Rep. Jerry Neyer, from the 92nd District, offered the following invocation:

“Thank You, Lord, for the honor of being among the few to serve in this House of Representatives.
Help remind us not to lead with our egos.

But rather, like You, with honor, humility and service to all.

Thank You for the people who serve as police, firefighters, first responders and the men and women in the military.

Especially those who have given their lives to protect us and our freedoms.

They truly honor You by laying down their lives for us.

Help remind us every day that we are here to serve our family and friends back home, the people of Michigan and most of all You, Lord.
Amen.”

Rep. Posthumus moved that Reps. Edwards, Neeley, Paiz and Whitsett be excused from today’s session.

Whereas, Black men have demonstrated resilience, leadership, and excellence in every field of human endeavor—including education, business, science, the arts, sports, public service, and community activism—uplifting families, neighborhoods, and entire generations; and

Whereas, Throughout history, Black men have stood on the front lines of justice and equality, from Frederick Douglass and Malcolm X to modern-day leaders, activists, fathers, educators, and mentors who continue to fight for dignity, opportunity, and human rights for all; and

Whereas, Black fathers, brothers, sons, and mentors provide love, wisdom, and guidance across generations, shaping the lives of young people and setting powerful examples of integrity, strength, and perseverance; and

Whereas, Black Men Awareness Day serves to recognize the strength of Black men, and highlight prominent Black men throughout history, and all the contributions that Black men give to the community; and

House Resolution No. 131.

A resolution to commemorate the 250th birthday of the United States Army.

Whereas, June 14, 2025, marks the 250th anniversary of the founding of the United States Army in 1775 when the Continental Congress established the First Continental Army and named George Washington, Commander-in-Chief; and

Whereas, The Continental Army proudly served from 1775 to 1783, defeating British tyranny and ushering in an era of American independence. In 1783, the United States Army officially debuted to the world; and

Whereas, The mission of the United States Army is to deploy, fight, and win our nation’s wars by securing ready, prompt, and sustained land dominance by Army forces across the full spectrum of conflict as part of the joint force; and

Whereas, Today, the United States Army is the world’s most powerful and effective land force in the world. It is a ready-to-fight force that is experienced, lethal, and trained to conduct any mission, anywhere, in support of our nation’s security; and

Whereas, The Army's greatest asset is our people – the finest men and women our great nation has to offer, with a myriad of talents that make us stronger; and

Whereas, From the Revolutionary War onward, our warfighters have consistently demonstrated their resolve to defend freedom at home and abroad; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body commemorate the 250th birthday of the United States Army. We honor all the work they have done to defend our nation.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Xiong, Rheingans, Myers-Phillips, Foreman, Coffia, Skaggs, McFall, Weiss, Martus, MacDonell, Brixie, Pohutsky, Mentzer, Dievendorf, Glanville, Brenda Carter, Byrnes, Rogers, Miller, Hoskins, Grant, Tyrone Carter, O'Neal, Arbit, Wegela, Neeley, Wilson, Hope, Longjohn, Tsermoglou, Steckloff, Liberati, Tate, Wooden, Conlin, Young, Snyder, Farhat and Fitzgerald offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 132.

A resolution to urge the federal government to reinstate the United States Refugee Admissions Program.

Whereas, The Immigration and Nationality Act authorizes the admission of refugees of special humanitarian concern to the United States, as well as the granting of asylum to refugees, on a case-by-case basis. Refugees are a vulnerable population, facing persecution on account of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion. Under the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP), these individuals may be admitted to the country after a series of interviews, a health screening, and multiple background checks. Some refugees are referred to the program by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, a U.S. embassy, or a non-governmental organization, while others are privately sponsored or seek admission to reunite with family members who were granted asylum or admitted as a refugee. After refugees are admitted into the United States, they receive transitional assistance and referrals for services as needed to help them establish a new life in this country; and

Whereas, On January 20, 2025, President Trump suspended the USRAP indefinitely. In Executive Order No. 14,163, entitled "Realigning the United States Refugee Admissions Program," the President declared that "entry into the United States of refugees under the USRAP would be detrimental to the interests of the United States" and directed that the entry of refugees under this program be generally suspended until such time as the President determines that the resumption of the program is in the interests of the United States. The rationales given for this decision were the President's concern about public safety and national security, uncertainties about the ability of refugees to "fully and appropriately assimilate into the United States," and the need to preserve taxpayer resources for U.S. citizens; and

Whereas, This executive order was quickly challenged in federal court as exceeding the President's statutory and constitutional authority. A federal district court enjoined the federal government from suspending the USRAP on February 25, 2025, but, while the appeal of this case is ongoing, the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has limited the injunction such that it only applies to a very narrow subset of individuals who had nearly completed the process to be admitted as a refugee by January 20, 2025. While Executive Order No. 14,163 calls for reports to be submitted every 90 days regarding whether the USRAP should be resumed, the first deadline for this report has passed without any indication that the President's policy will change; and

Whereas, The USRAP should be reinstated. As was stated in the September 2024 report to Congress on the USRAP, "[r]efugees are the most thoroughly screened and vetted group to enter the United States" – they do not pose a threat to our safety or security. Concerns about assimilation are similarly overblown; the USRAP has offered a cultural orientation for refugees, and, upon coming to the United States, refugees become critical members of the communities they live in. The United States has accepted more than three million refugees since 1975, and we should not abandon our commitment to the protection of this most vulnerable population; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the federal government to reinstate the United States Refugee Admissions Program; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the United States Secretary of Homeland Security, and the United States Secretary of State.

The resolution was referred to Committee on Government Operations.

Reps. Aragona, Woolford, Hoadley, Borton, Prestin, Bierlein, Kelly, Schuette, DeBoyer, Bruck, Alexander and MacDonell offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 133.

A resolution to commemorate the 115th anniversary of the Midwest Independent Retailers Association.

Whereas, The Midwest Independent Retailers Association (MIRA) serves as the premier trade association representing independent retailers throughout the Midwest; and

Whereas, MIRA was formed in 1910 as the Detroit Retail Meat Merchants by a handful of retailers with common business concerns; and

Whereas, Membership grew to other retail industries including convenience stores, petroleum stations and automobile service stations, leading to the adoption of the name Associated Food and Petroleum Dealers and later, through a series of mergers with similar retail-based trade organizations in Michigan and Ohio, the adoption of the name Midwest Independent Retailers Association in 2019, and

Whereas, MIRA now represents thousands of members in a variety of retail and wholesale industries in multiple states throughout the Midwest; and

Whereas, MIRA's commitment to its seven pillars of service – business, government relations, vendor programs, compliance, networking, community outreach and the Midwest Independent Retailers Foundation, whose mission is to give back to local communities and students through its scholarship program – serve as the guiding principles by which the association advances interests of small, independent businesses throughout the Midwest; and

Whereas, MIRA's members serve as an anchor in many communities, providing goods and services where big box stores do not exist, employing local residents, generating local and state tax revenue, and raising their families within these communities; and

Whereas, In 2025 MIRA is celebrating its 115th anniversary; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body commemorate the 115th anniversary of the Midwest Independent Retailers Association.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,
