swanson, Chaplain of Genesee County Sheriff's Department, offered the following invocation:

"Father, I come to You in the name of Jesus, to thank You for this nation, as well as, this great state of Michigan, and the government that oversees its people.

I bring to You my prayer for all who are in authority. I pray You intercede for our national government officials, the judges of our land, police officers, military, and all other instruments of justice.

We lift up the Office of Governor, and those that sit before me in this very chamber.

I pray the Spirit of the Lord upon them. I ask for skillful and Godly wisdom to enter their hearts each day they serve, and watch over them while they protect the people from every form of evil, and every evil person. We ask that any enemies of this State shall have their wisdom cut off, and treacherous ways be rooted out.

The Bible declares in the book of Psalms 'Blessed is the Nation whose God is the Lord.'

We receive that blessing today.

Father, I pray You protect us in times of trouble, and that Your people dwell safely in this land and prosper abundantly.

We give thanks to You for the good news of the Gospel. The published law of the land, and that under God, with Your Power and Authority, we will prevail through the greatest of challenges.

We give thanks to You right now for all that You have given us in Jesus' name.

Amen."

Pursuant to Joint Rule 20, the full title of the act shall be inserted to read as follows:

“An act to limit the powers of local governmental bodies regarding the regulation of terms and conditions of employment within local government boundaries for employees of nonpublic employers,”

The House agreed to the full title.

Rep. Lauwers moved that the bill be given immediate effect.

The motion prevailed, 2/3 of the members serving voting therefor.

Rep. Geiss, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:
“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

Today, I voted no in order to oppose senate bill 353. This pre-emption bill, which prohibits local units of government from adopting, enacting, administering, or enforcing resolutions, policies or ordinances that regulate the information an employer can request, require or exclude on a job application or in a job interview is detrimental to potential employees of businesses and companies. As provided during committee testimony for this bill, this bill is directly aimed at prohibiting questions related to previous salary or compensation. By extension it is also directly aimed at eliminating any proactive measures that a local unit of government could take to positively address reducing pay equity and reduce economic inequality of the people that work in their jurisdictions.

These issues of pay equity are real, tangible and affect all of our residents: the very people for whom we allegedly work.

If enacted, this bill will serve to stifle the economic advancement of women, people of color, differently abled people, and other traditionally disadvantaged and marginalized people in the workplace. In fact, the only places where there is a higher likelihood of pay equity—equal pay for equal work—is within union jobs and certain jobs within government or the military sectors. For everyone else however, the lack of pay equity is an issue that has significant economic impacts for individuals and families, our communities and the state. Whether you have personally felt its impact or not, whether you believe it exists or not does not negate the numbers, facts, and hard data from such agencies, institutions and publications as the U.S. Census Bureau, U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Current Population Survey, American Community Survey, the Annual Social and Economic Supplement, the Income, Poverty, and Health Insurance Coverage in the United States, the American Economic Journal, the Economic Policy Institute, the Society for Human Resource Management, the Institute for Women’s Policy Research, the American Association of University Women, the National Partnership for Women and Families, the Pew Research Center and more. The data and facts that these different groups from different sectors indicate that there are significant economic disparities that are based upon gender, sex, sexual orientation, cultural and racial identity, marital status, and parental status—and are across industries, fields, and types of jobs from low-skilled labor to the C-level suites. The root causes for the very real pay gap and the economic imbalance that it causes are taciturn and are based upon age-old hiring practices that violate Title VII, which is a comprehensive federal law that prohibits discrimination in all aspects of employment, including compensation, based on race, color, religion, national origin and gender. Such Title VII violations often inadvertently get repeated and perpetuated by new employers simply because of the way that we conduct employee searches and interviews. Senate Bill 353 literally helps perpetuate Title VII violations—whether intentional or unintentional as it prevents local units of government that want to do the right thing through disrupting and upturning these traditional discriminations, for the convenience of maintaining a status quo that prevents workers from economic upward mobility.

If one does not have the opportunity to earn as much as one should—as much as one is worth, one does not have the ability to reinvest those missing dollars into your household, your local community, your state. One does not have the opportunity to perhaps move out of poverty or further from it. One does not have the opportunity to no longer or reduce their need for assistance programs. This bill directly and indirectly perpetuates the pay gap, Title VII violations and harms the very people that we serve.

And I ask, what kind of people, what kind of stewards of the state and the people are we, when we create legislation and perpetuate legislation that does nothing to help advance the people and does everything to further limit their ability to participate more fully in the economy? This bill is a boot on the necks of our local units of government, and a thumb on the wings of the people that we serve.

I strongly urge a no vote.”
