

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 312

Reps. Rogers, Sabo, Steckloff, Shannon, Morse, Puri, Camilleri, Tate, Martin, LaFave, Roth, Allor, Mueller, Bezotte, Slagh, O'Neal, Bolden, Kuppa, Koleszar, Manoogian, Glanville, Witwer, Garza, LaGrand, Ellison, Hertel, Cavanagh, Stone, Sneller, Neeley, Scott, Haadsma, Brabec, Jones, Peterson, Tyrone Carter, Coleman, Anthony, Sowerby, Rabhi, Pohutsky, Cherry, Hood, Hope, Steenland, Thanedar, Weiss and Young offered the following resolution:

1 A resolution to declare June 12, 2022, as Women Veterans
2 Recognition Day in the state of Michigan.

3 Whereas, Women have proudly served their country throughout
4 all periods of the history of the United States, whether disguised
5 as male soldiers during the American Revolution and Civil War, as 6 nurses in World War I, or as combat helicopter pilots in

1 Afghanistan; and

2 Whereas, Women have formally been a part of the United States
3 Armed Forces since the inception of the Army Nurse Corps in 1901, 4 but have informally served since the inception of our nation's 5 military; and

6 Whereas, During the American Revolution, women served on the 7 battlefield alongside the men, mainly as nurses, water bearers,
8 often called "Molly Pitchers," cooks, laundresses, and saboteurs.
9 Despite Army regulations that only men could enlist, women who 10 wanted to join in the fighting circumvented the rules by 11 masquerading as young men or boys; and

12 Whereas, In 1917, the Navy announced it would open enlistment
13 to women. About 12,000 female yeomen entered the Navy and filled a 14 variety of jobs including draftsmen, interpreters, couriers, and 15 translators; and

16 Whereas, During World War I, 307 women enlisted in the Marine 17 Corps. Like their sisters in the Navy, they were limited to the 18 enlisted ranks and worked mainly in Washington, D.C. doing various 19 administrative jobs. Women's service contributions in World War I
20 showed that they either had or could quickly learn nontraditional 21 skills needed by the military; and

22 Whereas, Following Pearl Harbor, Congress authorized new 23 components for women's services that increased the number of active 24 duty positions in the Army and Navy Nurse Corps. In May 1942, the 25 Army was given the authority to establish the Women's Army
26 Auxiliary Corps (WAAC). The Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps
27 followed suit, but rather than making women an auxiliary component, 28 they opted to enroll them in the reserves on the same basis as 29 their male counterparts, while the Army Air Forces enlisted nearly

1 1,100 female civilian volunteers who earned their silver wings as 2 Women Airforce Service Pilots (WASP); and

3 Whereas, At the end of World War II in 1945, of the 4 approximately 12 million people remaining in the Armed Forces, 5 about 280,000 were women; and

6 Whereas, With the passage of the Women's Armed Services
7 Integration Act of 1948, women became a permanent part of the 8 United States military but continued to be restricted to two 9 percent of the military population. That restriction was finally 10 lifted in 1967 with an amendment to the Women's Armed Services
11 Integration Act, which also opened senior officer ranks to women; 12 and

13 Whereas, The early 1990s were a historic time in the military
14 with over 40,000 women deploying in support of the Persian Gulf
15 War, making women service members more visible in the eyes of the 16 public. In addition, the Defense Authorization Act of 1992 repealed
17 combat exclusion laws that had prevented women from flying combat 18 aircrafts; and

19 Whereas, Women who served in the United States military were 20 often referred to as the "invisible veterans" because their service 21 contributions, until the 1970s, went largely unrecognized by 22 politicians, the media, academia, and the general public; and

23 Whereas, Even though women have been officially serving in the 24 military since the creation of the Army Nurse Corps in 1901, they 25 have not always been considered qualified for veteran status for 26 the purpose of receiving benefits from the Department of Veterans 27 Affairs. Even after women were granted veteran status, issues of 28 access, exclusion, and improper management of their health care 29 remained; and

1 Whereas, It was not until well after World War II that women
2 who served in the military began to officially be recognized as 3 veterans; and

4 Whereas, In the late 1970s and early 1980s, many of the 5 contributions made by women in World War II were formally 6 recognized through laws granting these women official veteran
7 status for their service. This opened the doors for women to take 8 advantage of programs, opportunities, and benefits from the federal 9 and state governments, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and 10 other veteran service organizations; and

11 Whereas, Over the past 20 years, the Veteran Health
12 Administration (VHA) has introduced initiatives designed to improve 13 health care access and quality of care for women veterans; and

14 Whereas, In 2008, VHA's Women Veterans Health Strategic Health
15 Care Group began a five-year plan to redesign the nation's health
16 care delivery system for women. A fundamental component of this 17 plan is to ensure that all women veterans have access to 18 comprehensive primary care from skilled women's health providers;
19 and

20 Whereas, Originally, the 1980 decennial census marked the 21 first time that information on women veterans was ever captured in 22 a large national survey. At the time of the 1980 decennial census, 23 women made up just over two percent of the veteran population.
24 Today, that proportion has increased to almost eight percent; and

25 Whereas, There are currently over two million women veterans 26 living in the United States and Puerto Rico. Of this number, nearly 27 44,000 make Michigan their home; now, therefore, be it

28 Resolved by the House of Representatives, That members of this 29 legislative body declare June 12, 2022 as Women Veterans

1 Recognition Day in the state of Michigan; and be it further
2 Resolved, That we urge all Michiganders to honor women
3 veterans on this momentous occasion.
