Senator Ruth A. Johnson of the 14th District offered the following invocation:

Heavenly Father, as we gather here today in this chamber in this great state of Michigan—where You rested Your hand and then created the rest of the world, our Capitol placed in Your palm—we ask You as it's promised in Hebrews 13 to equip us with everything good for doing Your righteous will. As a potter sculpts a lump of clay, mold us to better serve You and Your kingdom. Grant us wisdom that we might honor You and lift You up in our works.

As we serve the people of Michigan here in the Senate, remind us to act in kindness toward each other. As Proverbs 16:24 tells us, gracious words, like the honeycomb sweetness to the soul and the health to the body. Your word tells us in Colossians 3:13 to be tolerant with one another and to forgive one another whenever we have a complaint against them. Nothing can separate us from Your love; help us to love one another as You love us. Help us to work together and to be selfless as we represent our fellow citizens. Guide us with Your hand to make just decisions that are in their best interest and will glorify You.

We ask this in Your name, of Your Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Senators Santana and Irwin entered the Senate Chamber.

Statements

Senators Hollier, Irwin, Moss, Bumstead and Ananich asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Hollier's statement is as follows:

We have a rare growing crescendo happening on Sunday—it will be both Father's Day and Juneteenth. The reason that's so incredibly important is because—I'm super excited—it will be a time we're really talking about this thing. On a more somber note, we know and continue to know that significant forms of gun violence happen when people are together around such tense issues. We know as Juneteenth is happening people are going to be having real conversations about the state of gun violence in this state, the state of racism in the Black community, and are going to be around and engaged.

We just had a shooting in my district over at Pershing High School just last week. I'll be delivering the graduation speech tomorrow as we talk about these very real issues for folks. As we think about this weekend, I hope that everyone will be safe, that we will be thinking about ways to engage this space responsibly, but most importantly that we will think about our heritage and do all these things in a safe and enjoyable fashion and have a very good and safe weekend.

Senator Ananich entered the Senate Chamber.

Senator Irwin's statement is as follows:

I rise here on the floor of the Michigan Senate to mention a troubling Supreme Court case that was just decided that affects the rights—the constitutional rights—of every one of our Michigan citizens. In Egbert v. Boule, the Supreme Court just decided that federal agents are able to come into our homes, disrupt our persons, destroy our property, and we have no recourse to sue the federal government when they violate our constitutional rights. This is wrong, and I'm sure many of you have seen the maps that demonstrate that 100 percent of our great state of Michigan is within the boundary that the federal border patrol claims as their zone to do as they wish, regardless of our constitutional rights.

The federal government claims a 100-mile buffer around all borders. They also claim that all of Lake Michigan is part of that same international border, subjecting every one of our citizens to warrantless surveillance, warrantless searches, and the specter of federal agents coming into our homes, into our businesses, into our places of worship; disrupting our lives, destroying our property, and leaving us with no ability to hold those federal agents accountable, to sue them for damages and to make sure that the federal government actually respects our constitutional rights.

There are a lot of things that we discuss here on the floor of the Michigan Senate that we disagree about. There are a lot of things where Democrats and Republicans will continue to fight. This is one that I hope we can come together on. I just want to let you know that I am currently working on a resolution—I would encourage any of my colleagues who care about this to work on this with me—to oppose this decision, to call on Congress to do something about this. We should not have a 100-mile ribbon around our entire country, including the entire state of Michigan, that is an area of no constitutional rights; an area where federal border agents can ignore the Constitution. It's wrong, it's contrary to our fundamental rights, and hopefully it's something we can come together on here in this chamber.

Senator Geiss entered the Senate Chamber.

Senator Moss' statement is as follows:

I often say from this podium that I am the only gay person here, but that's not really true. LGBTQ people work here, in this institution. Parents and family of LGBTQ people work here. Friends and allies of LGBTQ people work in state government, on the Democratic side, on the Republican side, and on nonpartisan staff. They just want to serve—help people resolve their unemployment claims, help industries that were hit hard over the last few years seek help from state government. Maybe they're policy experts and want to lend their expertise in service to the state of Michigan or just want to make this institution run smoothly.

This has become a toxic workplace for them with no remedies. There are no Elliott-Larsen workplace protections around the state, and even if there were I don't think a state department is able to set the terms and conditions here in the state Senate. If they had to deal with what we have to deal with here—in corporate America, it wouldn't be tolerated, but here the majority is basically the HR director and we see how they value the LGBTQ community. If we can't get our house in order here, it ultimately results in a disservice to the people of the state of Michigan. It impacts me personally. It impacts the broader population.

But to the staff of this institution, many of whom I've talked to a lot, not just in the last couple of days but the last four years, I see you, I hear you. You don't have the ability to safely express yourself and count on employment security after that. I will take to this mic every time to defend you. I have that ability to be in those rooms to advocate on your behalf so this is a message to those in this institution who listen to me even when colleagues don't. I'm listening right back to you.

Senator Bumstead's statement is as follows:

Once again, I rise today to express my support for the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians proposed Muskegon casino. The Little River Band of Ottawa Indians have worked for more than a decade and have taken every step necessary to properly get this project to fruition.

Governor, in December you asked the federal government for the 180-day extension to review this proposed casino, and that request was granted. Again, last week you requested another 180-day extension, which was denied. It's time to stop playing politics with the people of Muskegon and the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians. Stop trying to delay your decision on this project until after the election. Your actions are not fair to the people of West Michigan. Now is the time to prove the casino and create 3,000 good-paying jobs in Muskegon County. Show my constituents that the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians and Muskegon matter. I urge you to approve the Muskegon casino today.

