Senator Tom Barrett of the 24th District offered the following invocation:

Heavenly Father, I come to You in the mighty name of Your Son Jesus, and invite the presence of Your Holy Spirit into this place today. Lord Jesus, I ask Your grace and mercy preside over this assembly today. Bless and multiply those things of goodness that You have for us today and keep us from evil. Illuminate every lie today and quench the fiery weapons of the enemy with Your love and light. May Your light and Your truth permeate this meeting. Let Your righteousness be established and upheld over this great state.

Heavenly Father, pour out the reviving power of Your Holy Spirit over each of the 83 counties of our state—from the north to the south, coast to coast, east to west. May the presence of Your Holy Spirit guide and guard, convict and strengthen each of those Senators here today. Father, bring this assembly into the unity of Your Holy Spirit. We need a move of Your Spirit today. Your Word declares that what divides is deeper than what is seen. We aren't contending person against person or party against party, but unseen principalities against Your kingdom of righteousness, joy, and peace. Father, let this be a day when we turn to You, uphold the freedoms and values You have given us, stand for life from the nursery to the nursing home, stand for the unborn, stand for all things that are right before You. Give us the strength to resist evil. Heavenly Father, I ask You to expose every form of darkness with Your light and illuminate our path with Your Word. Many find themselves stuck and wondering what to do today.

Heavenly Father, give them great wisdom and skill to these who serve our state as they gather. Many of their burdens are heavy. Many have become worried and dismayed. God, give them strength today, courage today, grace today, forgiveness today, joy today, peace today. Lighten their loads and encourage their hearts with Your presence today. Lord Jesus, we need Your help. Fear has become rampant in the hearts of many in our state. Fear has stolen from the young and the old, robbing many of their futures and making them prisoners in their own minds and in their own homes. Isolation has cost us in the hearts and minds of many in our state and the incalculable weight of depression and hopelessness. Lord, I pray against the suicide, the depression of alcoholism and drug use that has escalated over the last year in our young and old. We need You to move on all who are hopeless and hurting and heal their hearts and minds. Lord, give these men and women creative capacity to get those who have been so affected to get to those who have been so affected during this last year.

In closing, Lord, I ask You to end this pandemic, an end to this turmoil, an end to this unrest, an end to the brokenness. Help us; move through us. Help us help those around us. Help this assembly to advocate and lead us into prosperity, a prosperity that I know only comes from You. Father, release a blessing over every sector of this state. Your Word declares that Your goodness would draw people to You and lead them to repentance. Release Your prosperity in Michigan. At the same time, expose any work that would be against You, any plan that would steal from Your people, any evil motivation, and let Your truth prevail. Let Your truth reign over Michigan.

In the mighty name of Jesus I pray. Amen.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Resolutions

Senators Theis, Barrett, Victory, VanderWall, Bumstead, Bizon, Daley, Outman, LaSata, MacDonald, Zorn, Johnson and Schmidt offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 24.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to change the formula for distributing coronavirus emergency relief funds for schools to allow states to distribute funds on a more equitable basis.

Whereas, The COVID-19 pandemic has had a dramatic impact on schools, students, and teachers across the country. Schools have needed to make significant investments to first ensure all students had equal access to remote learning and then to ensure schools could provide a safe learning environment for students returning to in-person learning; and

Whereas, Congress has approved emergency relief funding to assist schools in addressing impacts from the COVID-19 pandemic. Under the recent Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2021, the state of Michigan will receive more than $1.65 billion. The state must distribute at least $1.49 billion of these funds to local schools, while Congress continues to debate providing even more emergency funding for schools; and

Whereas, The current federal formula for distributing emergency relief funding has led to large discrepancies in how much schools receive per pupil. The Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund (ESSER II Fund), and the earlier ESSER I funding, must be allocated to schools based on the formula under Title I, Part A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. Under this complicated formula based on the number of disadvantaged and low-income students and other factors, it is estimated that some school districts in Michigan could receive as little $51 per pupil while other districts could receive more than $16,481 per pupil in addition to their foundation allowance; and

Whereas, The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted school systems across the state with unexpected and impossible to plan for expenses. All school systems have needed to invest in technology and equipment to ensure Michigan’s children could continue to learn remotely and allow schools to provide a safe environment for students and teachers in the classroom. Schools with more disadvantaged and low-income students have had additional challenges in creating remote and safe in-person learning environments. However, the Title I, Part A formula is an imperfect and inadequate solution that has led to an absurd inequity in the distribution of emergency relief funds; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to change the formula for distributing coronavirus emergency relief funds for schools to allow states to distribute funds on a more equitable basis; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the Michigan congressional delegation.