Senator Ananich's statement is as follows:

I wanted to take a minute because I have worked pretty hard on an issue that I'm very passionate about and I've worked in great partnership with the Senator from the 35th District regarding a bill package called Filter First. We recently received a letter from the Childcare Providers Association of Michigan regarding some issues they had with my component of the two-bill package. I want to make sure I state this here—we've been reaching out and we're going to meet with them next week.

I've met with them before and I'm going to meet with them again, but I wanted to make sure I came to this mic to take a moment to let you know that I will be providing a memo—I just want to make sure that I flag for you a memo that will be on your desks addressing each of their concerns. The gentleman from the Childcare Providers Association of Michigan brought some legitimate concerns forward, but I think he was unaware that we addressed each and every one in the newest substitutes. I wanted to make sure—I'm only rising because we have a lot of paper on our desks—please read the memo that I provided that addresses the components of the concerns in my bill. Senator VanderWall's bill is in great shape, it's fine. Mine, we addressed the concerns.

I'm going to meet with them next week and hopefully they'll be fine as well, but I think this is a really important package to make sure our children who are most vulnerable to lead have the safety precautions put in place. We believe—the Senator from the 35th District and I believe—that our Filter First package is a great way to address those. I just ask for your consideration. If you have any concerns, I'm willing to talk to you after you read the memo. Like I said, I'll meet with the executive director next week. He's been a good partner in this process, and hopefully I can convince him that the changes we made address his concerns.

Senator LaSata moved that the bill be given immediate effect.
The motion did not prevail, 2/3 of the members serving not voting therefor.
The Senate agreed to the title of the bill.

Senators Chang and Shirkey asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Chang’s statement is as follows:

My amendment would remove the tie-bar in this supplemental appropriations bill to legislation that would make drastic changes to mental health services in Michigan. I do not believe this tie-bar in the bill before us is prudent when there is still no consensus on Senate Bill Nos. 597 and 598. Further, social workers, community mental health institutions, and others with years of expertise in mental health have substantial concerns with these bills which are centered on financial integration of behavioral and physical health and a top-down approach that should instead be centered on the people actually receiving behavioral health services. Integration should be less about who the payers are and more about the co-location of services, data sharing, standardized reporting, and standardized training. Until an agreement is reached with all parties, this tie-bar should be removed from the supplemental, which I otherwise support. Thank you, and I ask for your support of my amendment.

Senator Shirkey’s statement is as follows:

I have stood at this podium and said these words before and they bear repeating, Everyone in our state should have access to quality mental health services regardless of their means and regardless of what their ZIP code happens to be. But far too many don’t, and that’s got to change. Today I hope we will take a critical step forward toward the goal of providing every Michigan resident with access to quality mental health services by passing this bill—Senate Bill No. 714. If we do, we will be providing our local communities with resources for jail diversion, new treatment units to reduce emergency room overcrowding, and substance abuse programs. We’ll also be investing significantly in our community hospitals, giving them additional resources to increase bed capacity and make needed structural improvements. And, we’ll help attract and retain mental health professionals. We’ll also be investing in programs specifically designed to more proactively address mental health risks amongst our children.

Mr. President, I’ve said this before and I’m not proud to say it again, Michigan’s mental health system is failing patients, their families, providers, and taxpayers. This bill is a piece—an important piece—of what I hope is a comprehensive plan to address this broken system. I see this plan having at least four steps. First, targeted strategic investments, and this bill is a good start. Secondly, challenging ourselves to honestly evaluate policy constraints holding us back from solving the chronic issues that have plagued our system to date. Third, committing to a new governance model that is based on honestly informing, sincerely inspiring, enthusiastically encouraging and most importantly, trusting citizens to do the right thing. Fourth, and this is really important, enlisting every citizen of our state to play their role in this effort. This cannot be just another government program. We need to make everyone aware of the importance of mental health and how and where they and their loved one, their neighbor, their co-worker can receive quality care when needed.

Mr. President, I don't pretend in any way to have all the answers, but I am confident in one thing. If we're going to change the trajectory of our mental health in Michigan, it cannot be a government program and it has to include the broadest definition of the word 'We' for every citizen in this state.

I ask for your support of this important next step.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of

Resolutions

Senators Bumstead and Outman offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 153.

A resolution to designate June 2022 as Internet Safety Month.

Whereas, Internet Safety Month provides Michigan residents with an opportunity to learn more about the dangers of the Internet and the importance of being safe and responsible online; and

Whereas, The Michigan Child Protection Registry was created by the state Legislature in 2004 as a do-not-contact service for our families. This registry, administered by the Michigan Secretary of State and enforced by the Attorney General's Office, is a free program that allows families to protect their households from adult-oriented messages; and

Whereas, The Michigan Child Protection Registry honors Internet Safety Month by reminding parents and guardians that, upon signing up for this registry, they can stop adult-oriented advertisements including alcohol, tobacco, pornography, online gambling, and illegal drugs from reaching their family's email inboxes, cell phones, or instant messenger IDs; and

Whereas, We commend state and community organizations for promoting awareness about the dangers of the Internet and for providing information and training that develops the critical thinking and decision-making skills needed to be safe online; and

Whereas, We call on Internet safety organizations, law enforcement, educators, community leaders, parents, and volunteers to increase their efforts to ensure online safety here in Michigan and the United States; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body designate June 2022 as Internet Safety Month; and be it further

Resolved, That we urge all individuals to raise awareness and ensure their time on the Internet is safe and secure all year long.

Pending the order that, under rule 3.204, the resolution be referred to the Committee on Government Operations, Senator LaSata moved that the rule be suspended.

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

The resolution was adopted.

Senator Chang was named co-sponsor of the resolution.