Pending the order that, under rule 3.204, the resolution be referred to the Committee on Government Operations,

Senator Lauwers moved that the rule be suspended.

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

The resolution was not adopted.

Senator Lauwers moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was not adopted.

The motion prevailed.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

Senator Bizon requested the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered, 1/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The resolution was adopted, a majority of the members voting therefor, as follows:

Statements

Senators VanderWall and Moss asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator VanderWall’s statement is as follows:

One year ago today, Michigan reported its first confirmed COVID-19 case. I rise today in remembrance of more than 15,000 Michiganders we have lost to this insidious virus in the 12 months since. These were grandparents, these were parents, these were aunts and uncles, sons and daughters, all gone too soon. We have had a lot of debates in this chamber and in our state about how best to deal with this pandemic and its effects. Those debates will continue. We may on occasion disagree about how to do it, but I am convinced that Michiganders inside and outside of this building are united in our resolve to rid our state of this virus so we can get back to work, to school, to our favorite restaurant, to birthday parties, to graduations, to weddings, and, yes, unfortunately, to funerals, to all of the everyday gatherings we probably took for granted before March 10, 2020. More than 15,000 of our fellow Michiganders won't get to experience these things again. Today, the one-year anniversary of the first case in our state, seems like a fitting time to remember them.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of the Michiganders who have died of COVID-19.

Senator Moss' statement is as follows:

I want to echo the comments just made by my friend from the 35th Senate District as I rise today to reflect and remember on a year of tremendous tragedy, untold hardship, and so much sadness.

One year ago today—actually, one year ago tonight—on March 10, 2020 at about ten o'clock at night, I was notified that there would be an emergency briefing because the first confirmed cases of COVID-19 were in and around my district, and it wasn't before long that Oakland County became the first hotspot in the state for this virus.

I personally knew the ninth death in this state due to COVID, and I know too many more lives that have been lost and I know that so many in this chamber, too, have suffered through so much pain. Since then, more than 525,000 Americans have died because of this deadly virus, including almost 16,000 in Michigan alone. It's simply heartbreaking. For too many of us, there are permanent holes in our hearts where loved ones previously filled us with their joy and their presence. This is a year that none of us expected, and one that I wish every day didn't have to be. It's also one that we will remember for the rest of our lives.

And while we should all be proud of the people in Michigan who've summoned the strength and stepped up to lead us toward the light at the end of the tunnel—and I feel that that light is coming closer and closer every day—we should never forget that it's the light and the memories of our lost loved ones that guides us there. Because of them, we don't take our days for granted so much anymore and tell those close to us that we love them. Because of them, we are reminded of our own fragility and humanity. And because of them, we refuse to become numb to the sorrow and must resolve to work together to end this pandemic.

So, Mr. President and colleagues, today I ask that we remember those who we've lost and I echo the call from our Governor that tonight at 8 p.m. we turn on our outside lights from our front porches, back decks, apartment balconies, or whatever space you call home, so that we can shine a light back out to those whose memories are vivid, forever in our hearts, and did not perish from such a terrible disease in vain. To everyone listening who has experienced the pain of loss and tragedy during this pandemic, please know that the Senate's loving thoughts embrace you each and every day.

Colleagues, moments like these, these reflection milestones, should remind us of who we are and what unites us. And I think it is safe to say that we believe in courage, we believe that every day is a gift, and we believe that there may be none greater than a life well lived and loved. May the memories of those who we've lost to COVID-19 be forever blessings in our broken hearts.
